

WOMAN IS SHOT DOWN BY LIQUOR CAR PURSUER;
COUNTY BOARD WILL PROBE ACTION OF OFFICER

Lincoln Tries To Dash Out Own Brains

PEDESTRIAN HIT
TWICE BY OFFICER
SHOOTING AT CARLAWYER - FLORIST
BEATS HIS HEAD
ON BARS OF CELL

Confession of Wife-Slaying Branded by Son as Hoax Concocted To End Hounding by Relatives.

KILLER TO PLEAD
OWN CASE AT BAR

Detectives Sift Ashes in Greenhouse Furnace-Crematory Seeking Evidence To Clinch Admission.

BY JAMES McCLAIN.

Aurora, Ill., January 14.—Close watch is being kept over Warren J. Lincoln, confessed murderer of his wife, following an attempt on the part of the eccentric lawyer-florist to take his own life late Monday. The man was found beating his head violently against the bars of his cell door.

The incident occurred shortly after Lincoln had made a second confession, refusing to permit his questioners to shake his story and force him to admit he killed Byron Shoup, his brother-in-law, also, Lincoln re-enacted the killing, giving additional information regarding the tragedy and his subsequent wanderings about the country, which, authorities believe, will either substantiate or break the man's confession.

Lincoln claims he murdered his wife with a stove poker, after she had shot and killed Shoup, her brother, and then burned both bodies. The double murder followed an attempt by his wife to poison him a year ago, he says.

To Plead Own Case

A charge of first degree murder will be lodged against Lincoln early Tuesday.

Detectives sifted ashes at the Lincoln greenhouse Monday in search of remains of the two bodies which Lincoln says he burned the night following the murders. Evidence in addition to the man's confession will be required, it is said, for Lincoln is expected to plead self defense when brought to trial. A lawyer, himself, the eccentric florist refuses to accept legal advice and is preparing to plead his own case before the jury.

Eats Very Little.

The pale-faced "mystery man" was perfectly calm until his attempt to kill himself. Except for a momentary collapse at the end of his first confession Sunday night, he has appeared unaffected by the new development in the strange chain of incidents that have marked the last year. He has, however, eaten but little since first tried to take his own life.

Meanwhile, there are some, among them John Lincoln, the florist's son, who believe the confession is just another hoax, no more real than the supposed scene of his own murder which Lincoln prepared last spring to cover his crime and his disappearance.

"I have been with my father during almost all his waking hours, the son said. "It would have been impossible for a thing like that to happen without my knowing about it. My father has been so hounded by his relatives that he concocted his story as a means of ending it all."

LINCOLN WATCHED
SEARCH FOR BODY.

BY KENNETH SAPP.
Warren J. Lincoln was in hiding in Chicago part of the time that he was absent from Aurora during his first disappearance and he also spent some

Father Believes Oath Holy
Sends Son To Die in Chair

ARNOLD ANDERSON, ALIAS ARTHUR LINDSAY, AND FATHER (LEFT)

"Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God?" The father of Arnold Anderson, alias Arthur Lindsay, said, "I do." Then he told a New York court how his son had confessed killing Harry C. Moore, wealthy real estate man, and shattered the defense of Anderson, who was totally unprepared for such a bombshell. But a little while later, when his father came to see him in the death cell to which he was condemned, the son forgave him.

GOTHAM PONDER'S
ENRIGHT CLEANUP
IN CALM SERENITYQuiet Nooks Along Broadway Now Rendezvous
Where Gabblers Poise
Teacups.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, January 14.—For a whole day those people of New York who have become confirmed in their drinking habits under prohibition were agitated by reports that Richard E. Enright, the chief of 15,000 policemen, intended to disorganize, if not abolish, the entire system of dispensing liquor.

This system was evolved from early confusion by dint of patience, privation, some illness and not a few fatalities in the course of the last three years and only recently had reached that efficient regularity which made it possible for a man to get something for cold feet or a feverish larynx when taken ill in a strange neighborhood.

No definite reassurance issued from police headquarters but the city has again calmed down to its today, to discuss the thing in tranquillity over the teacups.

Are Many Deserving Ones.

Enright has directed that charges shall be filed against the commanders of all the 13 inspection districts in the city. An inspector is like the commander of an army under a commander-in-chief. His inspection district embraces several police precincts. He usually selects the most comfortable station house in the district for his own headquarters. Some of the inspectors probably will retire on their pensions.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

FIRE AND POLICE
DEPARTMENTS ASK
INCREASED FUNDSRequests for Nearly $250,- 000 Additional Appropriations Made at Finance Board Meeting.

Requests for nearly a quarter of a million dollars of additional appropriations to departments and public improvements were filed with the finance committee of council at its first session Monday including requests for increases of more than $100,000 each from fire and police departments.

The committee began its work with revised estimates by City Comptroller B. Graham West before it which indicated that increased fixed expenses would be $62,500 in excess of estimated increases in revenues.

Mayor Walter A. Sims appeared before the committee immediately after it convened and issued an appeal for rigid economy, suggesting that an effort be made to consolidate several city departments to save money.

Tentative Budget.

The committee listened alternately to heads of departments and to representatives of citizens interested in public improvements, noting all requests in a tentative budget which it will revise in executive session after all requests have been filed.

Chief of Police James L. Beavers filed the request for the largest increase.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Attack Is Made
On Work of Men
In Plain ClothesEfficiency Cut in Half as Compared With 1922, Says Couch.

Charges by Councilman J. Allen Couch that the efficiency of the police plainclothes squad had been cut practically in half in 1923 and rumors of a further shakeup in control of the squad developed at city hall Monday afternoon.

Councilman Couch's charges were made before the finance committee when Chief of Police James L. Beavers submitted a request for $104,000 increase in the budget of the police department. The request, with others, was taken under advisement.

The plainclothes squad had been under leadership of Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant most of the year since A. Lamar Poole was deposed as chief of detectives and the detective bureau was abolished. The 1923 police committee unseated Sturdivant as its

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

FRISCO BIDS HIGH
IN DRIVE TO WIN
DEMOCRAT MEET

New York Looms as Principal Contender Against Western City—Chicago Lags.

EXECUTIVES WILL NOT
TAMPER WITH RULES

Bryan's Announcement of "Dark Horse" Seen as Move To Keep Himself in Limelight.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMAN.

Washington, January 14.—Contrary to expectations San Francisco looms up as one of the major contenders for the democratic national convention again in 1924. This developed today at a preliminary conference between the delegations representing the contesting cities for the convention and members of the national committee. Chicago, that was expected to have the advantage over the field, has fallen to a third or fourth place and tonight it was believed the real contest will be between New York and San Francisco with St. Louis possibly third and Chicago fourth.

At a preliminary meeting of the national committee today preceding the regular meeting which will be held at 10:30 tomorrow morning, a subcommittee was appointed, of which Committee Clark Howell of Georgia, is chairman, to hear the bids of the contesting cities and to decide and report to the full committee its selection. Whatever this may be will undoubtedly be ratified by the full committee. The convention will be held on or about June 25 or 26, as the opening date.

Keep Old Rule Intact.

All of the national committee, with one or two exceptions, are on the ground tonight and there are hundreds of other democratic politicians from all sections here in the interest of various announced and unannounced candidates for the presidential nomination. The old rule as to requiring a two-third majority of the accredited delegates to make a nomination will be adhered to.

Aside from other considerations it develops that all included cash bids for the convention city were topped with announcement that San Francisco would present a cash offer of $200,000, plus free use of the civic auditorium where the 1920 democratic convention was held.

Chicago was said to be prepared to duplicate the $125,000 offer which failed to land the republican convention. New York's delegation was

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

EMPEROR FOR LIFE,
ASSERTS SIMMONSFounder of Order Declares Evans Consented to Court Decree Giving Him Title for Life.

Insisting he is emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan despite the recent order of Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans, purporting to banish him from the organization, William Joseph Simmons, founder of the clan, Monday issued a statement declaring that Evans agreed that he was to be emperor for life, without salary, when an agreement was reached last April in settlement of a Klan law suit, which involved control of the order.

Simmons declared that in order to effect a settlement of the suit, he agreed to give up a "gratuity" of $1,000 a month from the organization and to surrender his Ku Klux Klan copyrights for $1,000 a month royalty.

"Dr. Evans agreed to a consent verdict that I was and should be emperor for life without salary and such court decree is on record in the superior court of Fulton county, therefore, I am still emperor."

He declared that Evans' action in banishing him from the Klan was "unwarranted, illegal and beyond his power."

Col. Simmons' statement follows in part: "I am emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. Doubt it not!"

"Dr. Hiram Wesley Evans having

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Coalition Forces
Defeat 'Regulars'
And Repeal Rule

House Law Governing Amendments From Floor Erased on Motion of Representative Garrett.

CRISP AND FISH
INDULGE IN TILT

Proposition to Discharge Committees by Petition Starts Wrangle, But Is Not Voted On.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, January 14.—House democrats and republican insurgents, forming a coalition for the first time this session routed the republican organization today and repealed the Underwood rule which practically made it impossible to offer them the floor for important amendments to revenue and tariff bills.

On motion of Representative Garrett, the democratic leader, the rule, adopted in 1911 when the democrats controlled the house, was repealed by a vote of 208 to 177. The democrats, voting solidly for repeal, had the support of 24 republicans, among them the insurgents, and three others, while Representative Longworth, the republican leader, and Chairman Snell of the rules committee urged retention of the rule.

After this showdown—the first to develop in the rules fight which will continue tomorrow—the house became involved in a bitter debate over proposals for the discharge of committees from consideration of legislation, but took no action. Just before overnight adjournment Representative Crisp, democrat, Georgia, and Fish, republican, New York, indulged in a heated exchange as to which of them deserved credit for drafting the proposals to discharge committees.

Differs on Number.

On this proposition there is a difference of opinion between the republican organization and the democratic-insurgent committee as to the number of signatures which should be required on petitions for discharge. The rules committee in its recommendation, submitted today for a general revision of house rules declared a minimum of 150 names should be required, while the democrats and insurgents contended the number should be not more than 100. A test of strength on this proposal probably will come tomorrow.

Advocating repeal of the Underwood rule Mr. Garrett declared it never should have been incorporated in the general rules of the house. As interpreted by various speakers, he said, it had served to prevent, during consideration of tariff bills, the transfer of commodities from the free to the dutiable list and vice versa, and had made amendments to revenue bills out of the question by requiring that they had to apply directly to the article under consideration.

No Decision On Bonus Body.

Mr. Garrett predicted that the democrats would control the house in the next congress, urged members of his party to use caution in amending the rules, and gave assurance that he would oppose any attempt to reenact the Underwood rule if the democrats regained control of the house.

Mr. Garrett said he was opposed to consideration of a tax bill at this session of congress under any rule.

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

FILIBUSTER ROAD
TO BEAT TAX BILL
WIDE OPEN, GREEN

Repeal of "Underwood Rule" Removes Restriction on Amendments From Floor of House.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, January 14.—Passage of tax legislation at this session of congress has been jeopardized, in the opinion of Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee, by the action of the house today in repealing the Underwood rule which sought to restrict amendments from the floor to revenue bills and to curb debate.

After the house had revoked the rule, Mr. Green expressed the opinion that such a flood of amendments might be offered to the revenue bill, once it reaches the house, that action might be indefinitely delayed.

"If the tax bill," Mr. Green said, "goes before the house controlled only by the rules as amended today a situation would prevail under which it would be practically impossible to pass it, even though a majority of the house was in favor of it."

Three Weeks Before Report.

The ways and means committee during the day began public hearings on changes sought in the present revenue law, a number of business representatives appearing to argue for repeal of various taxes. Further drafting of the bill by the committee will be suspended pending completion of the hearings which "Chairman Green hopes will be accomplished by the close of the week. Three weeks remain then before the bill is scheduled to be reported as directed by the house republican conference.

Democrats continued today to bombard the Mellon tax revision plan, Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, charging in the senate that the Mellon plan was a campaign of propaganda for the Mellon tax plan. The democratic national committee also issued a statement attacking the Mellon plan.

Filibuster Made Easy.

With reference to the rules change, Mr. Green declared, "Amendment after amendment could be offered and the result would be very much as when the McKinley tariff bill was first brought before the house and it was impossible to make any progress. It would be perfectly easy for a small group to

Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

SCORES OF LIVES
ARE ENDANGERED
BY TANK IN FIRE

Experts Puzzled Over Failure of Ether Container to Explode in Engraving Company Blaze.

WORKMEN FIGHT WAY
THROUGH DENSE SMOKE

Sons of Norman Wrigley Risk Their Lives to Rescue Valuable Lenses From Flames Monday.

Lives of several hundred people, including more than twenty-five employees of the Wrigley Engraving company, in the Rhodes building, were placed in jeopardy Monday afternoon when a tank containing approximately three gallons of ether withstood flames from a fire that swept the third floor of the building, causing damage estimated at $10,000. Had the fire ignited the tank, causing it to explode, the entire building would have been blown to bits, according to chemistry experts.

Dense clouds of smoke from the fire, which was caused from combustion of fumes from photographic calcium and a gas stove, poured from all windows of the building, causing considerable difficulty to firemen in extinguishing the blaze.

Considered Miracle.

That the tank containing ether, located about three feet from the center of the fire, failed to explode, was regarded as miraculous by firemen who discovered it after the fire was under control.

One youth, R. L. Barnett, 18, of Hollywood avenue, an employee of the company, was in imminent danger of losing his life when he refused to leave the building, fighting flames from the fire escape, with small extinguishers which he had collected.

Barnett's heroism was not the only bravery shown during the fire. With the blaze at its height and tanks and containers exploding, sons of Norman Wrigley, owner of the concern, Clarence, T. R. W. H. and John Wrigley, rushed into the building to save valuable lenses. The salvage of these lenses cut down the blaze loss considerably.

Workmen Escape.

At the time the fire started twenty-five workmen were in the room. Despite the immediate release of gases which made it almost impossible to see more than a foot ahead, they fought their way to the stairway in the front of the annex and escaped unhurt. Only Barnett was cut off from this exit and he climbed through a rear window to the fire escape.

The force of the first explosion which shattered the windows of the room and sent heavy waves of black vapor through the openings attracted a large crowd in Marietta street.

The C. B. Clinkscale Printing company and the Lion Collar and Shirt company, located on the first floor, suffered no damage, it is stated.

Mrs. C. C. Cowan Is Taken to Davis-Fischer Sanitarium Suffering From Wounds in Both Legs.

OFFICER WAS TRYING TO PUNCTURE TIRES

One of the Bullets Is Believed To Have Hit Sidewalk Before Striking Mrs. Cowan.

Shot down Monday afternoon as she sought escape from a hail of bullets, fired from the revolver of County Policeman D. B. West, who was pursuing a liquor car on Sylvan road, near the Hanson Motor company's factory, Mrs. C. C. Cowan, of 25 Catherine street, is in Davis-Fischer sanitarium suffering from bullet wounds in each leg.

The victim was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance that happened to be passing, the policeman's car having sped on after the whisky machine.

Mrs. Cowan, who lives a short distance from the scene of the shooting, was returning to her home on Catherine street after a visit to a friend on Sylvan road. She was walking on the sidewalk in the direction of Catherine street, she stated at the hospital, when she was startled by a series of pistol shots behind her.

Drops to Her Knees.

At first she believed the noise had been caused by the exhaust of an automobile, but on turning saw Officer West firing from his machine at another car in front of him. As she dropped on her knees, in an effort to get out of line of the flying bullets, she was struck in the right and left leg, just above the knees.

The two cars sped on and Mrs. Cowan was picked up by residents of the neighborhood and placed in the ambulance. She is being attended by Dr. Z. S. Cowan.

According to Chief Mathieson, of the county police force, Officer West reported that he was chasing a liquor car and had turned into the Sylvan road from Lee street. At the crossing of the two highways another car, believed by police to be a "protector" for the car being pursued, turned directly in the officer's path.

Blockade Is Charged.

By the time he had succeeded in passing the blockade, the alleged liquor car had gained considerable headway. He resumed pursuit and as he reached the Hanson Motor company plant began firing in an effort to puncture the gasoline tank or tires of the speeding machine.

According to the chief, West was alone in the car and was greatly handicapped in firing his revolver. He believes that Mrs. Cowan was struck by a bullet which glanced either from the concrete pavement of the road or the officer's target.

No acknowledgment was taken against the policeman, the chief stated.

Promises Investigation.

Edwin F. Johnson, chairman of the county commissioners, declared

Continued on Page 6, Column 3.

The Weather
FAIR

Washington—Forecast:
Georgia—Fair Tuesday; Wednesday cloudy and warmer followed by rain; moderate easterly winds.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature ..... 44
Lowest temperature ..... 26
Mean temperature ..... 35
Normal temperature ..... 42
Rainfall in past 24 hours, ins. .... .00
Deficiency since 1st of mo., ins. .... .77
Deficiency since Jan. 1, ins. .... .71

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER	Temperature	Rain
Atlanta, clear	38	44
Birmingham, clear	38	46
Indianapolis, clear	32	42
Buffalo, clear	20	24
Charleston, pt. cldy.	48	54
Chicago, pt. cldy.	28	38
Denver, cloudy	28	32
Des Moines, cloudy	24	24
Dayton, clear	38	40
Hatteras, clear	40	46
Havana, cloudy	28	28
Jacksonville, clear	50	50
Kansas City, clear	38	42
Memphis, clear	38	40
Mobile, clear	48	52
Montgomery, clear	44	48
New Orleans, cloudy	48	52
New York, clear	28	38
North Platte, cloudy	28	38
Oklahoma, clear	40	46
St. Louis, clear	28	38
Pittsburgh, clear	24	28
Raleigh, clear	40	46
San Francisco, clear	60	62
Salt Lake City, cloudy	22	28
St. Petersburg, cloudy	44	50
Tampa, clear	50	54
Trinidad, clear	28	38
Washington, clear	40	46

Continued on Page 6, Column 3.

"A man's work is from sun to sun,
but a woman's work is never done"
is now an exploded maxim in these days of the modern woman.

The modern woman runs her home as a business.
She organizes her business so that there's time for play.

She goes over her pantry shelves, her linen chest,
her personal wardrobe in the morning of the day.

She takes her Constitution and checks her "Need List" with the advertisements of this paper.

She plans, orders and shops in the morning. Her afternoons and evenings are free for play.

She has exploded the old theory "Woman's Work
is Never Done."

She uses The Constitution as her shopping guide.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

WOMAN IS SHOT DOWN BY LIQUOR CAR PURSUER;
COUNTY BOARD WILL PROBE ACTION OF OFFICER

Lincoln Tries To Dash Out Own Brains

PEDESTRIAN HIT
TWICE BY OFFICER
SHOOTING AT CARLAWYER - FLORIST
BEATS HIS HEAD
ON BARS OF CELL

Confession of Wife-Slaying Branded by Son as Hoax Concocted To End Hounding by Relatives.

KILLER TO PLEAD
OWN CASE AT BAR

Detectives Sift Ashes in Greenhouse Furnace-Crematory Seeking Evidence To Clinch Admission.

BY JAMES McCLAIN.

Aurora, Ill., January 14.—Close watch is being kept over Warren J. Lincoln, confessed murderer of his wife, following an attempt on the part of the eccentric lawyer-florist to take his own life late Monday. The man was found beating his head violently against the bars of his cell door.

The incident occurred shortly after Lincoln had made a second confession, refusing to permit his questioners to shake his story and force him to admit he killed Byron Shoup, his brother-in-law, also. Lincoln re-enacted the killing, giving additional information regarding the tragedy and his subsequent wanderings about the country, which, authorities believe, will either substantiate or break the man's confession.

Lincoln claims he murdered his wife with a stove poker, after she had shot and killed Shoup, her brother, and then turned both bodies over to the double murder following an attempt by his wife to poison him a year ago, he says.

To Plead Own Case
A charge of first degree murder will be lodged against Lincoln early Tuesday.

Detectives sifted ashes at the Lincoln greenhouse Monday in search of remains of the two bodies which Lincoln says he burned the night following the murders. Evidence in addition to the man's confession will be required, it is said, for Lincoln is expected to plead self-defense when brought to trial. A lawyer, himself, the erstwhile florist refuses to accept legal advice and is preparing to plead his own case before the jury.

Eats Very Little.
The pale-faced "mystery man" was perfectly calm until his attempt to kill himself. Except for a momentary collapse at the end of his first confession Sunday night, he has appeared unaffected by the new development in the strange chain of incidents that have marked the last year. He has, however, eaten but little since he fled to his cell.

Meanwhile, there are some, among them John Lincoln, the florist's son, who believe the confession is just another hoax, no more real than the supposed scene of his own murder which Lincoln prepared last spring to cover his crime and his disappearance.

"I have been with my father during almost all his waking hours," the son said. "It would have been impossible for a thing like that to happen without me knowing about it. My father has been so hounded by his relatives that he concocted his story as a means of ending it all."

LINCOLN WATCHED
SEARCH FOR BODY.

Warren J. Lincoln was in hiding in Chicago part of the time that he was absent from Aurora during his first disappearance and he also spent some

Father Believes Oath Holy
Sends Son To Die in Chair

ARNOLD ANDERSON, ALIAS ARTHUR LINDSAY, AND FATHER (LEFT)

"Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help you God?" The father of Arnold Anderson, alias Arthur Lindsay, said, "I do." Then he told a New York court how his son had confessed killing Harry C. Moore, wealthy real estate man, and shattered the defense of Anderson, who was totally unprepared for such a bombshell. But a little while later, when his father came to see him in the death cell to which he was condemned, the son forgave him.

GOTHAM PONDERES
ENRIGHT CLEANUP
IN CALM SERENITY

Quiet Nooks Along Broadway Now Rendezvous Where Gabbles Poise Teacups.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, January 14.—For a whole day those people of New York who have become confirmed in their drinking habits under prohibition were agitated by reports that Richard E. Enright, the chief of 15,000 policemen, intended to disorganize, if not abolish, the entire system of dispensing liquor.

This system was evolved from early confusion by dint of patience, privation, some illness and not a few fatalities in the course of the last three years and only recently had reached that efficient regularity which made it possible for a man to get something for cold feet or a feverish larynx when taken ill in a strange neighborhood.

No definite reassurance issued from police headquarters but the city has again calmed down to its today, to discuss the thing in tranquillity over the teacups.

Are Many Deserving Ones.

Enright has directed that charges shall be filed against the commanders of all the 13 inspection districts in the city. An inspector is like the commander of an army under a commander-in-chief. His inspection district embraces several police precincts. He usually selects the most comfortable station house in the district for his own headquarters. Some of the inspectors probably will retire on their pension.

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

FIRE AND POLICE
DEPARTMENTS ASK
INCREASED FUNDS

Requests for Nearly $250,000 Additional Appropriations Made at Finance Board Meeting.

Requests for nearly a quarter of a million dollars of additional appropriations to departments and public improvements were filed with the finance committee of council at its session Monday including requests for increases of more than $100,000 each from fire and police departments.

The committee began its work with revised estimates by City Comptroller B. Graham West before it which indicated that increased fixed expenses would be $62,500 in excess of estimated increases in revenues.

Mayor Walter A. Sims appeared before the committee immediately after it convened and issued an appeal for rigid economy, suggesting that an effort be made to consolidate several city departments to save money.

Tentative Budget.

The committee listened alternately to heads of departments and to representatives of citizens interested in public improvements, notice all requests in a tentative budget which it will revise in executive session after all requests have been filed.

Chief of Police James L. Beavers filed the request for the "largest increase."

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

Attack Is Made
On Work of Men
In Plain Clothes

Efficiency Cut in Half as Compared With 1922, Says Couch.

Charges by Councilman J. Allen Couch that the efficiency of the police plainclothes squad had been cut practically in half in 1923 and rumors of a further shakeup in control of the squad developed at city hall Monday afternoon.

Councilman Couch's charges were made before the finance committee when Chief of Police James L. Beavers submitted a request for $104,000 increase in the budget of the police department. The request, with others, was taken under advisement.

The plainclothes squad had been under leadership of Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant most of the year since J. Lamar Poole was deposed as chief of detectives and the detective bureau was abolished. The 1923 police committee uneasily Sturdivant as its

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

FRISCO BIDS HIGH
IN DRIVE TO WIN
DEMOCRAT MEET

New York Looms as Principal Contender Against Western City—Chicago Lags.

EXECUTIVES WILL NOT
TAMPER WITH RULES

Bryan's Announcement of "Dark Horse" Seen as Move To Keep Himself in Limelight.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON.

Washington, January 14.—Contrary to expectations San Francisco looms up as one of the major contenders for the democratic national convention again in 1924. This developed today at a preliminary conference between the delegations representing the contesting cities for the convention and members of the national committee. Chicago, that was expected to have the advantage over the field, has fallen to a third or fourth place and tonight it was believed the real contest will be between New York and San Francisco with St. Louis possibly third and Chicago fourth.

At a preliminary meeting of the national committee today preceding the regular meeting which will be held at 10:30 tomorrow morning, a subcommittee was appointed, of which Committee Chairman Clark Howell of Georgia, is chairman, to hear the bids of the contesting cities and to decide and report to the full committee its selection. Whatever this may be will undoubtedly be ratified by the full committee. The convention will be held on or about June 25 or 26, as the opening date.

Keep Old Rule Intact.

All of the national committeemen, with one or two exceptions, are on the ground tonight and there are hundreds of other democratic politicians from all sections here in the interest of various announced and unannounced candidates for the presidential nomination. The old rule as to requiring a two-third majority of the accredited delegates to make a nomination will be adhered to.

Aside from other considerations it develops that all included cash bids for the convention city were topped with announcement that San Francisco would present a cash offer of $200,000, plus free use of the civic auditorium where the 1920 democratic convention was held.

Chicago was said to be prepared to duplicate the $125,000 offer which failed to land the republican convention. New York's delegation was

Continued on Page 2, Column 3.

EMPEROR FOR LIFE,
ASSERTS SIMMONS

Founder of Order Declares Evans Consented to Court Decree Giving Him Title for Life.

Insisting he is emperor of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan despite the recent order of Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans, purporting to banish him from the organization, William Joseph Simmons, founder of the Klan, Monday issued a statement declaring that Evans agreed that he was to be emperor for life, without salary, when an agreement was reached last April in settlement of a Klan law suit, which involved control of the order.

Simmons declared that in order to effect a settlement of the suit, he agreed to give up a "gratuity" of $1,000 a month from the organization and to surrender his Ku Klux Klan copyrights for $1,000 a month royalty. "Dr. Evans agreed to a consent verdict that I was and should be emperor for life without salary and such court decree is on record in the superior court of Fulton county, therefore, I am still emperor."

He declared that Evans' action in banishing him from the Klan was "unwarranted, illegal and beyond his power."

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

Coalition Forces
Defeat 'Regulars'
And Repeal Rule

House Law Governing Amendments From Floor Erased on Motion of Representative Garrett.

CRISP AND FISH
INDULGE IN TILT

Proposition to Discharge Committees by Petition Starts Wrangle, But Is Not Voted On.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, January 14.—House democrats and republican insurgents, forming a coalition for the first time this session routed the republican organization today and repealed the Underwood rule which practically made it impossible to offer them the floor important amendments to revenue and tariff bills.

On motion of Representative Garrett, the democratic leader, the rule, adopted in 1911 when the democrats controlled the house, was repealed by a vote of 208 to 177. The democrats, voting solidly for repeal, had the support of 24 republicans, among them the insurgents, and three others, while Representative Longworth, the republican leader, and Chairman Snell of the rules committee urged retention of the rule.

After this showdown—the first to develop in the rules fight which will continue tomorrow—the house became involved in a bitter debate over proposals for the discharge of committees from consideration of legislation, but took no action. Just before overnight adjournment Representatives Crisp, democrat, Georgia, and Fish, republican, New York, indulged in a heated exchange as to which of them deserved credit for drafting the proposals to discharge committees.

Offer on Number.

On this proposition there is a difference of opinion between the republican organization and the democratic-insurgent committeemen as to the number of signatures which should be required on petitions for a general revision of house rules declared a minimum of 150 names should be required, while the democrats and insurgents contended the number should be not more than 100. A test of strength on this proposal probably will come tomorrow.

Advocating repeal of the Underwood rule Mr. Garrett declared it never should have been incorporated in the general rules of the house. As interpreted by various speakers, he said, it had served to prevent, during consideration of tariff bills, the transfer of commodities from the free to the dutiable list and vice versa, and had made amendments to revenue bills out of the question by requiring that they had to apply directly to the article under consideration.

No Decision On Bonus Body.

Mr. Garrett predicted that the democrats would control the house in the next congress, urged members of his party to use caution in amending the rules, and gave assurance that he would oppose any attempt to re-enact the Underwood rule if the democrats regained control of the house.

Mr. Garrett said he was opposed to consideration of a tax bill at this session of congress under any rule

Continued on Page 2, Column 5.

FILIBUSTER ROAD
TO BEAT TAX BILL
WIDE OPEN, GREEN

Repeal of "Underwood Rule" Removes Restriction on Amendments From Floor of House.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, January 14.—Passage of legislation at this session of congress has been jeopardized, in the opinion of Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee, by the action of the house today in repealing the Underwood rule which sought to restrict amendments from the floor to revenue bills and to curb debate.

After the house had revoked the rule, Mr. Green expressed the opinion that such a flood of amendments might be offered to the revenue bill, once it reaches the house, that action might be indefinitely delayed.

"If the tax bill," Mr. Green said, "goes before the house controlled only by the rules as amended today a situation would prevail under which it would be practically impossible to pass it, even though a majority of the house was in favor of it."

Three Weeks Before Report.

The ways and means committee during the day began public hearings on changes sought in the present revenue law, a number of business representatives appearing to argue for repeal of various taxes. Further drafting of the bill by the committee will be suspended pending completion of the hearings which chairman Green hopes will be accomplished by the close of the week. Three weeks remain then before the bill is scheduled to be reported as directed by the house republican conference.

Democrats continued today to bombard the Mellon tax revision plan, Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, charging in the senate that the Mellon tax plan was a campaign of propaganda for the Mellon tax plan. The democratic national committee also issued a statement attacking the sardine features of the Mellon proposal.

Filibuster Made Easy.

With reference to the rules change Mr. Green declared, "Amendment after amendment could be offered and the result would be very much as when the McKinley tariff bill was first brought before the house and it was found to be absolutely impossible to make any progress. It would be perfectly easy for a small group to

Continued on Page 2, Column 6.

SCORES OF LIVES
ARE ENDANGERED
BY TANK IN FIRE

Experts Puzzled Over Failure of Ether Container to Explode in Engraving Company Blaze.

WORKMEN FIGHT WAY
THROUGH DENSE SMOKE

Sons of Norman Wrigley Risk Their Lives to Rescue Valuable Lenses From Flames Monday.

Lives of several hundred people, including more than twenty-five employees of the Wrigley Engraving company, in the Rhodes building, were placed in jeopardy Monday afternoon when a tank containing approximately three gallons of ether withstood flames from a fire that swept the third floor of the building, causing damage estimated at $10,000. Had the fire ignited the tank, causing it to explode, the entire building would have been blown to bits, according to chemistry experts.

Dense clouds of smoke from the fire, which was caused from combustion of fumes from photographic calcium and a gas stove, poured from all windows of the building, causing considerable difficulty to firemen in extinguishing the blaze.

Considered Miracle.

That the tank containing ether, located about three feet from the center of the fire, failed to explode, was regarded as miraculous by firemen who discovered it after the fire was under control.

One Youth, R. L. Barnett, 18, of Hollywood avenue, an employee of the company, was in imminent danger of losing his life when he refused to leave the building, fighting flames from the fire escape, with small extinguishers which he had collected.

Barnett's heroism was not the only bravery shown during the fire. With the blaze at its height and tanks and containers exploding, sons of Norman Wrigley, owner of the concern, Clarence, T. R. W. H. and John Wrigley, rushed into the building to save valuable lenses. The salvage of these lenses cut down the blaze loss considerably.

Workmen Escape.

At the time the fire started twenty-five workmen were in the room. Despite the immediate release of gases which made it almost impossible to see more than a foot ahead, they fought their way to the stairway from the front of the annex and escaped unhurt. Only Barnett was cut off from this exit and he climbed through a rear window to the fire escape.

The force of the first explosion which shattered the windows of the room and sent heavy waves of black vapor through the openings attracted a large crowd in Marietta street.

The C. B. Clincksale Printing company, located on the first floor, suffered no damage, it is stated.

Tech Sends First Message
To Radio Fans of America

WGM HEARD AGAIN AS WBBF

BY PARKS RUSK.

With the militant crash and blare of "Ramblin' Wreck" at 8:30 o'clock Monday night, about 50 student musicians selected from Tech's 70-piece band concluded the opening concert of WBBF, the radio broadcasting station of the Georgia School of Technology, and a new era in the collegiate study of radio had been launched.

Formally opened at 7:30 o'clock with a ten-minute address by President M. L. Brittain, in which he expressed the gratitude of the institution to Tech for presenting without cost to Tech the powerful broadcasting equipment formerly operated as WGM, the station successfully broadcast its initial program of popular and classical airs, with the rousing school song as its grand finale. Hereafter concerts will be given weekly, on Monday nights.

Heard by Thousands.

Thousands of radio fans throughout the country who formerly knew the station as WGM, when it sent its music and other entertainment features through the ether to every corner of the continent, and also many Tech alumni who had been given notice of the formal opening program, enjoyed the splendid concert.

Through presentation of the complete radio plant to Georgia Tech several months ago, the thorough study of radio in all its phases by Tech electrical engineering students is made possible, and the competence of the course now being offered as a result of the gift is attracting wide comment in American educational circles.

After appropriately introducing station WBBF to its invisible audience, Dr. Brittain gave a description of the plant and its location, and then furnished his listeners with interesting information regarding the school and its present building program.

Address to Fans.

"Radio station of the Georgia School of Technology, WBBF, class A, takes pleasure," he said, "in making its initial bow to the radio world with this, its first program. It is not exactly a new voice, however, but is a continuation of one that has been widely known for some time past as Station WGM."

Through the generosity of Editor Clark Howell and The Constitution,

Continued on Page 4, Column 3.

Mrs. C. C. Cowan Is Taken to Davis-Fischer Sanitarium Suffering From Wounds in Both Legs.

OFFICER WAS TRYING TO PUNCTURE TIRES

One of the Bullets Is Believed To Have Hit Sidewalk Before Striking Mrs. Cowan.

Shot down Monday afternoon as she sought escape from a hail of bullets, fired from the revolver of County Policeman D. B. West, who was pursuing a liquor car on Sylvan road, near the Hanson Motor company's factory, Mrs. C. C. Cowan, of 25 Catherine street, is in Davis-Fischer sanitarium suffering from bullet wounds in each leg.

The victim was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance that appeared to be passing, the policeman's car having sped on after the whisky machine.

Mrs. Cowan, who lives a short distance from the scene of the shooting, was returning to her home on Catherine street after a visit to a friend on Sylvan road. She was walking on the sidewalk in the direction of Catherine street, she stated at the hospital, when she was startled by a series of pistol shots behind her.

Drops to Her Knees.

At first she believed the noise had been caused by the exhaust of an automobile, but on turning saw Officer West firing from his machine at another car in front of him. As she dropped on her knees, in an effort to get out of line of the flying bullets, she was struck in the right and left leg, just above the knees.

The two cars sped on and Mrs. Cowan was picked up by residents of the neighborhood and placed in the ambulance. She is being attended by Dr. Z. S. Cowan.

According to Chief Matheson, of the county police force, Officer West reported that he was chasing a liquor car and had turned into the Sylvan road from Lee street. At the crossing of the two highways another car, believed by police to be a "protection" car for the car being pursued, turned directly in the officer's path.

Blockade Is Charged.

By the time he had succeeded in passing the blockade, the alleged liquor car had gained considerable headway. He resumed pursuit and as he reached the Hanson Motor company plant began firing in an effort to puncture the gasoline tank or tires of the speeding machine.

According to the chief, West was alone in the car and was greatly handicapped in firing his revolver. He believes that Mrs. Cowan was struck by a bullet which glanced either from the concrete pavement of the road or the officer's target.

No action has been taken against the policeman, the chief stated.

Promises Investigation.
Edwin F. Johnson, chairman of the county commissioners, declared

Continued on Page 6, Column 3.

The Weather
FAIR

Washington—Forecast:
Georgia—Fair Tuesday; Wednesday cloudy and warmer; followed by rain; moderate easterly winds.

Local Weather Report.
Highest temperature ..... 44
Lowest temperature ..... 26
Mean temperature ..... 35
Normal temperature ..... 42
Rainfall in past 24 hours, ins. .... .00
Deficiency since Jan. 1, ins. .... .77
Deficiency since Jan. 1, 1923, ins. .... .77

7 a.m. N'n 7 p.m.
Dry bulb ..... 35 38
Wet bulb ..... 25 32
Relative humidity ..... 82 44 34

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER	Temperature	Rain
ATLANTA, clear	38 44 .00
Birmingham, clear	38 46 .00
Boston, clear	32 42 .00
Buffalo, clear	20 24 .00
Charlotte, pt. cloudy	48 64 .00
Chicago, pt. cloudy	28 38 .00
Denver, cloudy	28 32 .00
Des Moines, cloudy	24 34 .00
Galveston, rain	50 50 .24
Hartford, clear	40 48 .00
Hayes, cloudy	28 28 .00
Jacksonville, clear	60 68 .00
Kansas City, clear	38 42 .00
Memphis, clear	48 50 .00
Miami, rain	64 64 .00
Mobile, clear	48 52 .00
Montgomery, clear	44 48 .00
New Orleans, cloudy	48 52 .00
New York, clear	28 38 .00
North Platte, cloudy	38 48 .00
Omaha, clear	48 50 .00
Philadelphia, clear	40 40 .00
Pittsburg, clear	24 28 .00
Portland, clear	40 40 .00
San Francisco, clear	60 62 .00
St. Louis, clear	28 34 .00
Salt Lake City, cloudy	22 28 .00
Shreveport, cloudy	48 50 .00
St. Paul, clear	28 34 .00
Tampa, clear	50 50 .00
Texas, clear	58 60 .00
Victoria, pt. cloudy	40 48 .00
Washington, clear	40 48 .00

C. F. HERMAN, Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

"A man's work is from sun to sun,
but a woman's work is never done"
is now an exploded maxim in these days of the modern woman.

The modern woman runs her home as a business.
She organizes her business so that there's time for play.

She goes over her pantry shelves, her linen chest,
her personal wardrobe in the morning of the day.

She takes her Constitution and checks her "Need List" with the advertisements of this paper.

She plans, orders and shops in the morning. Her afternoons and evenings are free for play.

She has exploded the old theory "Woman's Work
is Never Done."

She uses The Constitution as her shopping guide.

Man, 78, Admits Killing Wife, 68, And Hiding Body

Lama, Ohio, January 14.—William Mohler, 78, wealthy farmer, late today confessed he had killed his wife, Mrs. Katherine Mohler, 68, dismembered her body and hid it in an abandoned cistern two weeks ago.

Mohler confessed at Wapakoneta, where he was taken late today. The confession followed 26 hours of third degree.

It costs $4,500,000 annually to man the League of Nations.

IT'S TOASTED

This costs a fortune, but it saves the flavor.

LUCKY STRIKE

IT STOPS THAT COUGH

JUNIPER TAR

GIVES QUICK RELIEF FOR COUGHS, COLDS, SORE THROAT FOR CHILDREN AND ADULTS

USED 50 YEARS WITH WONDERFUL SUCCESS

INEXPENSIVE—2 DOSES 1/2

35¢ A BOTTLE AT ALL DRUGGISTS

DON'T EXPERIMENT! This old reliable medicine has relieved thousands—it will relieve you. TRY IT TODAY.

Welcome to New York and the Almac

71 ST. STREET AND BROADWAY

A masterpiece of modern hotel creation where convenience, restful quiet and hospitality are prime features.

Unique Congo Room—Medieval Grill—Blue Room Restaurant.

Always a pleasure to entertain visitors from Atlanta

LATZ OWNERSHIP—MANAGEMENT

FOR THE ATTENTION OF AN HOTEL OWNER OR OPERATOR

THE MANAGER OF A PROMINENT EASTERN CITY HOTEL, with a patronage of the highest type, is open to consider the management of a Commercial, Resort or Apartment Hotel, or operating only under construction. He is well-known to hotel owners and operators and the hotel public for his ability in management and increasing business.

A thoroughly grounded hotel man and an executive of personality and character.

He wants a hotel that is NOT doing its best. Will consider a new building on salary and percentage basis only. Principles only. Address Box F-505, care Constitution.

HONOLULU

ROVAL AUCLAND, SYDNEY

The Well Equipped Royal Mail Steamers "Niagara" (20,000 tons)... Feb. 8 April 11 "Makani" (18,000 tons)... Mar. 7 May 7

Sail from Vancouver, B. C.

For fares, etc., apply Can. Pac. Railway, Healey Bldg., cor. Forsyth and West St., Atlanta, or to Canadian Australian Line, Winch Building, 741 Hastings St., West, Vancouver, B. C.

EUROPE

Complete Service for Transatlantic Travel

ENGLAND BELGIUM IRELAND GERMANY FRANCE ITALY MEDITERRANEAN CRUISES

117 ships—over 1,000,000 tons

Included in this vast array of vessels is the MAJESTIC, the world's largest ship, the RAUNO OLYMPIC, the ROMANTIC, BELGIENLAND and many others; also 14 large new cabin steamers owned by the S. S. PITTSBURGH. Rates $115 up.

Sailings Tues., Wed., Thurs., Sat.

Recommendations for every need and purpose.

WHITE STAR LINE

White Star Line, Ltd., 200 Broad St., New York City

International Mercantile Marine Company, 100 Broad St., New York City

White Star Line, Ltd., 200 Broad St., New York City

White Star Line, Ltd., 200 Broad St., New York City

The LUXURY CRUISE to the MEDITERRANEAN

Palestine—Egypt

Leaving New York FEB. 6, 1924

Under personal management of Holland-America Line.

Third Cruise of the famous "ROTTERDAM"

65 days of delightful diversion

Itinerary includes Madeira, Portugal, Spain, Azores, Tunis, Greece, Constantinople, Land and Egypt, Italy and the Riviera. Carefully planned shore excursions, stop-overs in Europe.

American Express Company, Agents.

In Charge of Shore Excursions, Cruise Limited to 500 guests.

Illustrated Folder on Request.

HOLLAND-AMERICA LINE

65 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga., or Local Agents.

TWO TRAINS LATE WHEN U. S. AGENTS CONDEMN ENGINES

Indianapolis, Ind., January 14.—Passenger trains of the Pennsylvania railroad system were delayed in this city today for two hours to indicate periods when inspectors of the interstate commerce commission ordered out of service locomotives hauling the trains.

The first section of the system's crack New York to St. Louis train No. 31, on which an excess fare is charged, arrived at 11:56 a. m. and did not depart until 2:12 p. m. It was then consolidated with No. 21, another New York to St. Louis through train which had arrived here at 10:56 a. m.

6 Dead, 2 Missing Five in Hospital After Explosion

Port Arthur, Texas, January 14.—Six men were killed, two are missing, five were seriously injured and 21 slightly injured in an explosion of 16 high-pressure stills at the Texas company refinery here this afternoon. The property loss was estimated at from $600,000 to $800,000.

The dead are from Beaumont and Port Arthur. Two of the more seriously injured are expected to die. It was said at the hospital tonight. Twenty-two received first aid treatment and were sent to their homes.

According to survivors a crew of men were working on still No. 24 when still No. 25 exploded and the flames set off still No. 24. The two explosions spread the flaming oil over the works and killed the two men. The two missing are still in the ruins.

ATTACK IS MADE ON WORK OF MEN

Continued from First Page.

inst official act before going out of existence and promoted Lieutenant Chevington to be captain of plainclothes. Rumors Monday were that the new 1924 committee would, in turn, unseat Chevington and promote John Starnes to plainclothes captain. It has authority to cancel promotions at any time within six months after they are made.

It was stated Monday that the police committee has authority, with approval of mayor and council, to retire any officer on half pay at the end of 25 years of service, regardless of the officer's physical condition or wishes. Chief Beavers will have served 25 years on January 26.

Members of the police committee said action on the retirement of the department would be delayed until the return of Councilman Edward H. Inman, chairman, who is recovering from an operation in a Baltimore hospital.

These Two Men Put It Over

By placing every graduate in a good position. Let them place you.

Don't envy the other fellow's good position. Get one for yourself. If you can't get one, Bryan-Hutton can get one for you. It's up to you. What about it?

Start any time or come direct from work for an hour. Life Scholarship, day school, $90. Night school, 6 months $25. Phone, call or write for free catalog, 104 Whitehall, IVY 5787, Atlanta.

Bryan-Hutton Business College Biggest and Best Equipped in Ga.

Teach Your Children To Use Cuticura

Whether it is an annoying rash, irritation, cut or wound Cuticura will soothe and assist in healing. First bathe with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Dry and anoint with Cuticura Ointment. Cuticura-Talcum also is excellent for little ones.

Samples Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 17, Malden 44, Mass." Sold every where. Beware of cheap imitations. Try our new Shaving Stick.

McADOO WOULD FAVOR FRISCO.

Washington, January 14.—William G. McAdoo in a telegram tonight to Herbert Bayard Swope, of the New York World, declared that he had consistently declined to take any part in the selection of the city for the democratic national convention, but that if he took any part he naturally would favor San Francisco.

GOTHAM PONDER'S ENRIGHT CLEANUP

Continued from First Page.

sions, rather than stand departmental trial. Some are quite likely to be exonerated. A few stubborn old codgers may get their backs up, refuse to retire, and find themselves dismissed. Every one who does get out, whether by retirement or dismissal, will make room for a man down below and there are many men below who are considered deserving of a chance.

Problem Solved.

Visitors to New York are prone to remark that no man—not even a police inspector—could look into the liquor question here without getting an eyeful, to say nothing of a skiff. But New Yorkers who went through the early days of doubt when the synthetic gin formula was still uncertain and likely to be fatal at times, felt a certain pride in the efficient liquor system. The liquor question in other cities, particularly in that most immoral town, Philadelphia, has been "where do you want to go?" "Remains sent." In New York the liquor question has been "gents, what'll it be?"

These findings therefore are based on a quick survey made with an apprehensive eye to the return of old conditions under which it was a wise man who knew his own bootlegger and a very sick man indeed who drank in a strange saloon.

Just Park at Side, Please.

Joe—last name unimportant and probably synthetic like his gin—was phoning his client all day, assuring them that he was still not only willing but overwhelmingly eager to serve them with whiskey by the case or wine, in your choice of three colors, by the gallon at no increase in price.

The boss of the chain drug store on the corner said: "Until further notice, when calling for your postage stamps please drive your car around to the dark side of the store. The police complain that our customers are impeding traffic on the car line. We ask your co-operation in this matter."

Wages of Teamsters.

Increases in wages for city teamsters, now drawing $2.00 a day, were voted subject to change when the permanent budget is drawn.

Request was made by property owners headed by George West, of the West Lumber company, for $70,000 appropriation for widening of Peters street.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson headed a delegation from the Woman's club asking that provision be made for a woman's bureau in the police department. She asked that at least $5,000 be provided for the purpose.

Alderman J. R. Buchanan, chairman, announced that the committee would be open to requests from the public Tuesday from 10 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock at night and then would continue its work to needs of the city departments. A tentative program has been made to hear from construction, waterworks, parks, schools, and other interested departments Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, making it possible for the committee to begin work on fixing the budget Monday.

$27,000 To Be Cut.

Alderman Bachman gave the committee estimates of the city's financial condition indicating that $27,000 must be pared from 1923 appropriations, figures in order to meet increased fiscal expenses this year.

New necessary expenses, he figured, include $88,000 already voted to fund the city's new $24,000 increased interest charges, $20,000 to close Forsyth street underpass; $20,000 to fulfill the Candler park gift agreement; $20,000 to meet the city's munimty chest donation, in excess of charity appropriations of last year; $7,000 increases in electric light bills. To meet the city's needs, he estimated $335,200 of additional revenue after the school department's share has been subtracted.

EMPEROR FOR LIFE, ASSERTS SIMMONS

Continued from First Page.

through pretended friendship to me gained the position of imperial wizard, has issued an unauthorized order attempting to banish me from the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, of which I am a member. He signed an excuse request from several of his grand dragons who, under the constitution and laws of the Klan, have nothing to do with such matters. The whole act is unwarranted, illegal and beyond his power.

"The Klan is my dream child from my youth and I love it from every good impulse of my soul.

"For years I longed to give our nation a Christian, Protestant, patriotic order to save the faith of our fathers. By calling it the 'Invisible Empire' I meant an empire in the hearts of men; never a secret empire of government within the United States. My loyalty to my country and my love for its institutions and laws has never wavered.

"When I delivered the Klan to Americans I was without funds to assist its growth, and mortgaged my home to raise money to carry on. As fast as money came, that money was spent in promulgating the order. I endured years of privation, poverty, hardship and grinding toil without compensation. I have never asked any compensation for myself. To facilitate the work I turned the propagation department over to others and never received one dollar from that source.

"Did Not Make Fortune."

"The propaganda that has been spread that I made a fortune out of the Klan is without the slightest foundation in fact. I am today a man of very limited means. I never desired to be enriched by the Klan. The money facts are as follows: After the Klan became self-supporting it was suggested that I should be paid a salary. I objected to a salary, stating that it would not be anything but a salary and that I did not ask any salary. I was then presented by the Klan as a 'gratuity' the sum of $1,000 a month. The Klan also gave me the home in which I now reside. Despite the many stories of my wealth and graft, this is the exact truth.

"Last April, in order to effect a settlement of a law suit, I agreed to give up this 'gratuity' and to surrender my then existing copyrights to the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. For and in consideration of the then existing copyrights I was to be paid the sum of one thousand dollars a month as a royalty. Dr. Evans agreed to a consent decree that I was and should be emperor for life without salary and such court decree is of record in the superior court of Fulton county, Georgia,—therefore, I am still emperor.

"Any assertion to the effect that I have ever authorized or had any knowledge of any act of violence by the Klan or any klansman is absolutely false. I have never countenanced lawlessness while imperial wizard, or before or since; and during my entire administration of the affairs of the Klan not one penny, to my knowledge, of the funds of the organization was used for the purpose of partisan politics nor for promoting lawlessness, or anyone charged with murder or any other crime, by employing counsel or otherwise.

Says Evans "Craved All."

"No man ever pretended a warmer friendship for another than Dr. Evans did for me until he became intrenched in the office of imperial wizard by my consent and support. Since that time he has never even worn a mask of kindly feeling; he has craved all, all, all!

"There is a sacred ideal in my heart and which I have implanted in the hearts of all true klansmen, which was not born to die,—this ideal is challenged; shall it survive or perish? After years of labor I had hoped to exercise an advisory general supervision of the Klan in my capacity as emperor, and to create and finish the entire structure as conceived and contemplated from the beginning. But all my plans of a constructive and benevolent nature, formulated through years of thought and toil, were completely scrapped within a few weeks after the present administration took charge and nothing in keeping with the original design has been substituted by it thereafter.

Not a Personal Fight.

"This is not and should not be my personal fight; I want to hear from those honest klansmen who connected themselves with the order 'Not for Self but for Others,' and who are still loyal to our original principles and plans. I am only 43 years of age and willing to lay the fight to save the Klan to its original purposes, from which it has been willfully turned away—I am still emperor.

"If I have been thrown into the while they are attempting to crucify me, it is for no other purpose than to procure opportunity under the fiery cross to cast lots for my garments and revel in the spoils.

"To the true klansmen in America I want to make this statement: if you approve the crucifixion of our great elementary plans to dot this land with colleges and hospitals, on the cross of personal cupidity, so be it! If you want to go back to first principles and fight with me for the preservation of our lofty ideals and holy purposes, I shall not falter, but will lead you on until my last great day. As your heart tells you, so tell me."

WILLIAM JOSEPH SIMMONS.

"Emperor."

COALITION FORCES DEFEAT REGULARS

Continued from First Page.

which would restrict amendments, while Representative Nelson, of Wisconsin, leader of the insurgents, declared an effort undoubtedly would be made to enact an excess profits tax, and he did not want such a move hampered by the Underwood or any similar special rule.

While no opposition developed today to the recommendation of the rules committee for the creation of a new house committee to handle legislation affecting world war veterans, there reported ready to put up $100,000 cash plus all expenses of the convention and national committee.

FRISCO BIDS HIGH FOR DEMO MEET

Continued from First Page.

St. Louis backers said they were prepared to match the financial inducements of any rivals. The final bid of the latter may change the status of things as it appears tonight.

The announcement of William Jennings Bryan made from his home in Miami that he will offer the name of and support Dr. Albert A. Murphy, president of the University of Florida, as a candidate for the democratic nomination created no surprise, as it is regarded as one of Mr. Bryan's well-known schemes to keep himself before the democratic convention in the event any favorable wind may blow his way. By the leaders it is not regarded as having any other significance and no special significance in that respect.

INCREASE ASKED FOR POLICE—FIRE

Continued from First Page.

crease in department expenses made to the committee Monday, asking $250,404 instead of the $255,411 the police department received in 1923. This sum included salary increases which have been voted by council, new equipment and salary increases

Fire Department Plea.

Fire Chief Kelly asked for $224,800 increase in salary for his department in 1923. The increase is to cover salary raises, a new pump, additional hose, and other new equipment.

Alderman Jesse Armstrong asked $500 entertainment fund for the Stereotypers' union convention. Chief of Construction William A. Hamsel asked $500 entertainment fund for the American Society of Civil Engineers' convention. Both requests were filed.

Mayor Sims' recommendation for consolidating some city departments was considered by the committee in making a tentative budget.

Tax Collector Marvin C. Roane told the committee that he did not believe the offices of tax collector and city marshal could be consolidated satisfactorily.

Each officer received an average of $7,291 of stolen goods in 1922, compared with $3,406 in 1921, Mr. Couch said, and each officer was responsible for clearing up 40 men.

Automobile thieves got away with 449 cars in 1922, of which 206 were recovered, or 1.52 per cent per man, while they got away with $22,822 worth of goods, or 1.55, or 36 per cent per man were recovered.

What he said were figures copied from the police records for the last five years. He refused to divulge who had compiled and analyzed them.

The records show, he said, that while 40 per cent more robberies were committed in 1923 than in 1922, and the plainclothes squad numbered 10 in 1923 against 30 in 1922, the squad recovered only $139,870 worth of stolen goods in 1923, compared with $218,732 in 1922, and that it was instrumental in securing evidence against criminals to bring change sentences of 1,621 years in 1923, as compared with sentences of 2,126 years imposed in 1922.

Each officer recovered an average of $7,291 of stolen goods in 1922, compared with $3,406 in 1921, Mr. Couch said, and each officer was responsible for clearing up 40 men.

Automobile thieves got away with 449 cars in 1922, of which 206 were recovered, or 1.52 per cent per man, while they got away with $22,822 worth of goods, or 1.55, or 36 per cent per man were recovered.

Fire Department Plea.

Fire Chief Kelly asked for $224,800 increase in salary for his department in 1923. The increase is to cover salary raises, a new pump, additional hose, and other new equipment.

Alderman Jesse Armstrong asked $500 entertainment fund for the Stereotypers' union convention. Chief of Construction William A. Hamsel asked $500 entertainment fund for the American Society of Civil Engineers' convention. Both requests were filed.

Mayor Sims' recommendation for consolidating some city departments was considered by the committee in making a tentative budget.

Tax Collector Marvin C. Roane told the committee that he did not believe the offices of tax collector and city marshal could be consolidated satisfactorily.

Each officer received an average of $7,291 of stolen goods in 1922, compared with $3,406 in 1921, Mr. Couch said, and each officer was responsible for clearing up 40 men.

Automobile thieves got away with 449 cars in 1922, of which 206 were recovered, or 1.52 per cent per man, while they got away with $22,822 worth of goods, or 1.55, or 36 per cent per man were recovered.

Fire Department Plea.

Fire Chief Kelly asked for $224,800 increase in salary for his department in 1923. The increase is to cover salary raises, a new pump, additional hose, and other new equipment.

Alderman Jesse Armstrong asked $500 entertainment fund for the Stereotypers' union convention. Chief of Construction William A. Hamsel asked $500 entertainment fund for the American Society of Civil Engineers' convention. Both requests were filed.

Mayor Sims' recommendation for consolidating some city departments was considered by the committee in making a tentative budget.

Tax Collector Marvin C. Roane told the committee that he did not believe the offices of tax collector and city marshal could be consolidated satisfactorily.

Each officer received an average of $7,291 of stolen goods in 1922, compared with $3,406 in 1921, Mr. Couch said, and each officer was responsible for clearing up 40 men.

Automobile thieves got away with 449 cars in 1922, of which 206 were recovered, or 1.52 per cent per man, while they got away with $22,822 worth of goods, or 1.55, or 36 per cent per man were recovered.

Fire Department Plea.

Fire Chief Kelly asked for $224,800 increase in salary for his department in 1923. The increase is to cover salary raises, a new pump, additional hose, and other new equipment.

Alderman Jesse Armstrong asked $500 entertainment fund for the Stereotypers' union convention. Chief of Construction William A. Hamsel asked $500 entertainment fund for the American Society of Civil Engineers' convention. Both requests were filed.

Mayor Sims' recommendation for consolidating some city departments was considered by the committee in making a tentative budget.

Tax Collector Marvin C. Roane told the committee that he did not believe the offices of tax collector and city marshal could be consolidated satisfactorily.

Each officer received an average of $7,291 of stolen goods in 1922, compared with $3,406 in 1921, Mr. Couch said, and each officer was responsible for clearing up 40 men.

Automobile thieves got away with 449 cars in 1922, of which 206 were recovered, or 1.52 per cent per man, while they got away with $22,822 worth of goods, or 1.55, or 36 per cent per man were recovered.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian, led the fight for the democrats in the House Monday for a change of rules which would do away with the so-called "pocket veto," presenting an amendment to present rules which would force the rules committee to report a bill from committee after 30 days by a petition of 100 members.

"The change as presented by the rules committee provided for 150 signatures to such a petition.

"The old rule was an illusion and a snare," Crisp declared. "A sugar-coated pill, and never has worked up to this good hour, which will take up a certain measure, which is what this change provides for."

In answer to the charge that the change would bring "chaos," Crisp said that it applied only to public bills and he did not see how it could result in any obstruction.

"I believe the membership of the House would use the rule in good faith," he declared.

CRISP LEADS FIGHT AGAINST POCKET VETO.

Washington, D. C., January 14.—(Special.)—Representative Crisp, of Georgia, a recognized parliamentarian,

Leading Baptists of Dixie Here for Class Conference

Prominent Baptist ministers and educators will take part in the south-wide Baptist organized class conference which will hold its opening session at 7:15 o'clock tonight in the Baptist tabernacle, on Luckie street.

The first program will appeal to everyone who is interested in the work of the Bible classes of the modern Sunday schools. Dr. I. J. Van Ness, secretary of the Baptist Sunday school board of the southern Baptist convention, will be one of the principal speakers. Dr. Van Ness will present the ideals of the publishing house that provides the literature for the Baptist Sunday schools of the south.

Dr. R. J. Bateman, pastor of First Baptist church, Asheville, N. C., will be another speaker of the opening session. He is widely known as a platform man and in his pastorate in Chattanooga, Meridian and Asheville, has become one of the leading ministers of the south. Dr. Norman W. Cox, pastor of First Baptist church, Savannah, will conduct the opening devotional and will lead all of the devotional services of the convention.

A feature of the program will be the closing number at which time the flying squadron of the tabernacle organ class will give a testimony of its experience in evangelistic work. A. M. Smith, teacher of the class, and Morgan Blake, local newspaper man, will be among the speakers.

The singing of this convention promises to be a feature. Robert H. Coleman, of Dallas, Texas, has arrived in the city to take charge of the chorus choir and will lead the singing at all of the sessions. Special music by the Mercer University quartet and a quartet of women from Illinois will be offered.

A number of out-of-town delegates arrived on night trains Monday and are expected to reach Atlanta on the noon train Tuesday. Several special trains will reach the city this afternoon, bringing state delegations. Other state delegations from the more remote sections of the south will come in specially chartered sleeping cars.

The program Wednesday begins at 9 o'clock in the morning, adjourning at 12:30. The afternoon session begins at 2:15 with the men meeting at the tabernacle and the women at the First Baptist church. The evening session tomorrow begins at 7:15.

The outstanding speakers on the program Wednesday will be Dr. Wallace Bassett, W. L. Robuck, Joseph Broughton, C. L. Montgomery, Dr. John Vines and Dr. John E. White.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

Delightful Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies That Are Indorsed by Medical Authorities to Cut Short a Cold or Cough Due to Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if You Don't Feel Relief Coming in Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do to get relief from that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you don't feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night. (adv.)

Coffee Electrically

You Do This

The Westinghouse Percolator Does the Rest ~and It's Better Coffee

Know Your Westinghouse Dealer by this Sign

Westinghouse

Westinghouse Sales & Service

The odds are 4 to 1 in Pyorrhea's favor

Don't gamble with Pyorrhea. Four persons out of every five past 40, and thousands younger, are its victims. Heed Nature's warning—bleeding gums. Brush your teeth with Forhan's to keep the gums firm, the teeth white and the mouth healthy. Pleasing to the taste.

More than a tooth paste—it checks Pyorrhea 35c and 60c in tubes

Forhan's FOR THE GUMS

Specialist in DISEASES OF THE MOUTH

McKellar BACKS FORD SHOALS BID

Washington, January 14.—The bid of the group of power companies in Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama and Tennessee for the government nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals should not be accepted, Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, declared today in the senate.

There are many reasons for my opinion, he said, "but there is an all-controlling one and the others need not be considered. It is a well-understood fact that 70 per cent of the stock of the Alabama Power company, the principal bidder, is owned by British stock and bondholders. For the United States government to lease and turn over this plant, which was built by the United States, to a corporation whose principal stockholders are subjects of its leading commercial rival, would be a little short of attempted national suicide. That it will not be done is a foregone conclusion.

"Muscle Shoals, under Henry Ford's ownership, will probably develop more horsepower than the nine companies joining in the combination bid. It is perfectly apparent, however, that the Alabama Power company will be the chief beneficiary of the bid and the controlling force if the bid is accepted.

"Mr. Ford is the logical man to have this plant. I am now, as I have always been since the matter first came up, in favor of leasing it to him.

"We must guard sacredly our supply of war-time nitrates. We cannot do this by having them in the keeping of any alien-controlled company, however friendly such alien company may be to us at the time."

Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, declared every argument put forward by Senator McKellar could be raised with equal force against the bid from Henry Ford.

"We have no assurance," Senator Norris said, "that the corporation to be set up by Mr. Ford would not be within control of foreigners. If his bid included a provision that the government could re-purchase the property on the basis of its investment value at any time, it would be different."

To the suggestion of Senator H. H. Bland, democrat, Alabama, that prohibition of foreign control be included in the acceptance of the Ford offer, Senator Norris replied that it would be "just as simple" to include it in an acceptance of the combination proposal.

ITALO-SLAV PACT LOOMS ON FUME

Rome, January 14.—A formal military alliance between Italy and Jugoslavia is to follow the agreement between the two nations on the status of Fiume, according to diplomats here.

It is understood the alliance will be similar to that existing between France and Czechoslovakia. Official announcement of the alliance will be made within a few weeks, it is said.

The first of the six clauses in the treaty, according to well-informed persons, states that both nations, having a mutual conviction that it is necessary to maintain peace, join in a defensive alliance that is not inspired by hostility toward other powers.

After the signing of the treaty a meeting will take place between King Victor Emmanuel of Italy and King Alexander of Jugoslavia. This meeting probably will be held at Venice or Trieste.

Such an alliance would give Italy the same relation toward the little entente as is held by France. While France is allied with Czechoslovakia, Italy would be allied with Jugoslavia. "Thus the danger of a dominant French influence in the affairs of the little entente would be removed."

Italy would furthermore end her long quarrel with the Jugoslavs, and strengthen her Mediterranean position. She is now allied with Spain, and a union with Jugoslavia would stretch the line of Italy's allies from the Atlantic to the frontiers of Bulgaria.

Nina Putnam Off For Florida Home With Woman Aide

New York, January 14.—Bidding farewell to two villages, New York City and Madison, Conn., where gossip spreads with the same rapidity, Nina Wilcox Putnam has left for Florida—accompanied this time by a woman business representative.

Left behind somewhere in New York is Elsworth Bassett, former business representative of the noted woman novelist, whose employment brought on a series of domestic complications that gave New York a whole week of front-page reading, while Madison, Conn., buzzed over the refusal of Mrs. Bassett to "make up" with Ellsworth.

Miss Putnam's new representative is Mrs. Francis Watson, described as competent and business-like. The two women left Monday night for Delray, Fla., where Miss Putnam, still weak from the collapse that followed her domestic woes, will rest until she recuperates. Mrs. Watson assumed charge of Miss Putnam's affairs on Sunday.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN BERTH ON TRAIN

Salisbury, N. C., January 14.—Mrs. Sarah Karland, 55 years old, was found dead in her berth on Southern railway train No. 33 here early today. She was enroute from New York to Arizona for her health and was accompanied by two sons and a daughter. Asthma and heart trouble were pronounced the cause of death.

The body was removed from the train here and will be sent to New York at 5:20 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Karland was a native of Russia. Her home was at Long Island City, New York.

Ask for Horlick's

The ORIGINAL Malted Milk

Safe Milk

For Infants, Invalids, Children, The Aged

Disinfectable—No Cooking, A Light Lunch, No Avoid Intoxicants—Substitutes

David Francis To Represent Missouri at Lee Unveiling

WIFE OF GENERAL LEE'S SON WILL BE PRESENT

David R. Francis, of St. Louis, will represent Missouri at the unveiling of the head of Robert E. Lee on the precipice of Stone Mountain next Saturday afternoon.

Governor Hyde has appointed Mr. Francis to represent him on this occasion, because of official duties which will detain him at Jefferson City.

Mr. Francis is a former governor of Missouri, a former mayor of St. Louis, and one of the leading democrats of the middle west. He was elected to the United States senate as ambassador to Russia during the Wilson administration.

Another notable visitor who will attend the unveiling is Mrs. Robert E. Lee, of New York, the wife of General Lee's son. Her acceptance of the invitation was received Monday.

With her will come her daughter, Miss Lee, who will represent Governor Pat M. Neff, who is prevented from attending by official duties. He will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Robert, Jr.

Mr. Francis will be accompanied to the unveiling by Mrs. Brandon, and they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft. With them will come Mrs. S. S. McDowell, lieutenant-governor of Alabama, and Mrs. McDowell, who will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Alston, also, General Ashcraft, of Georgia, and General Hartley A. Moon, of Alabama, who will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Robinson.

General "Fighting" Virginia, will bring his chief of staff, Colonel William M. Smith, who with the governor will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hollins N. Randolph.

Governor Hardee Coming

Governor Carey A. Hardee of Florida, will be accompanied by Mrs. Hardee and his chief of staff, General Clifford B. Smith, to the unveiling of the head of General Lee. General Hardee is a former governor of North Carolina, and will accompany Governor Cameron Morrison of that state, and with the governor will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Willis.

Edward G. Lowry, prominent journalist and a former Alabama, will represent the Philadelphia Public Ledger and Enquirer. Mr. F. Paxton will entertain him.

Dr. Hugh H. Young, of Johns Hopkins, distinguished surgeon, will be entertained by Dr. and Mrs. F. Thimney Calhoun.

Dawes Jolts Europe Awake In Outlining Survey Plans

American Energy To Put Whip and Spur to Probe of German Resources.

Paris, January 14.—Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, U. S. A., chairman of the first committee of experts appointed by the reparations commission to consider the resources and capacity of Germany looking to a solution of the reparations problem, delivered a straight-forward, hard-hitting speech at the opening of that body today.

He declared he could speak neither for the government of the United States, nor for the American people, but as an individual. After reviewing the situation from the standpoint of an American business man, he made an earnest plea for common sense and practical cooperation among the nations, so that Germany's productivity could be restored to her that she might meet her obligations.

With characteristic forcefulness General Dawes denounced "the incessant misrepresentations and intolerable interjections of those foul and carion-loving vultures—the nationalistic demagogues of all countries—who would exploit their pitiful personalities out of a common misfortune."

First Give Cure.

The American plan, as briefly outlined by the chairman, consists of stabilization of German currency and balancing the German budget and, he declared: "As the economic progress of Germany under a stable currency and with a balanced budget are reviewed there will be demonstrated the capacity of Germany to pay. Let us first help Germany to get well."

A member of the British delegation of the reparations commission, commenting on the opening of the conference, said: "The experts got off to a breezy start." This expresses the general sentiment in reparations and diplomatic circles on the beginning of the work of the experts.

General Dawes' "legendary energy," as M. Barthou put it, seemed to send a draft of fresh air throughout the reparations headquarters, which never appeared to shelter so much activity since the commission was organized.

Dawes Scars Them.

"Can he keep them up to it?" was a question repeatedly asked around the buildings, when it became known that General Dawes would propose that his colleagues work night and day until they got somewhere with the inquiry. Other members of the delegations are heartily with General Dawes in the desire to make as short work as possible of their task, but some of them are rather frightened at the idea of three sessions daily. The general has conceded a point by agreeing that the night meetings should be merely informal personal exchanges of views between the members.

The impression made by General Dawes' speech was in every way favorable, inside and outside of reparations circles, excepting in extreme nationalist quarters, where his reference to "nationalistic demagogues" caused some slight emotion.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN BERTH ON TRAIN

Salisbury, N. C., January 14.—Mrs. Sarah Karland, 55 years old, was found dead in her berth on Southern railway train No. 33 here early today. She was enroute from New York to Arizona for her health and was accompanied by two sons and a daughter. Asthma and heart trouble were pronounced the cause of death.

The body was removed from the train here and will be sent to New York at 5:20 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Karland was a native of Russia. Her home was at Long Island City, New York.

Ask for Horlick's

The ORIGINAL Malted Milk

Safe Milk

For Infants, Invalids, Children, The Aged

Disinfectable—No Cooking, A Light Lunch, No Avoid Intoxicants—Substitutes

HUERTA BLOCKADE CLOSES TAMPICO

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, January 14.—(Radio to Port Arthur, Texas.)—Adolfo de la Huerta, leader of the revolutionary movement in Mexico, in a decree published today, ordered the blockade of Tampico, effective January 16. The blockade will be undertaken by the squadron of the "revolutionary liberators" which has sufficient vessels to enforce it," the decree says.

The text of the decree follows: "Article first: The de facto government of the Mexican United States hereby declares the port of Tampico to be blockaded.

"Article second: This blockade starts on January 16 and will be undertaken by the squadron of the revolutionary liberators which has sufficient vessels to enforce it.

"Article third: All merchant vessels desiring to take refuge in the port of Tampico are given three days grace to do so and all vessels desiring to leave said port are hereby given six days grace, the time to be counted from the date upon which the blockade begins. After this time all vessels that wish to either enter Tampico or report there will be considered as enemy vessels."

BRITISH CRUISER IN MEXICAN WATERS

New Orleans, January 14.—A British cruiser has arrived at Puerto Mexico, south of Vera Cruz, to protect British interests, according to E. S. Reynolds, one of 12 Americans who arrived here today from Puerto Mexico, Mexico, is held by the revolutionists.

Reynolds said that the cruiser arrived shortly before the departure of the Yumuri and that a British merchantman also put into port with a cargo of "agricultural implements" which were believed to be war materials for the rebels.

ELIHU ROOT IS EASY AFTER KNIFE

New York, January 14.—Elihu Root, former secretary of state, who today underwent an operation for removal of a kidney stone, was reported to be resting comfortably tonight and his doctors said he would be able to leave the hospital in three or four weeks.

The physicians said the operation was performed to correct an old ailment. Mr. Root will be 79 years old next month.

about unity he would earn the everlasting gratitude of the French.

It is understood that the committee hopes by holding three sessions daily to reach a point where it can leave for Berlin Saturday.

After a three-and-a-half-hour session this morning the committee adjourned until tomorrow at 10 o'clock. The committee adopted a resolution providing that the records of the proceedings be kept strictly confidential. The secretary alone is authorized to give out statements, when approved by the members. The experts, however, have been pledged to give no interviews.

Georgia Men Help Raise $48,000 for Dry War Chest

BY DR. ELAM F. DEMPSEY.

Washington, January 14.—This, the first day of the jubilee convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America in session here, has already been pronounced to be the greatest for attendance and for local financial support in the history of the league. There are over 100 delegates, for example, from New Jersey, who at the call of their superintendent, Dr. James K. Shields, will dine together at noon tomorrow. This is typical of the large number of delegates from such states as Minnesota, Ohio, New York, Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania. It is notable that these large delegations are from states in which the opposition is most active against the eighteenth amendment.

A total of above $48,000 was subscribed at various services in the churches of the national capital yesterday, some leading items of which are as follows: Over $10,000 was subscribed at a mass meeting at Calvary Baptist church, under the eloquent appeals of Colonel Dan Morgan Smith, commander of the "battalion of death" in the late world war; $3,000 in response to appeals of Dr. George Stuart, of the same church during the morning service, and $4,000 in response to the appeal of Wayne Wheeler, attorney of the league at the Foundry Methodist Episcopal church in the morning service.

WORLD SOBER, McDOWELL

Washington, January 14.—Dry leaders of the nation, gathered here for the thirteenth annual convention of the Anti-Saloon League to take stock of prohibition conditions, heard addresses today from churchmen, members of congress and league officials on all phases of the question.

Bishop William F. McDowell, of the Methodist Episcopal church, sounding a slogan of world-wide prohibition, told the convention the nations of the world cannot "live together half drunk and half sober."

"If the rest of the world will not keep out of the United States," Bishop McDowell said, "the rest of the world has got to be made sober by the United States."

WOMAN IN PARLIAMENT MAY AVERT BIG STRIKE

London, January 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The crisis which has arisen through the threatened strike of the locomotive engineers and firemen just as the labor movement from end to end.

A meeting of the central council of the trades union congress, called today to consider the situation, and appointed an emergency committee to act when it is considered desirable.

The public gleaned some hope from the fact that Margaret Bondfield, newly elected member of parliament, is presiding over the general council. She wields great influence in labor circles and hitherto has always taken the side of moderation and reason. It was she who a few months ago gave the lead which resulted in settlement of the protracted boiler-makers' strike after the resources of male mediators were exhausted.

Kibler & Long

Make a Business of Low Prices

---not a "special event"

IT'S an established Kibler & Long policy made possible by our 33-store buying power; low selling costs; and large volume—small profit merchandising method.

We do not believe in high prices most of the time to make reduced prices possible part of the time.

You can select your suit or overcoat at Kibler & Long's now — during the season-end sale period — with the utmost assurance that the price you pay is lower than the same quality will cost you elsewhere.

Kibler & Long Suits and Overcoats

for satisfaction and good value

$18 to $25 $30 to $45

AT DECATUR STREET STORE AT PEACHTREE STREET STORE

Kibler & Long

Clothes

"MOST FOR YOUR MONEY"

5 Decatur St.—Two Stores—70 Peachtree St.

Hamilton Chosen Vice-President Of Rail Trainmen

Cleveland, Ohio, January 14.—The board of directors of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen meeting here today, elected Walter V. Hamilton, of Knoxville, Tenn., a vice president to succeed M. J. Murphy, resigned. Mr. Hamilton has been general chairman of the trainmen on the Southern railway for 20 years.

The board of trustees and the insurance board of the brotherhood also were in session here today.

A gain of 9,000 members was made in 1927, bringing the total membership of the organization to 180,000.

President W. G. Lee announced.

TENDER TALES MEN DELAY SELECTION OF MURDER JURY

Paducah, Ky., January 14.—Selection of a jury to try Mrs. Emma Skillian, of Paducah, on charges of accessory to murder growing out of the dynamiting of the home of Mrs. Rosetta Warren here in May, 1923, which resulted in the death of Mrs. Warren and her unborn child, began at noon today. Little progress was made, however, on account of prospective jurors stating they would hesitate to give the death penalty to a woman.

Mrs. Henrietta Wagner, charged with setting of the explosive charge that brought death to Mrs. Warren, is serving a life term for the crime following conviction last fall.

Mrs. Skillian, who has been held in jail practically the entire time since the dynamiting, appeared in court dressed in black.

The Little Acorn And The Great Oak.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow."

That's the policy which the tremendous scope of The Atlanta Constitution's Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance appeal is based, for no matter how small claim is filed, it always gets prompt attention and immediate action.

Many instances of big claims and big payments have been furnished readers of this little daily feature, and a day or so ago a case was cited where a policyholder received payment of $10 for being incapacitated for one week as the result of a street car wreck.

Now listen to this case: E. B. Harmon, of 52 North avenue, Hapeville, Ga., was injured in an automobile accident on December 26 at the corner of Madison avenue and Mitchell street, Atlanta. He was struck by an automobile while crossing this busy intersection, and was disabled for less than one week. Informed of this fact, The Constitution in less than a week issued him payment of $7.50 under the terms of his Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance policy.

Mr. Harmon paid only $1 for this policy, agreeing at the same time to take The Daily and Sunday Constitution for one year. He found the protection it afforded efficient and prompt to a fault, and his case is cited to show that no claim is too small to receive prompt and courteous attention from The Constitution.

You get this same insurance and this same protection—backed by The Constitution's reputation of over a half century of unquestioned business integrity.

A $1,000 policy for only $1 when accompanied by a year's subscription to The Daily and Sunday Constitution.

Act now.

NEGRO ACQUITTED OF CHEST THEFT ON THIRSTY PLEA

Wilmington, Del., January 14.—J. Wiggins, a young negro indicted for larceny of a tin chest from Isaac Boyle's friend, in court today put forward a novel defense to gain freedom.

He said he gave Boyle $2 with which to buy a gallon of liquor. Boyle bought the liquor, and after treating his friends, locked up the remainder, about a quart, in his tool-chest.

Wiggins contended that the only way by which he could get any of his liquor was to take the chest also. The jury acquitted him.

TECH SENDS FIRST MESSAGE BY RADIO

Continued from First Page.

This radio outfit was presented to us several weeks ago. From its former position at the top of The Constitution building WGM was heard all over the land. With the aid of the Georgia Tech, and a suitable studio and connections have been built. United States Representative Van Nostrand, Jr., has changed the radio call from WGM to the letters WBBF in the license.

"Necessary apparatus and a system of signals have been provided and everything arranged to make this a splendid addition to the electrical department and the general curriculum of Georgia Tech's technical college."

Equipment Given Tech.

"Of course, the main value of this splendid radio outfit lies in the fact that it will enable us to give the best radio training possible through this addition to our electrical engineering equipment. The gift is easily worth several thousand dollars to the school, and is another instance of the debt of gratitude due by this state to the men and firms who have done so much for Georgia Tech."

"Altogether since the foundation, we have had installed machinery of various kinds to the value of more than $500,000 and have had to buy less than one-tenth of this amount. During the last few years we have received nearly as much annually in this way as the state has given this school for maintenance."

Dr. Brittain declared that actual statistics compiled by the government show that Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia receive smaller amounts from the state treasury than any other similar institutions, north or south.

He called attention to the recent subscription of $1,500,000 by the alumni and friends of Tech to furnish necessary new buildings.

Selected members from Tech's great band, under the direction of Randleman Frank Roman, will provide programs of specially selected airs every Monday night under present plans at the school.

WOMAN IS SHOT BY RUM CAR PURSUER

Continued from First Page.

Monday night that the board would make a thorough investigation of the affair. Mr. Johnson stated that while he regretted the accident extremely, he could express no opinion until his investigation had been completed. He declared the person who posed to promiscuously discharging of firearms by policemen, but could not render judgment in this case until the board has been furnished with all facts in the case.

One bullet effected both wounds. It is believed, first entering the right leg and passing through to the left. Mrs. Cowan's condition is not considered serious.

The liquor car escaped. Chief Mathieson stated, after a chase of several miles.

AN OBLIGING BEAUTY DOCTOR

A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1-4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and will not rub off." (adv.)

Girl Dies of Crash Injuries

MISS PAULINE SELMAN.

Funeral services for Miss Pauline Selman, 18, of Douglasville, who died Sunday following an automobile crash Saturday afternoon near Boston, Ga., in which she and four other girls were injured, will be held from the home at 2:30 o'clock today. Rev. George W. Light will officiate. She is a former Shorter college student and was a niece of J. T. Selman, Atlanta druggist.

CLUB FOR M'ADOO FORMED IN COBB

Marietta, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)—The Cobb County William G. McAdoo club was organized here today with election of Judge Newt Morris as president and Gordon B. Gann, mayor of Marietta, as secretary, and plans launched to bring the presidential candidate here for an address.

Resolutions provided that the president and secretary appoint one vice president from each of the 18 militia districts of the county, and an advisory committee of 30 members, two from each militia district, one-half of this committee to be composed of women. These appointments will be made at an early date.

The resolution for the organization of the Cobb County McAdoo club was put in circulation last Friday morning and in a few hours' work more than 800 Marietta and Cobb county citizens had signed. These resolutions are still in circulation, and it is believed that by the latter part of this week, more than 2,000 members will have joined the club.

In this resolution, a request was made for W. G. McAdoo to visit Marietta at an early date and deliver an address. Mr. McAdoo was born in an old colonial home on the Powder Springs road, four miles from Marietta. This house was directly on the line of Sherman's march to the sea and cannon-ball and minnie-ball marks on this building are plainly visible today.

Judge Morris, as president of the club, was instructed to immediately write Mr. McAdoo, calling his attention to the organization and to invite him to deliver an address here at his earliest convenience. This letter has been forwarded.

If he accepts it is certain that the largest crowd ever assembled in Marietta will greet him. It is being openly advocated, without a dissenting voice, that public schools turn out in a body, the stores and business houses close, and that a delegation represent every civic and labor organization, the mayor and council, the chamber of commerce, with a brass band and at least 200 automobiles meet Mr. McAdoo at his party at Smyrna, five miles below Marietta, and escort him into the city.

Judge Morris stated that he had been advised by some of Mr. McAdoo's close political friends that he would probably accept the invitation and deliver an address here during February.

CASES TURNED DOWN BY SUPREME COURT

Washington, January 14.—The supreme court refused today to consider cases which presented the following questions:

Whether a person who insures for his own benefit the life of a debtor is entitled to retain the full amount of the insurance, or must pay to the creditor's estate the balance after deducting insurance costs and the debt of the deceased, as raised in a case brought from Texas by the administrator of Kit Cawthon against Fred W. Febr.

Whether railroads may be sued in a county other than where its tracks are located, as raised in a case brought from Nebraska by the Atchison company against J. Fred Drayton.

SLAYER IS NABBED AFTER GUN BATTLE

Nowata, Okla., January 14.—Frank Brumley, alleged slayer of Paul McCarthy, Oklahoma City attorney, was captured today at a farm house near here by a party of officers who besieged the dwelling for more than an hour. A lively gun fight in which more than 100 shots were fired preceded the surrender of Brumley and two men and two women who were in the house with him.

UNWRITTEN LAW FREES NEGRO IN MURDER CASE

John Jenkins, a negro charged with the murder of Lockhart Williams, another negro, Monday afternoon was acquitted in Judge John D. Humphries' division of Fulton superior court. Jenkins pleaded the unwritten law. His attorney was Joe Ewing. The slaying occurred on Gilmer street last May.

ATLANTA BARBERS HOLD CELEBRATION ON ANNIVERSARY

The 25th anniversary of the International Union of Journeymen Barbers, Atlanta Local No. 22, was held last night in the Labor Temple. An elaborate program of music and other features was given, after which officers of the coming year were installed by James A. Miller, prominent attorney, who for several years was a member of the barbers' union.

Among the speakers was Judge L. F. McClelland, who delivered a brief address in a humorous vein. The quartet of the Georgia Railway and Power company was given a hearty reception, being called back a number of times. G. B. Adair, black-faced comedian, also made a hit. Hawaiian music by Miss Grace Dodson was a popular number, as was the playing and singing of Mrs. Maddox and Mrs. Owensby. A splendid orchestra rendered many popular selections.

At the close of the program refreshments were served. The following officers were installed: President, C. T. Joiner; vice president, W. D. Langley; secretary-treasurer, C. B. Keesling; recording secretary, R. E. Rollins; guide, T. J. Boggs. The committee on arrangements was made up of the following: C. B. Keesling, chairman; J. A. Doster, secretary; J. B. Wallace, J. C. Wells, C. P. Swafford.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS

Sybil Bagby, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bagby, of 59 Mangum street, died at Grady hospital at 7:30 o'clock Monday night, from burns received when her clothing caught fire from an open grate a few hours earlier.

The little girl had been left for a few minutes in the living room of the home Monday afternoon, and when the mother returned she found her clothing in flames. Mrs. Bagby gathered the baby in her arms and extinguished the blaze. A Grady ambulance was summoned and the child carried to the hospital.

3-NOTCH GUNMAN CAUGHT BY COPS FOR MINOR THEFT

Chicago, January 14.—"Sonny" Dunn has three notches on his gun. For years he has been one of Chicago's "bad" men. Safes and other high class robberies were his meat; he wouldn't tackle a small job. And his technique was so good that admiration for "Sonny's" cunning spread

RICH, RED BLOOD AND GOOD HEALTH

THIS is the time of year when you need vitality—rich, red blood—bodily strength, firm flesh, good digestion and abundant energy. If you haven't got them—if you are weak, thin, pale and run down, you can't begin to take Gude's Pepto-Mangan too quickly. It contains the iron your blood needs, in just the form most easily assimilated. It contains the pure, strengthening tonic elements which build up your vital powers. Get Gude's from your druggist—either liquid or tablets.

Free Tablets To see for yourself the health-building value of Gude's Pepto-Mangan, send for free Package, M. J. Breitenbach Co., 53 Warren St., N. Y.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan
Tonic and Blood Enricher

DR. GRIFFIN Slashes Dental Prices

Special January Reductions Offer Big Savings! Now Is the Time to Have Dental Work Done

SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY COME NOW!

Take Advantage of these LOW PRICES

Teeth Polished . . . . .	$1
Gold Crowns . . . . .	$4
Set of Teeth . . . . .	$7
Amalgam or Silv. Fillings	$1
Teeth Extracted . . . . .	$1
Bridge Work, per Tooth . .	$4
White Crowns . . . . .	$4
Cement Fillings . . . . .	$1

DR. E. G. GRIFFIN Personally, in charge

32 years' experience and big volume of business enables me to offer these big January Reductions

No long waits—work finished without delay

Dr. E. G. Griffin's
GATE CITY DENTAL ROOMS
63½ Whitehall St.
Lady Attendant

All other work at proportionately low prices

Special Announcement!

The fire in our plant yesterday has in no way affected our complete service.

Business as usual.

Wrigley Engraving Co.

Artists Photo-Engravers Electrotypers
Rhodes Building WAlnut 2091-2091

We Offer a Test Tube Free

In Ten Days

The results will amaze you, if you fight the film on teeth

Millions of people have found new beauty, new protection, new delights, through this test we offer you.

It is time you knew these benefits if you don't know them now. They are results you need and want. Let this test prove them to you.

Film and offense

Film on teeth is unclear. It mars beauty. At first that film is viscous. You can feel it now. With ordinary brushing, much of it clings and stays. Soon it discolors and forms dingy coats.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Few people escape these film-caused troubles unless they fight that film.

Dental science, after long research, has found two film combatants. One disintegrates the film,

Protect the Enamel

Pepsodent disintegrates the film, then removes it with an agent far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

Also fruit effects

Pepsodent also incorporates other principles, learned from the value of certain fruits in the diet. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, also its starch digestant. These are Nature's agents for combating acid and starch deposits. Pepsodent twice daily gives them manifold effect, just as eating fruit would do. The people who constantly eat fruit are markedly immune to tooth decay.

Watch the changes

Quick changes come when Pepsodent is used. They will surprise and delight you.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth become whiter as the film-coats disappear.

Then you will realize how much this new method means to you and yours. Cut out coupon now.

Pepsodent
The New-Day Dentifrice

Now advised by leading dentists the world over.

10-Day Tube Free
THE PEPSODENT COMPANY,
Dept. K-1104S, Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill.
Mail 10-Day Tube of Pepsodent to
Only one tube to a family.

SAY "BAYER" when you buy—Genuine

Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for

Colds Headache Neuralgia Lumbago
Pain Toothache Neuritis Rheumatism

Genuine Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocarbonylchloride of Salicylic acid

Agasco Coke

For a clean, hot fire, without smoke or dirt, there is no more satisfactory fuel than coke—if it is good coke.

Agasco Coke is made by the Atlanta Gas Light Company from high-grade coal, by scientific methods. There is no better anywhere. Well adapted to standard furnaces.

Distributed only by

THE R. O. CAMPBELL COAL CO. 5000

ALBANY FIVE MEETS J. P. CLAGGERS TONIGHT

Mooney's Fast Quint Makes First Showing Here for This Season

Young Stribling Disqualified in Genet Fight

Father of Macon Youth Attacks Referee; Stribling Leads Bout Until Halted

West Palm Beach, Fla., January 14.—In the sixth round of the bout between Young Stribling, of Macon, Ga., and Norman Genet, of Akron, Ohio, here tonight, Referee Phil Pritchard disqualified Stribling for hitting in the breaks after warning him twice to break clean, immediately afterward, "Pa" Stribling, father of the pugilist, attacked and struck the referee.

Up to the time the bout was discontinued, Stribling had the advantage of every round. He planted mid-section blows that put Genet down

LOCAL PREPS GOING GOOD

BY GORDON KEITH.

The basketball season in prep circles has gotten under way officially and in these first games the local fives have shown up surprisingly well. Tech High has just returned from a very successful trip, in which she took the measure of the Riverside cadets handily, and went a long way toward determining her future prospects in the state tournament at Macon, University after only four days practice, played a scrappy game against the Tech Freshmen Friday night at the "Y," and was only ousted out of a spectacular victory by one point margin. G. M. A. opened up against Marietta Friday afternoon and had things pretty much her own way, taking the first street five into the city street five, and out on the pleasant end of a 25-17 score.

Decatur played two games last week, opening her season with an easy win over the local fives, and then, and following it up Friday with a win over the Marietta quintet, in the first official game for either team in the rejuvenated Code League.

Pulton Wins Five.

Coach Hamilton's Pulton basket tossers have engaged some half dozen opponents and with the exception of the first battle, has turned in five wins. Taking everything into consideration, this is an encouraging start for Atlanta's young players to make, and it is surprising that the O'Rourke team to the nice beginning they have made, all the titles will remain right here in Atlanta, for it is remembered that "Boys' High" came home with the I. A. A. laurels last season, and G. M. A. walked off with the Cotton States title. This winter Tech High aspires to even greater honors than last year, and is determined to win the first season by journeying to the National Prep Tournament in Chicago.

Branch is Improved.

One needs only to view Branch at work in the gymnasium to see that he is bent upon making a vast improvement in his boxing technique. A preliminary bout that has been talked in the Irish Benny-Tex O'Rourke mill of 10-rounds. It is a surprise that the O'Rourke mill, well-known in this event and from every indication he will extend the Irish lead to the limit.

Hagen to Compete in British Open

Tampa, Fla., January 14.—Starting that he had made definite plans to participate in the British open golf tournament at Hove, Jan. 23, Walter Hagen, inner of many golfers, returned here last night to remain at Bear Creek Country Club, near St. Petersburg, until about June 1 when he will go to Detroit to participate in the national open tournament which is scheduled to begin June 5. He will sail for England about June 10.

Hagen expressed himself as highly pleased with the date set for the American open. He and Alex Smith, the only two golfers who have twice won the open championship, believe in the early date, and expect to win some excellent golf due to the fact that the courses are soft in the spring, which should eliminate much uncertainty in play.

Berlenback To Fight.

New York, January 14.—Paul Berlenback, the former Olympic wrestler, who has won 28 consecutive fights by knockouts, will enter big business Friday night when he fights Dave Montgomery in a six-round preliminary to the middleweight championship fight between Harry Greb and Johnny Wilson.

Loose to Tunny.

A few weeks ago when Tunny got a shady decision over him, Greb, who had won the title, had a hard time of it. The "Loser's Lament," in four sharp and

FIGHTERS IN WEDNESDAY'S CARD IN FINAL WORKOUTS

Two old favorites, not old in years but long on experience, will be put to a severe test Wednesday night in the Auditorium.

Both of them will go up against two rough and ready, hard as nails fighters of the old school, and if they emerge victorious it will be a bright feather in their caps.

Larry Avera fights Chick Branch. Battling Budd encounters the new and sensational Johnny McGinty, of Birmingham, who is said to be a mauler, a man of unusual class with a brilliant future staring him in the face in the glove game.

It is a coincidence that both Avera and Budd are of the Walk Miller stable, and that such is endeavoring at this time to win his way back into his good graces of fandom.

Budd Was Kayoed.

Budd on his last appearance was stopped by K. O. Jeakle, of Toledo, causing one of the biggest sensations ever recorded in local boxing annals. Budd had been moving along with all his accustomed smoothness up to the final sixth when Jeakle, crowded, a right to his chin and down went the game battler, dazed. He climbed to his feet but went down twice more before he was finally able to get up.

And now he plans to go McGinty as a stepping stone back into the hearts of his home town fans. It is not a certainty that he will, but to accomplish this feat since McGinty has a decision over him scored recently in Birmingham.

Atlanta fans will welcome the battler back, and if he is successful in his "comeback" attempt they will cheer lustily, for few more popular boxers ever shuffled through the resin than Budd.

For eight years he has been entertaining local fans with sparkling eye.

GREB IS READY FOR TITLE BOUT WITH JOHNNY WILSON

New York, January 14.—Howling Harry Greb, the human motor-bomb, so-called because he squawks louder and longer than any other boxer when defeated, will give New York the first glimpse of a fighter defending a title that the city has caught after a long indoor season began, when he clambers into the ring at the Garden, Friday night, to fight Johnny Wilson.

Harry, who has been in the ring since he was a boy, has been training in a sound-proof room so as to be able to out-squawk himself if he should lose the title. Wilson, whom he won at the Polo grounds just before the close of the open-air season.

Loose to Tunny.

A few weeks ago when Tunny got a shady decision over him, Greb, who had won the title, had a hard time of it. The "Loser's Lament," in four sharp and

Frankie Jerome's Sad Parting

Ring's Tough Break of Luck

New York, January 14.—The law of averages holds that every now and then some unfortunate kid must be killed in the fight ring. After 4,000 rounds of fighting in Madison Square Garden during the last four indoor seasons, it was time for some one to go.

So when Frankie Jerome died from a right swing to the head landed by Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, Ind., the prize fighters wagged their battered heads Monday and said it was just a tough break of the luck for Frankie, although the doctor gave it a real school name and went into technical discussions of blood-clots and skull pressure.

Siki Wins Over Battling Norfolk

Memphis, Tenn., January 14.—"Battling" Siki, the Senegalese pugilist, won a decision over Young Norfolk, New Orleans negro heavyweight, in an eight-round bout here tonight. Siki was master of the situation except in the sixth round, when Norfolk floored him with a right to the jaw. In the second round Siki attacked with a series of lefts and knocked him out. I stepped in and knocked him out. I stepped in and knocked him out. I stepped in and knocked him out.

FOR THE LATER

Stage-Fight.

The announcement that Young Stribling has been offered a contract to appear on the stage in a musical comedy recalls the fact that Benny Leonard now graces the stage at the Orpheum, in San Francisco; that Jacques Dempsey, Tom Gibbons and all the rest have had a fling at it. So why not Stribling—ask me that?

And since we hear of this business of earning jack where cabbages are easier to dodge than gloves used to be, why not make the business appropriate? Some enterprising producer might put the following shows on the road, with leading roles occupied as suggested:

"Ten Nights in a Barroom"—Battling Siki.
 "Much Ado About Nothing"—Mike McGinty.
 "Papa to Advertise"—W. L. Stribling.
 "The Day After Tomorrow"—Tiger Flowers.
 "Bought and Paid For"—With the Mayor of Shelby and cast of leading bankers.
 "The Man Who Came Back"—Johnny Dundee.
 "Fashion Row"—Jackie Carr.
 "The Light That Failed"—Georges Carpentier.
 "The Call of the Canvas"—Joe Beckett.
 "The Gold Digger"—Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns.
 "The Irish Rose"—Dave Rosenberg.
 "The Man Without a Country"—L. J. Tippe.
 "Conrad in Quest of Youth"—Jess Willard.
 "Friendly Enemies"—Max Abelson and Jim Mayson.
 That'll do, or would have some time ago—if we'd thought about it.

We haven't heard the details about the Chocolate Milk Fund, or whatever it is they usually stage such cards for in Madison Square Garden, but there should be quite a bit of action in the all-star card at the Atlanta meets Chick Branch, and Larry Avera meets Chick Branch, and we don't know which is the main bout, which ought to make it more interesting.

Unwanted Son of Alex Kels Seeks Slice of Insurance

INDIAN PRINCESS FILES SUIT FOR HER BOY

Kansas City, Mo., January 14.—A son whom Alex Kels, former wealthy butcherer, of Lodi, Calif., didn't want, Monday, through his mother, Mrs. Margaret Ruby Kels, of the latter's relatives, who she said were wealthy.

"Alex was clever. He knew of a thousand ways to make money. He had a little trouble in Fresno and we went to Merced," she began.

"It was here that I did my best to be the ideal help-mate. He had started a small butcher business. We had a good time. He didn't want to work with him, but he wanted to keep him. He was a good boy. He was a good boy. He was a good boy."

Happiness Denied.

"Day after day we worked there, right on the banks of the Merced river. But I was happy. I loved Alex and would have done anything to have helped him get started."

Armande Is Sixteen.

After refusing the assistance of a lawyer, Kels asked that he be sentenced to hang. He asked only that his wife, who was about to become a mother again, be allowed to remain with him. He was not informed of his act.

Armande Andrew Kels. The son, is 16 years old. He was reared and educated in Fresno, Calif.

Sensational Data Given On Youthful Delinquency

Indianapolis, Ind., January 14.—(By the Associated Press).—Starting figures of youthful delinquency, showing that most major crimes are committed by boys between the ages of 17 and 21, were presented, and Police Commissioner Enright's alleged bludgeoning of a boy, who challenged today at a meeting called by the Indiana Sunday School Council of Religious Education.

Hoppe To Defend Title Next Week

New York, January 14.—Willie Hoppe will defend his title of world's champion 182 lb. walk line billiard player against Jack Schaefer, the only man ever to wrest the crown from him, in Chicago January 21, 22 and 23 under the provisions of the world championship tournament, which provides that the players finishing second, third and fourth may challenge the winner.

Favor McMillin As Centre Coach

Danville, Ky., January 14.—Dr. C. E. Allen, chairman of the athletic board of control of Centre college, and three other members of the board, today reported to be in favor of McMillin as head football coach to "Bo" McMillin, former Centre gridiron star, and for the past two years coach at Centre college. The board met Tuesday night, during which meeting it is thought Charles Moran's successor will be named.

BACK AT TECH

Dick Fair's

Dick Fair reported for basketball practice yesterday at Tech. Dick, it will be remembered, sustained a severe knee towards the last of the football season. He was playing a mighty good guard, and probably would have made his letter had it not been for this unfortunate accident.

When the football season was over, Dick reported for basketball practice. He was eager to get on the trail of a much-coveted letter. But, old man Dix was camping too close by, and on the very first day of basketball practice the old knee gave way under the strain, and Dick was laid up again.

But time has performed nobly, and Dick declared yesterday that his knee never felt better. So he put on his uniform and went out with the boys. Dick has quite a record behind him in basketball, and may be an important factor in the team's play before the season ends.

Dick started his career at G. M. A. He played out there one year, and the next year was declared all prep center. He made three letters at G. M. A. in basketball before coming to Tech. He played on the freshman team last year, and was Tech's leading scorer. He can hit his stride this year he will be a big help to the team. At any rate, he will be in fine fettle for next year.

Fred and Skinny.

It is mighty good to see Fred Moore and Skinny DeLuca back in the swing again. The boys have taken a new lease on life since their comrades joined them. Now, if Cliff King and the rest of the squad get the cup of joy will be full and running over.

The boys brought back from Greenville a story of wonderful opportunity and neglect. It seems that Tech played real basketball in the first half, and accumulated quite a comfortable score. And then they decided to let the boys slunk into a state of coma until Fu-man had won the game.

In the second half, Furman shot 10 points before Tech was able to play the game again. Tech managed to crawl up to within 2 points of Furman, but her energies were spent, and the Furman Hurricane was credited with a victory which they most assuredly deserved.

The freshmen have a nice club this year. The showing against the Blue birds means anything. Of course their performance Friday night was not polished to perfection, but better, they showed a complete lack of fundamentals of basketball. Polish will come with experience; experience will come as the season rolls on.

Senators Play Braves Here

Washington, January 14.—Eighteen games comprise the schedule of spring exhibition games for the Washington American league team today. The first game is between the Senators and the Braves.

March 14—Washington vs. Brooklyn (N. L.), at Clearwater, Fla.
 March 15—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 16—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.), at St. Petersburg, Fla.
 March 17—Washington vs. New York (N. L.), at St. Petersburg, Fla.
 March 18—Washington vs. Milwaukee (A. A.), at Palmetto, Fla.
 March 19—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 20—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 21—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 22—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 23—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 24—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 25—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 26—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 27—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 28—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 29—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.
 March 30—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.), at Tampa, Fla.

Murchinson Is Fully Recovered

BY WALTER CAMP.

New York, January 14.—Those who saw Loren Murchinson, the metropolitan 70-year-old indoors Saturday night are convinced that his recent automobile accident has not the least detracted from his speed.

Report Is Watched.

It will be interesting to read the report from the pleasant winter jaunt of Howard Whitney and a score or more of men en route to Jekyll Island, the millionaire's winter club, to test golf balls. But there are other tests which might be more enlightening on the advisability of shortening the distance a golf ball will fly. A simple one would be to put on sale at any club two kinds of ball, one the present ball and the other guaranteed to fly less—and keep a record of the sales.

ATTRACTIVE FIGHTS SLATED AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., January 14.—Followers of boxing are promised three attractive shows during the coming month, the first to bring to the city a new attraction, the second to bring to the city a new attraction, the third to bring to the city a new attraction.

Rice Named Coach.

Philadelphia, Pa., January 14.—Announcement was made today that James Rice, former coach of the Columbia university crews, has been named as assistant coach for the University of Pennsylvania, succeeding Edward Marab, who held that position last year.

BY PAUL WARWICK

A thoroughgoing view of what is more than probably the best basketball outfit in these southern states will be open to a limited number, unfortunately, Atlanta tonight when the Albany "Y" arrives to strut its championship attributes in a struggle with the Jewish Progressive club at the B'nai B'rith gymnasium on Capitol avenue.

Naturally enough, Albany, with its long list of victories, this season and last, will be favored for an easy win over the J. P. C., but not to such an extent that those who visit the scene will go there in anticipation of seeing the south Georgia lads go through the unopposed motions of a walk-away.

In Finkelstein and Turner, in fact, the Capital avenue quintet possesses a pair fit to grace any line-up and with the roaming defensive work of Turner and the unerring accuracy of Finkelstein, Albany will have its five-ply hands full to the nail-tops in piling up points on the floor of a national tourney until he is reasonably confident, at least, of bringing the country-wide title back to this neck of the woods. Which is a decent way of looking at it. "Nope, we'll go on until we're sure of winning. We'll take a little jaunt and bring back the well-known bacon."

TRAINING TRIPS SPLIT EVEN ON WORK AND PLAY

BY HANS WAGNER.

Spring training always has been to me a sort of lark, and I think it is to most of the regulars who know how to prepare themselves and have no particular worry about their jobs. During the off hours they can sit back and have all the laughs.

For some men, though, spring training is very hard work. When the day is over they are quite ready to crawl in bed and sleep. There are some men, however, who are not. They are the ones who are not. They are the ones who are not.

Those Nets.

Every ball club in the world, I suppose, works the old gag of making the youngsters sleep with their arms in the little hammocks so as to keep from falling out of their beds, and also to prevent their stretching out. Claude Ritchey once made a left-hander move so as to get on the side which had left-handed hammocks.

One of the old tricks about his was always amusing was to put coupling pins and sometimes big stones in a new ball players grip while it was on the machine. The old trick was known to carry that weight around for several hundred miles before getting on to what was the matter with the grip. Even to the young newspaper men—the first trippers, as we called them.

Old Harry Vaughan, the catcher, once distributed three or four loaded cigars around the clubhouse. The next day one of the newspaper men had one of these cigars sticking in his vest pocket, innocently, too, he went around the clubhouse and stole the cigar out of his pocket.

In a few minutes the gang heard a faint sputtering sound, and the sound of a sputtering and spitting. Old Harry had fired and ashes all over him. He had lit the cigar, and he had lit the cigar.

Tomorrow: What to Look for in a Game.

Indoor Meet Is Slated Wednesday

New York, January 14.—Star sprinters, short distance men and the greatest of middle-distance runners, Joe Ray, will witness their ankles in the first of the big indoor athletic meets in New York, Wednesday night. Ray is to run against Jimmy Connolly and George Marsters, the Georgetown miles, and several others, in a special handicap race of 1,500 meters.

Loren Murchinson, the sprinting son of A. C. America's best sprinter for the time being, now that Charlie Paddock is out of competition for various reasons, will run in the meller sprints of 50, 60 and 70 yards. Boots Lever, formerly of Penn; Jack Scholz, former Missouri Valley sprint champion, and Bernie Weber, Jr., the sprinting son of a sprinting pair will oppose him.

Alan Helfrich, Jake Driscoll, Mike Devaney and Sid Leslie are entered in the 600 yard scratch race.

Only 115,005 children were born in Scotland in 1922. Fifteen women more than 100 years old, died in the same year.

Piles Cured WITHOUT SURGERY

BY PAUL WARWICK

A thoroughgoing view of what is more than probably the best basketball outfit in these southern states will be open to a limited number, unfortunately, Atlanta tonight when the Albany "Y" arrives to strut its championship attributes in a struggle with the Jewish Progressive club at the B'nai B'rith gymnasium on Capitol avenue.

Naturally enough, Albany, with its long list of victories, this season and last, will be favored for an easy win over the J. P. C., but not to such an extent that those who visit the scene will go there in anticipation of seeing the south Georgia lads go through the unopposed motions of a walk-away.

In Finkelstein and Turner, in fact, the Capital avenue quintet possesses a pair fit to grace any line-up and with the roaming defensive work of Turner and the unerring accuracy of Finkelstein, Albany will have its five-ply hands full to the nail-tops in piling up points on the floor of a national tourney until he is reasonably confident, at least, of bringing the country-wide title back to this neck of the woods. Which is a decent way of looking at it. "Nope, we'll go on until we're sure of winning. We'll take a little jaunt and bring back the well-known bacon."

TRAINING TRIPS SPLIT EVEN ON WORK AND PLAY

BY HANS WAGNER.

Spring training always has been to me a sort of lark, and I think it is to most of the regulars who know how to prepare themselves and have no particular worry about their jobs. During the off hours they can sit back and have all the laughs.

For some men, though, spring training is very hard work. When the day is over they are quite ready to crawl in bed and sleep. There are some men, however, who are not. They are the ones who are not.

Those Nets.

Every ball club in the world, I suppose, works the old gag of making the youngsters sleep with their arms in the little hammocks so as to keep from falling out of their beds, and also to prevent their stretching out. Claude Ritchey once made a left-hander move so as to get on the side which had left-handed hammocks.

One of the old tricks about his was always amusing was to put coupling pins and sometimes big stones in a new ball players grip while it was on the machine. The old trick was known to carry that weight around for several hundred miles before getting on to what was the matter with the grip. Even to the young newspaper men—the first trippers, as we called them.

Old Harry Vaughan, the catcher, once distributed three or four loaded cigars around the clubhouse. The next day one of the newspaper men had one of these cigars sticking in his vest pocket, innocently, too, he went around the clubhouse and stole the cigar out of his pocket.

In a few minutes the gang heard a faint sputtering sound, and the sound of a sputtering and spitting. Old Harry had fired and ashes all over him. He had lit the cigar, and he had lit the cigar.

Tomorrow: What to Look for in a Game.

Indoor Meet Is Slated Wednesday

New York, January 14.—Star sprinters, short distance men and the greatest of middle-distance runners, Joe Ray, will witness their ankles in the first of the big indoor athletic meets in New York, Wednesday night. Ray is to run against Jimmy Connolly and George Marsters, the Georgetown miles, and several others, in a special handicap race of 1,500 meters.

Loren Murchinson, the sprinting son of A. C. America's best sprinter for the time being, now that Charlie Paddock is out of competition for various reasons, will run in the meller sprints of 50, 60 and 70 yards. Boots Lever, formerly of Penn; Jack Scholz, former Missouri Valley sprint champion, and Bernie Weber, Jr., the sprinting son of a sprinting pair will oppose him.

Alan Helfrich, Jake Driscoll, Mike Devaney and Sid Leslie are entered in the 600 yard scratch race.

Only 115,005 children were born in Scotland in 1922. Fifteen women more than 100 years old, died in the same year.

Piles Cured WITHOUT SURGERY

ALBANY FIVE MEETS J. P. C. CAGEYTONIGHT

Mooney's Fast Quint Makes First Showing Here for This Season

Young Stribling Disqualified in Genet Fight

Father of Macon Youth Attacks Referee; Stribling Leads Bout Until Halted

West Palm Beach, Fla., January 14.—In the sixth round of the bout between Young Stribling, of Macon, Ga., and Norman Genet, of Akron, Ohio, here tonight, Referee Phil Pritchard disqualified Stribling for hitting in the breaks after warning him twice to break clean. Immediately afterward, "Pa" Stribling, father of the pugilist, attacked and struck the referee.

Up to the time the bout was discontinued, Stribling had the advantage of every round. He planted mid-section blows that put Genet down in the third, in the fourth for the count of seven, and again in the fifth for the count of five. Genet claimed a foul on the last two knockdowns, which he disallowed. The referee, Stribling was warned for hitting in the breaks in the third round. Again in the sixth he was given the same warning. Just before the bell in the sixth, Stribling hit his opponent after the command to break was given, and Pritchard ordered the men to their corners.

Only one blow was struck in the "Pa" Stribling-Pritchard fracas, several persons intervening.

FIGHTERS ON WEDNESDAY'S CARD IN FINAL WORKOUTS

Two old favorites, not old in years but long on experience, will be pitted in a severe test Wednesday night in the Auditorium.

Both of them will go up against two rough and ready, hard as nails fighters of the old school and in the event of a victorious it will be a bright feather in their caps.

Larry Averis fights Chick Branch, Battling Burdette, and the new and sensational Johnny McGinty, of Birmingham, who is said to be a mauler, a man of unusual class with a brilliant future, entering him in the race in the glove game.

It is a coincidence that both Averis and Burdette are of the Walk Miller stable, and that each is endeavoring at this time to win his way back into his good graces of fandom.

Budd was kayoed.

Budd on his last appearance was stopped by K. O. Jeakle, of Toledo, caused one of the biggest sensations ever recorded in local boxing circles. Budd had been moving along with all his accustomed smoothness up to the final sixth when Jeakle crossed a right to his chin and down went the game battler, dazed. He climbed to his feet but went down twice more before he was finally out. Use McGinty as a stepping stone back into the hearts of his home town fans. It is not a certainty that he will be able to accomplish any of them, but he has a decision over him scored recently in Birmingham.

Atlanta fans will welcome the battler back, and if he is successful in his "comeback" attempt, they will cheer lustily, for few more popular boxers ever shuffled through the resin than Budd.

For eight years he has been entertaining local fans with sparkling eye.

GREB IS READY FOR TITLE BOUT WITH JOHNNY WILSON

New York, January 14.—Howling Harry Greb, the human motor-horn, so-called because he squeaks louder and longer than any other boxer when defeated, will give New York the first glimpse of a fighter defending a title that the city has caught since the indoor season began, when he clamored into the ring at the Garden, Friday night, to fight Johnny Wilson.

Harry, who also imitates a police whistle when in a fight, was seen in training in a sound-proof room so as to be able to out-squawk himself if he should lose the title to Wilson from whom he won it at the Polo grounds.

Since boxing recommenced in New York, Greb has been fighting much better than he ever did before he won it.

Mr. Greb, "that I shall be squeaking better than I am defeated."

Mr. Greb is noted for two classic bleats emitted after being defeated in New York. The first time, after the Tunney had beaten him all over the ring, he said he was "held up" by New York prizefight interests for a contribution of $3,000 for a home for indigent prizefighters. When the prize commission evinced an official interest in the case, Greb unsquawked his squeak.

Losses to Tunney.

A few weeks ago when Tunney got a shady decision over him, Greb caroled another piece entitled "The Loser's Lament," in four sharps and flats.

Frankie Jerome's Sad Passing

Ring's Tough Break of Luck

New York, January 14.—The law of averages holds that every now and again some unfortunate kid must be killed in the fight ring. After 4,000 rounds of fighting in Madison Square Garden during the last four indoor seasons, it was time for some one to go.

So when Frankie Jerome died from a right swing to the head landed by Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, Ind., the prize fighters wagged their battered heads and said it was "a tough break of the luck for Frankie, although the doctor gave it a high school name and went into technical discussions of blood-clots and skull pressure.

Dr. Charles E. Norris, chief medical examiner, examined the poor, skinny little fellow before they removed him from the hospital to his home, Monday afternoon, and said: "nobody was to blame. A blow on the head had ruptured a small blood vessel between the skull and the brain. There is no exact check on the number of fatalities throughout the country in the thousands of rounds of boxing that are fought every year, but Dr. Norris thought that such happenings were so rare under proper regulation that boxing could still be considered a fairly safe sport.

There have been five deaths. New Jersey is believed to have had no more than three.

Jerome's passing was particularly distressing to the large crowd that saw the bout because he had made some good fights. He was a so-called, sidwinder little fellow, 24 years old, who liked to be with friends at night and his manager had a hard time as a rule getting him to go home and get the required sleep.

At one minute the crowd saw Jerome, then not badly marked, making the best of a bad situation, and in the next back at the heavy-hitting

LOCAL PREPS GOING GOOD

BY GORDON KEITH.

The basketball season in prep circles has gotten under way officially and in these first games the local fives have shown up surprisingly well. Tech High has just returned from a very successful road trip, in which they took the measure of the versatile cadets handily, and went a long way toward determining their future prospects in the state tourney at Macon. University after only four days' practice, played a scrappy game against the Tech Freshmen Friday night at the "Y," and was only noisily defeated by a score of 15-10.

Commercial got together in a friendly little argument last week which the Gilmerites, or more aptly the Walker street fives, came out on the pleasant end of a 25-17 score.

Decatur played two games last week, opening her season with an easy win over the team from the North, and following it up Friday with a win over the Marietta quintet, in the first official game for either team in the rejuvenated state league.

Cochran Hamilton's Fulton basket tossers have engaged some half dozen opponents and with the exception of the first battle, has turned in five wins.

Taking everything into consideration, this is an encouraging start for Atlanta's young players to make, and if they improve their play in proportion to the nice beginning they have made, all the titles will remain right here in Atlanta, for it is remembered that Boys' High came home with the G. L. A. laurels last season, and G. M. A. walked off with the Cotton States title. This winter Tech High aspires to even greater honors than her contemporary teams, and will leave no stone unturned in the national prep tourney in Chicago.

Branch is improved.

One needs only to view Branch at work in the gymnasium to see that he is bent upon making a vast improvement in his showing Wednesday night. A preliminary bout that has been talking is the Irish Benny-Tex O'Rourke mill of 10-rounds. It is surprising to find that O'Rourke is well-versed in this event and every indication he will extend the Irish lead to the limit.

The question of a referee for these bouts rests with the boxing commission, which gets its baptism under fire at this show.

As is the custom with commissions, the referee is expected until fight time arrives.

Advance seats can be purchased now at the Rex Billiard Parlor, 1111 Peachtree Street. Prices will remain the same as usual.

Hagen To Compete In British Open

Tampa, Fla., January 14.—Stating that he will defend his title, Hagen will participate in the British open golf tournament at Holyoke, June 23. Walter Hagen, winner of many golf titles, said today he will possess the title at Bear Creek Country Club, near St. Petersburg, until about June 1 when he will go to Detroit to participate in the national open tournament. He is scheduled to begin June 5. He will sail for England about June 10.

Hagen expressed himself as highly pleased with the date set for the American open. He said he believed the only two golfers who have twice won the open championship, believe that the early date will bring out the best of the golfers. He said that the courses are soft in the spring, which should eliminate much uncertainty of play.

"I was robbed and everybody in New York is crooked," runs the post-bellum communique which Greb has composed. The statement winds up with "I am a crooked fellow."

Mr. Greb may be whipped at the middleweight limit. He was weakened in making the weight for Wilson in the autumn and his strength at 160 pounds. Wilson has been fighting much better since he lost the championship than he ever did before he won it.

Hoppe To Defend Title Next Week

New York, January 14.—Willie Hoppe will defend his title of world's champion 12.2 ball billiard player at a meeting called by the New York City Billiard Association, which will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, on January 21, 22 and 23 under the provisions of the annual championship tournament, which provides that the players (finishing second, third and fourth may challenge the winner.

Schaefer, who finished third in the tournament, today telegraphed a challenge to Hoppe, announcing he had deposited a forfeit, and the challenge immediately accepted. The champion, Hoppe, will be challenged by Edouard Hoernemann, Belgian champion, who finished fourth in the tournament. The match probably will be played here in March.

Favor McMillin As Centre Coach

Danville, Ky., January 14.—Dr. C. E. Allen, chairman of the athletic board of control of Centre college, and three other members of the board, today are reported to be in favor of offering the position as head football coach to "Red" McMillin, former coach of the University of Kentucky, and for the past two years coach at Centenary college. The board meets Tuesday night, during which the board will consider the findings of the "Indiana Survey of Religious Education," published recently by the Institute of Social and Religious Research, of New York, in which the Indiana survey of religious education is said to have been disclosed. Mr. Remy said that the court records indicated a striking correlation between the figures of religious training of the youth.

War Statement Denied.

The statement attributed to the New York city police commission, that the prevalence of crimes of violence in that city was traceable to the excesses of men who had been accustomed to violence in war was questioned by Dean Walter S. Athearn, of Boston university, who directed the survey of religious education in Indiana.

FOR THE PAPER

Stage-Fight.

The announcement that Young Stribling has been offered a contract to appear on the stage in a musical comedy recalls the fact that Benny Leonard now graces the stage at the Orpheum, in San Francisco; that Jacques Dempsey, Tom Gibbons and all the rest have had a fling at it. So why not Stribling—ask me that?

And since we hear of this business of earning jack where cabbages are easier to dodge than gloves used to be, why not make the business appropriate? Some enterprising producer might put the following shows on the road, with leading roles occupied as suggested:

"Ten Nights in a Barroom"—Battling Siki.
 "Much Ado About Nothing"—Mike McGuire.
 "It Pays to Advertise"—W. L. Stribling.
 "Dark Flowers"—Tiger Flowers.
 "Bought and Paid For"—With the Mayor of Shelby and cast of leading bankers.
 "The Man Who Came Back"—Johnny Dundee.
 "Fashion Row"—Jackie Carr.
 "The Light That Failed"—Georges Carpentier.
 "The Call of the Canvass"—Joe Beckett.
 "The Gold Diggers"—Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns.
 "Abie's Irish Rose"—Dave Rosenberg.
 "The Man Without a Country"—Luis Firpo.
 "The Great Train Robbery"—Jesse Willard.
 "Friendly Enemies"—Max Ableson and Jim Mayson.
 That'll do, or would have been time ago—if we'd thought about it.

We haven't heard the details about the Chocolate Milk Fund, or whatever it is they usually stage such cards for in Madison Square Garden, but there should be quite a bit of action in the all-star card at the auditorium Wednesday night. Battling Budd meets Johnny McGinty and Dick Fair's back at Tech.

Unwanted Son of Alex Kels Seeks Slice of Insurance

Kansas City, Mo., January 14.—A son whom Alex Kels, former wealthy butcher-ranchman, of Lodi, Calif., didn't want, Monday, through his mother, "Princess Whitecloud," a blonde actress, filed suit here to prevent payment of $105,000 in insurance to the second wife and heirs of Kels, who was hanged for murder on January 4.

"Princess Whitecloud," as she prefers to be known, arrived here from Chicago, and after a short consultation with her attorneys filed the suit, which asks for "reasonable estimate of the damages her son has suffered for the alleged pilfering of his share of the estate."

Kels furnished one of the late season's most interesting cases in employing and slaying a laborer on his California ranch. He drove the auto carrying the dead body into a haystack in an endeavor to pretend that he had lost it over the fence. He covered later he admitted the hoax and said his purpose was to have the insurance money paid to his wife.

Armande is sixteen.

After refusing the assistance of a lawyer, Kels asked that he be sentenced to hang. He asked only that his wife, who was about to become a mother again and who believed him dead, would not be informed of his act.

Armande Andrew Kels, the son, is 16 years old. He was reared and educated in Fresno, Calif., where he had a small business, and was preparing meat for market.

"Day after day we worked there, right on the banks of the Merced river. But was happy. I loved Alex and would have done anything to have helped him get started."

"Our small business grew. I then turned my thoughts to having a little family. I was so glad and looked forward to the day when my baby would be born. But this was not to be, this happiness I had worked for. Alex told me he didn't want the child. I left him and two months later my boy was born. Alex saw him several times. And seemed to like him."

"Princess Whitecloud refused to divulge his whereabouts, as she said she had two brothers in San Luis Obispo, Calif., who would not approve of her action in seeking a slice of the Kels fortune."

"I am asking nothing for myself," she concluded. "But my boy is not to be cheated."

Sensational Data Given On Youthful Delinquency

Indianapolis, Ind., January 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Startling figures of youthful delinquency, showing that the major crimes are committed by boys between the ages of 17 and 21, were presented, and Police Commissioner Enright's alleged belief of ex-soldiers for New York's crime wave, was sharply challenged at a meeting called by the Indiana Sunday School Council of Religious Education.

Figures showing that in the ten-year period 1913-22 the average age of criminals had dropped 6 to 8 years, were given by William H. Remy, prosecuting attorney of Marion county, which includes Indianapolis, at the meeting, which was called to consider the findings of the "Indiana Survey of Religious Education," published recently by the Institute of Social and Religious Research, of New York, in which the Indiana survey of religious education is said to have been disclosed. Mr. Remy said that the court records indicated a striking correlation between the figures of religious training of the youth.

The statement attributed to the New York city police commission, that the prevalence of crimes of violence in that city was traceable to the excesses of men who had been accustomed to violence in war was questioned by Dean Walter S. Athearn, of Boston university, who directed the survey of religious education in Indiana.

"The crime wave," said Dr. Athearn, "is not due to the returned soldiers as Commissioner Enright is reported as asserting. The investigation by the Indiana survey of religious education, as compared with 200 years annually, available for Catholic children, and 325 years annually for Jewish children."

Indiana church buildings, he went on, are below standards, many buildings exposing the congregations to fire hazards.

The typical Indiana Sunday-school teacher, he said, was a married woman, 37 years of age, with two children, who has had 11 years of general education and only half of a high-school education.

DICK FAIR'S BACK AT TECH

BY PAUL WARWICK.

Dick Fair reported for basketball practice yesterday at Tech. Dick, it will be remembered, sustained a very severe wrench knee towards the last of the football season. He was playing a mighty good guard, and probably would have made his debut had it not been for this unfortunate accident.

When the football season was over, Dick reported for basketball practice, eager to get on the trail of a much coveted letter. But, old man Dix was camping too close by, and on the very first day of basketball practice, the old knee gave out under the strain, and Dick was laid up again.

But time has performed nobly, and Dick declared yesterday that his knee never felt better. So he put on his uniform and went out with the boys. Dick has quite a record behind him in basketball, and may be an important factor in the team's play before the season ends.

Dick started his career at G. M. A. He played out there one year, and the next year was declared all prep. He made three letters at G. M. A. in basketball before coming to Tech. He played on the freshman team last year, and was one of the best. If he can hit his stride this year he will be a big help to the team. At any rate, he will be in fine fettle for next year.

Fred and Skinny.

It is mighty good to see Fred Moore and Skinny Denick back on the scene. The boys have taken a new lease on life since their comrades joined them. Now, if Cliff King can only swing past the faculty, the cap joy will be full and running over.

The boys brought back from Greenville a story of wasted opportunity and need. It seems that Tech played real basketball in the first half, and accumulated quite a comfortable lead. And then they died—or at least they slunk into a state of coma until Furman had won the game.

In the second half, Furman shot 10 points before Tech was able to regain its feet. Tech managed to crawl up to within 2 points of Furman, but her energies were spent, and it seemed that Tech played a real basketball in the first half, and accumulated quite a comfortable lead. And then they died—or at least they slunk into a state of coma until Furman had won the game.

The freshmen have a nice club this year. If the showing against the Bulldogs means anything, of course they will come with experience; experience will come as the season rolls on.

Senators Play Braves Here

Washington, January 14.—Eighteen games comprise the schedule of the spring exhibition games for the Washington American league team this year, as announced by President Clark Griffith. The following are the schedule:

March 14—Washington vs. Brooklyn (N. L.) at Clearwater, Fla.
 March 15—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at Tampa, Fla.
 March 16—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at St. Petersburg, Fla.
 March 20—Washington vs. New York (N. L.) at Sarasota, Fla.
 March 21—Washington vs. Milwaukee (A. A.) at Palmetto, Fla.
 March 22—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.) at Tampa, Fla.
 March 23—Washington vs. New York (N. L.) at Tampa, Fla.
 March 24—Washington vs. St. Louis (N. L.) at Bradenton, Fla.
 March 25—Washington vs. Cincinnati (N. L.) at Tampa, Fla.
 March 26—Washington vs. Brooklyn (N. L.) at Tampa, Fla.
 March 27—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at St. Petersburg, Fla.
 March 28—Washington vs. Rochester (I. L.) at Savannah, Ga.
 March 29—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at Macon, Ga.
 March 30—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at Griffin, Ga.
 March 31—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at Atlanta, Ga.
 April 1—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at Spartanburg, S. C.
 April 2—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at Washington.
 April 3—Washington vs. Boston (N. L.) at Washington.

Murchinson Is Fully Recovered

BY WALTER CAMP.

Special Leased Wire To The Constitution.

New York, January 14.—Those who have followed the career of the metropolitan 70-year-old title holder Saturday night are convinced that his recent automobile accident has not in the least detracted from his speed. And although Frank McHugh, the sprinting schoolboy, in the indoor meet of the De La Salle institute did no better than 10 3/5 in the senior 100-yard dash, McHugh's speed has all his speed coming along nicely. Of course America shall wait Padlock if properly available. But there are sprinters outside of California, if worst comes to worst.

Report Is Watched.

It will be interesting to read the report promised from the pleasant jaunt of Howard Whitney and a score or more of men en route to Jekyll Island, the millionaires' winter club, to test golf balls. But there are tests which might be more enlightening on the advisability of shortening the distance a golf ball will fly. A simple one would be to put on sale at any club two kinds of ball, one the present ball and the other guaranteed to fly less and keep a record of the sales.

ATTRACTIVE FIGHTS SLATED AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, Wis., January 14.—Followers of boxing are promised three attractive bouts during the coming month, the first to bring together Ernie Goetzman, of California, and Joe Sangor, a local boxer. They are scheduled to meet in a ten-round no-decision bout January 28.

The next card will be on February 11, when Pines Mitchell, junior welterweight champion, meets Lew Teller, of the present ball and the other guaranteed to fly less and keep a record of the sales.

Owner of a large building property that was destroyed by the earthquake in Yokohama, Japan, has announced that he desires an American construction firm to rebuild his structure.

TRAINING TRIPS SPLIT EVEN ON WORK AND PLAY

BY HANS WAGNER.

Spring training always has been to me a sort of lark, and I think it is to most of the regulars who know how to prepare themselves and have no particular worry about their backs. During the off hours they can sit back and have all the laughs.

For some men, though, spring training is very hard work. When the day is over they are quite ready to crawl in bed at 9 o'clock and nurse their sore muscles and bruises. There are some ball players, by the way, who never have had muscular soreness in the spring. Just why that is I do not know, unless it is that they have kept up their athletic exercises during the winter. Personally I never had any trouble at all in getting in shape. To tell the truth the spring training was much easier to me than the reports of basketball, indoor baseball and so on that I did during the winter.

Always there has been an open discussion as to whether it is a long training trip or a short one. Some managers even contend that it is better to train pretty well north so that the players will not be affected by the sudden change in climate as they come back home. Clarke Griffith tried this scheme with good results in Virginia. The great majority, though, find it better to go far south where the players, due to the warmth, can ease up their tired muscles without catching cold.

Disburg club has found Hot Springs to be best training place. I always liked it there. Walking up and down those Arkansas mountains was a good muscle-builder in itself. You could walk up to the top of Hot Springs without going up or down hill. The hot waters help a lot in loosening up the muscles.

The main thing the pitchers have to acquire is control. They work in gradually, getting stronger and more accurate day by day.

McGraw Has Rigid Rules.

The young newspaper editor, according to my observation, is the chance of trying out the recruits and seeing what they really can do. Some managers are so strict that they get in shape according to their own ideas. Others have a rigid system and even the most famous and experienced players have to follow the strictest of ideas that it is a set example for the youngsters. John McGraw is one of those who has a rigid system.

One thing about him, though—heut everything he asks the young players to do. He is the first man to get in the morning and the last one to leave the field at night.

Miller Huggins, the champion Yankee, used the system last year of letting the seasoned players get in shape as they deemed best. That worked out all right, too. They won a pennant and the championship.

So you never can tell which is best. I think the biggest result, after all, is that the players get to know each other better and establish themselves as a family before the hard season starts.

There is never any particular rule of baseball training as to what a player should do. It must be remembered that a ball player is different from all other athletes in that he has to prepare for an every-day job that lasts all summer.

The job is as naturally as possible. There is little difference between the diet of a ball player and of any ordinary business man. There shouldn't be.

To me it was always the practical jokes and the skylarking of a southern training trip that appealed. I like to laugh, and I like to joke myself.

One of the old gags that always gave me a laugh was on the train going to a southern training trip that appealed. I like to laugh, and I like to joke myself.

There is a terrible affront to the return. It would be like treason.

Texas Got The Thief.

Well, when these young fellows start most of them have never ridden in a Pullman, and don't really know the difference between an upper and lower. They learn quick, though. We used to tell the youngsters that they were climbing into their upper that they had better give all their small change to the porters to keep for them, as it might fall out of their pockets.

Wanting to do the right thing these poor young kids would shell out their small change to the porter, who would thank them. The next morning they would get such a launch that they would never even think of asking for it again.

That was a cruel trick to play on these kids, who rarely ever had any more change than the law allows, but it was funny, at that.

We had one big awkward fellow get on the train going to Hot Springs and we called him "Red" right off the reel. He watched the poker games for awhile, tried to talk back the Bibb basketball. Atlanta's two ranking teams, i. e., A. A. C. and Georgia Tech, have both gone down in defeat before the Albany team since the season opened.

Frank Hardy, lanky forward, and Tony Pryse, equally as lanky center, are the chief luminaries of the Albany outfit. Pryse looms off the field after practically every game with the high-tower until he is reasonably confident around his neck, and Frank Hardy is always close behind him. But the work of the two Smith boys, Whiting, Hester and other substitutes, who have worked together with one accord for so long, really make the team what its reputation insists that it is—a revelation in teamwork.

Coch Moore, who directs the defense of this Georgia group, contends that his five is not yet ready for competition in a national tournament. Since his outfit stands so high in this indoor season, it appears that Moore doesn't want to risk his charges on the floor of a national tournament until he is reasonably confident, at least, of bringing the country-wide title back to this neck of the woods. Which is a decent way of looking at it—"Nope, we won't go up until we're sure of winning. Then we'll take a little jaunt and bring back the well-known bacon."

Mooney's Fast Quint. Atlanta's two ranking teams, i. e., A. A. C. and Georgia Tech, have both gone down in defeat before the Albany team since the season opened.

Frank Hardy, lanky forward, and Tony Pryse, equally as lanky center, are the chief luminaries of the Albany outfit. Pryse looms off the field after practically every game with the high-tower until he is reasonably confident around his neck, and Frank Hardy is always close behind him. But the work of the two Smith boys, Whiting, Hester and other substitutes, who have worked together with one accord for so long, really make the team what its reputation insists that it is—a revelation in teamwork.

Coch Moore, who directs the defense of this Georgia group, contends that his five is not yet ready for competition in a national tournament. Since his outfit stands so high in this indoor season, it appears that Moore doesn't want to risk his charges on the floor of a national tournament until he is reasonably confident, at least, of bringing the country-wide title back to this neck of the woods. Which is a decent way of looking at it—"Nope, we won't go up until we're sure of winning. Then we'll take a little jaunt and bring back the well-known bacon."

Mooney's Fast Quint. Atlanta's two ranking teams, i. e., A. A. C. and Georgia Tech, have both gone down in defeat before the Albany team since the season opened.

Frank Hardy, lanky forward, and Tony Pryse, equally as lanky center, are the chief luminaries of the Albany outfit. Pryse looms off the field after practically every game with the high-tower until he is reasonably confident around his neck, and Frank Hardy is always close behind him. But the work of the two Smith boys, Whiting, Hester and other substitutes, who have worked together with one accord for so long, really make the team what its reputation insists that it is—a revelation in teamwork.

Coch Moore, who directs the defense of this Georgia group, contends that his five is not yet ready for competition in a national tournament. Since his outfit stands so high in this indoor season, it appears that Moore doesn't want to risk his charges on the floor of a national tournament until he is reasonably confident, at least, of bringing the country-wide title back to this neck of the woods. Which is a decent way of looking at it—"Nope, we won't go up until we're sure of winning. Then we'll take a little jaunt and bring back the well-known bacon."

Mooney's Fast Quint. Atlanta's two ranking teams, i. e., A. A. C. and Georgia Tech, have both gone down in defeat before the Albany team since the season opened.

Frank Hardy, lanky forward, and Tony Pryse, equally as lanky center, are the chief luminaries of the Albany outfit. Pryse looms off the field after practically every game with the high-tower until he is reasonably confident around his neck, and Frank Hardy is always close behind him. But the work of the two Smith boys, Whiting, Hester and other substitutes, who have worked together with one accord for so long, really make the team what its reputation insists that it is—a revelation in teamwork.

Coch Moore, who directs the defense of this Georgia group, contends that his five is not yet ready for competition in a national tournament. Since his outfit stands so high in this indoor season, it appears that Moore doesn't want to risk his charges on the floor of a national tournament until he is reasonably confident, at least, of bringing the country-wide title back to this neck of the woods. Which is a decent way of looking at it—"Nope, we won't go up until we're sure of winning. Then we'll take a little jaunt and bring back the well-known bacon."

Mooney's Fast Quint. Atlanta's two ranking teams, i. e., A. A. C. and Georgia Tech, have both gone down in defeat before the Albany team since the season opened.

Frank Hardy, lanky forward, and Tony Pryse, equally as lanky center, are the chief luminaries of the Albany outfit. Pryse looms off the field after practically every game with the high-tower until he is reasonably confident around his neck, and Frank Hardy is always close behind him. But the work of the two Smith boys, Whiting, Hester and other substitutes, who have worked together with one accord for so long, really make the team what its reputation insists that it is—a revelation in teamwork.

Coch Moore, who directs the defense of this Georgia group, contends that his five is not yet ready for competition in a national tournament. Since his outfit stands so high in this indoor season, it appears that Moore doesn't want to risk his charges on the floor of a national tournament until he is reasonably confident, at least, of bringing the country-wide title back to this neck of the woods. Which is a decent way of looking at it—"Nope, we won't go up until we're sure of winning. Then we'll take a little jaunt and bring back the well-known bacon."

Mooney's Fast Quint. Atlanta's two ranking teams, i. e., A. A. C. and Georgia Tech, have both gone down in defeat before the Albany team since the season opened.

Frank Hardy, lanky forward, and Tony Pryse, equally as lanky center, are the chief luminaries of the Albany outfit. Pryse looms off the field after practically every game with the high-tower until he is reasonably confident around his neck, and Frank Hardy is always close behind him. But the work of the two Smith boys, Whiting, Hester and other substitutes, who have worked together with one accord for so long, really make the team what its reputation insists that it is—a revelation in teamwork.

Coch Moore, who directs the defense of this Georgia group, contends that his five is not yet ready for competition in a national tournament. Since his outfit stands so high in this indoor season, it appears that Moore doesn't want to risk his charges on the floor of a national tournament until he is reasonably confident, at least, of bringing the country-wide title back to this neck of the woods. Which is a decent way of looking at it—"Nope, we won't go up until we're sure of winning. Then we'll take a little jaunt and bring back the well-known bacon."

THE WESTERNERS

By Stewart Edward White.

Continued From Yesterday.

"No, it has not come to that, not what you mean. But it has come to this: that your conduct has made every true friend of yours feel just as I do."

She stared at him a moment, gasping. "Heaven! you frighten me! What have you done?"

"It isn't so much what you have done," began Graham lamely, "as what you might do. You see you are very young, and you don't know the world; and so you might walk right into something very wrong without meaning to do wrong at all. I wish I knew how to tell you exactly. You ought to have a mother. But if you'd only let me advise you, because we know more about it than you."

The girl had watched him with gleaming eyes. "That doesn't mean anything," she interrupted. "What is it, now? Out with it!"

"It's Cheyenne Harry," blurted Graham desperately. "You oughtn't to go around with him no more."

"Now we have it," said the girl with dangerous calm. "I'm not to go around with Harry. Will you tell me why?"

"Well," replied Graham, floundering this side of the main fact; "it isn't a healthy thing for anybody to see any one person to the exclusion of others."

"Yourself, for instance," stabbed the girl wickedly. "Go on."

Graham flushed. "No, it isn't that," he asserted. "And it isn't that, especially elevating for you to sit every evening in a bar room crowded with swearing and drinking men who are not at all of your class. The language they use ought to teach you that."

"They are my people," cried Molly with a sudden flash of indignation. "and they are honest and brave and true-hearted. They do not speak as grammatically as you or I; but we have been to college, and I have been blessed with a chance to read. And whatever language they speak, they do not use it to talk of other people behind their backs." She reflected a moment. "But that isn't the question," she went on, with a flash of her native shrewdness. "I understood you to make a request, ready nevertheless. That you be a little more careful in the way you speak with Cheyenne Harry, then he begged."

"And why?" she asked again.

"Because," because he means to do you harm," cried Jack Graham, driven to the point of exasperation. "She rose from the log. "Ah, that is what I wanted to hear!" she returned in level tones. "the accusation. You will tell him this to his face."

Graham paused. He was much in love, brave enough to carry through the inevitable row, and willing as far as himself was concerned, to do so; but he could not fail to see that, however the affair came out, it would irretrievably injure the girl's reputation. No one would believe that he would go to such lengths on suspicion of merely future harm. To the camp it would mean his proved knowledge of present facts. So he hesitated.

"You will not, I see," concluded the girl, moving away. "rest easy, I shall say nothing to Harry about it. I don't know what he would do if he heard of it."

She began to walk toward the ford, every motion expressing contempt. At the water's brink she turned back. "And remember this, Mr. Jack Graham!" she cried, her repressed anger suddenly blazing out. "I may be young, and I may not know much of the world, but I know enough to take care of myself without any of your help."

After that, Molly was dreadfully alone. Lafond was always kind to her, but she never felt that she knew him. Graham, in spite of his frequent presence, was quite estranged. The other men were less intimate because she was supposed to be Cheyenne Harry's mistress, and the rule of such cases is "hands off!" She was very unhappy. That with her meant that she was reckless. She threw herself passionately into her affair with Cheyenne Harry as the one tangible human relation left to her in her entirety. The days followed each other in a succession of passionate exaltations and dumb despair. Harry kissed her whenever he pleased now. She had long since got beyond mere coquetry. It meant much to her hereditary instincts so to yield, but she gave herself up to it with the abandon of a lost soul delivering itself to degrading wickedness. For in spite of her life and companions she was intrinsically pure, so pure that even Cheyenne Harry did not somehow care to go too far. He kissed her, and at first, he was persuaded that he loved her. But now he was becoming tired of her.

Throughout the mild winter that succeeded Billy pushed forward with the greatest candor all work on the Great Snake and its sister claims. He managed to chink in a moment here and there for the completion of certain bargains which came to him. For instance, a man in Spring Creek Valley offered eight draught horses at a marvelously low figure. Billy did not need teams just then; but of course later, when the mail was up, he would need many more for the purpose of entering ore; and it seemed criminal to let such a bargain go. Then he found he required a man to take care of them. Some days later he came to the conclusion that it would be good economy to buy the ore wagons instead of waiting until later. He bought a whim, also a bargain. To be sure one might have argued that as much as whims are machines for hauling ore from the mine which Billy's operations would not attain for a year at least, the purchase was a little premature; but then it is equally certain that all mines own whims.

About the middle of February Lafond wrote a letter which ran as follows:

"Dear Sir—You will perhaps remember me as one of your hosts during your late visit to this camp. If you do, you will remember also that I am interested financially, and so the good of the camp is my good. You will further recollect that I was present at the meeting held in Knapp's back for the purpose of settling with him. For that reason I happen to know your plans and expectations. The expectations were that your first investment of fifty thousand dollars would complete the works to a paying basis. I have no means of knowing the exact amount of Knapp's expenditures to date, but the works are far from complete. A great deal of money has been wasted. I do not ask you to believe this, but see for yourself how you stand, and I may be able to make you an offer."

By return of post Lafond was frantically called upon to explain. He did so. Billy had been wasteful and extravagant. It was not Billy's fault, perhaps, but he was evidently not the man for the place. Lafond had had but a vague idea of how things were going, but lately he had been at more pains to gain an accurate knowledge of affairs. He had found things as stated. He did not write at all as a friend of the company, but because he believed he could perhaps make something by taking the property himself. Instinctively the half-breed knew that an insistence on his own selfishness was the surest way of impressing these easterners with his sincerity. For that reason he dejectedly explained his expenses. Lafond was asked to go east for consultation.

The Chicago men were badly frightened. Lafond repeated clearly at greater length what he had told them in his letter. It had been a case of a man unused to the handling of money. He insisted that in actual value there existed not one-quarter of the value Knapp had expended; and he further claimed that affairs were in such shape that as much more would have to be invested before the mine could be put on a paying basis.

The easterners agreed. Stevens was gone just ten days. When he returned he presented figures showing that according to Billy Knapp's accounts, $21,476 had been expended on the claims. "But hold on!" interrupted Murphy. "he has drawn six drafts. That makes thirty thousand. Has he eight thousand in hand? Why did he have to draw the last draft?"

"He doesn't know," replied Stevens grimly. "His bank balance is just $1,234.50. He says he doesn't know where the rest of it is."

"Not at all," he is perfectly honest. That is the way he does things. "Here," went on Stevens after a moment, "is what remains to be done before we can even start to work. It will cost you $25,000. Our liabilities amount to $22,850. That is what we owe, gentlemen. Now if you want to throw good money after bad, you can do so," he continued, "but I think we should pull out. This man Lafond thinks he can do something with the property if he has a fair show, and perhaps we can save something through him. Our fifty thousand is gone—and more, after we've paid our debts."

And so with great haste they scrambled out. Lafond was called in and they bargained. They finally accepted his offer of five thousand cash, and the assumption of the twenty-three thousand debt. A man in his position and in his business could easily reduce the latter item.

"Of course this is merely informal," explained Stevens. "We have to call a directors' meeting yet to take official action."

"I understand," said Lafond. "What are you going to do about the camp itself?"

"I suppose we'll shut down and give Knapp his walking papers," said Stevens. "That is just it. You discharge him. He is angry; but I think we should pull out. This man Lafond thinks he can do something with the property if he has a fair show, and perhaps we can save something through him. Our fifty thousand is gone—and more, after we've paid our debts."

All saw the justice of this argument. "What would you suggest then?" asked the chairman.

"How is it that you intend to discharge him?" returned Lafond. "Do you just write and tell him he is discharged?"

"No," we will call a directors' meeting, and pass resolutions to that effect, a copy of which we send him. We will go that at the same time we authorize the sale to you."

Lafond drummed for a moment on the table. "When it is that you have had your directors' meeting and have passed your resolutions, then you send your copy to me, and I will give it to Knapp. Thus I will be on the ground to see that he makes no trouble. And at the same time you send the deeds under his name. You look just the same as ever. "Spoke you're going to the opening dance to-night. Yes, that's what I came over for; that and nothing else. We'll have to stir this camp up a bit and make her seem like old times. I'm afraid you boys have been getting a little slow," she flashed good humoredly at the others. "Harry, I don't believe you've got a girl in this camp who knows beans, and it's about time you did. I'm mighty glad to see you. But you got to watch out, though! This is a pretty good-looking lot of boys, and you'll have to hustle to hold your job."

She said this still holding both hands in hers, and alternately smiling now at him, now at the men about her. She had taken rapid stock of Molly—whom she now ignored. "You bet we will!" cried Harry. His manner was enthusiastic, not so much with joy over seeing Bismarck Anne, as with instinctive relief from the tension of a rather sentimental interview with Molly. He remembered, the latter and performed some sort of an introduction.

"How do you do?" asked Molly coolly, without moving an inch. "Very well, my dear," replied Bismarck Anne smiling, "and very glad to get here."

The endearing epithet relegated Molly at once to the category of little girls. The conversation continued for some moments longer, the men standing very reserved. The newcomer did not appear to notice it, but chattered on unconcernedly in a light-hearted fashion. Cheyenne Harry felt uncomfortably that something was wrong. Searching about for the cause, he at last discovered it in Molly's attitude. So on the way to the cabin he was vexed, and showed it. And Molly felt so strongly the innate justice of her position and appreciated so keenly the skill with which she had been made to appear sulky and unreasonable, that when she had finally

"I STILL DON'T UNDERSTAND WHY UNCLE BIM LEFT HERE SO SUDDENLY—WHO WAS THE LITTLE OLD MAN YOU ARE TRYING TO TELL ME ABOUT? WHAT DID HE SAY TO YOU? WHAT DID HE SAY TO UNCLE BIM? WHAT DID HE LOOK LIKE?"

"I KEEP TELLING YOU WHAT HAPPENED BUT YOU KEEP ON INTERRUPTING ME. WHEN I OPENED THE DOOR I SAW A MYSTERIOUS LOOKING LITTLE GUY—HE STARTED TO JAMPER IN FRENCH."

"WHY DIDN'T YOU TELL HIM WHAT HE WANTED?"

"HE DIDN'T GIVE ME A CHANCE—HE RUSHED RIGHT INTO THE PARLOR—WHEN UNCLE BIM SAW HIM HE JUMPED UP WITH A STARTLED LOOK ON HIS FACE—THEN THE LITTLE FOREIGNER STARTED TO WHISPER IN BIM'S EAR—BIM SAID THERE WAS A FORTUNE INVOLVED—HE PACKED HIS GEAR AND RUSHED OFF TO THE STATION."

"WELL YOU SHOULD HAVE FOUND OUT JUST WHAT ALL THE EXCITEMENT WAS ABOUT—YOU HAVE EYES AND EARS—WHY DIDN'T YOU USE THEM? I WON'T SLEEP SOUND TILL I LEARN WHO THAT STRANGE LITTLE MAN WAS AND WHAT MADE UNCLE BIM RUSH OFF WITHOUT HARDLY A GOOD-BYE TO ANYONE."

"WELL, YOU KNOW THE STORY OF THE GUY WHO MADE $25,000 CASH JUST BY MINING HIS OWN BUSINESS—I'M JUST AS MUCH IN THE DARK AS YOU ARE BUT I'M NOT GOING TO HIRE SHERLOCK HOLMES TO HELP UNCLE BIM ATTEND TO HIS OWN PRIVATE AFFAIRS—NOW THAT'S ALL SETTLED."

"It's I," came the voice of Jack Graham.

"My, how you frightened me!" she cried pettishly. "What in the world do you want?"

"Molly," said Graham solemnly, "I don't suppose you'll listen to me. We haven't gotten along very well lately, have we? But I want you to know that I am asking this for your sake, and that I believe it."

She was impressed by the sincere quality of his tone. "Why, Jack," she said softly, "I know you mean well, and I suppose I am very frivolous and careless. What is it?"

"I wish you would not go to the dance to-night."

"But, Jack," she hesitatingly asked, "do you think there is going to be trouble?"

Continued Tomorrow.

he. And at the same time you send the deeds to this man—he rapidly scribbled an address—"he is a notary public at Rapid. You will have time to look up his reliability. He can hold the deeds until I pay to him the $5,000 and sign a contract to take the debt we spoke of. Is that satisfactory?"

"How long will it be before you finish your meetings?"

"Ten days. It takes a week's notice for a special meeting."

VIII.—Bismarck Anne Arrives.

The outward and visible signs of prosperity had to some extent increased the feminine population of Copper Creek. Molly Lafond had long since lost the distinction of being the only woman in camp. Some of the newcomers were blessed with wives, one or two were favored with daughters. All told, there were perhaps fifteen or twenty of the gentler sex scattered among the new and old log cabins of the valley. But from them Molly had little to fear in the way of rivalry. The older women were either buxom and decisive, or dyspeptic and drawing. The younger girls were angular, awkward and shy, especially so when in the presence of Miss Molly's breezy self-possession.

Then Bismarck Anne came to camp. A number of men recognized her and ran to help her down from her horse. Just at this moment Cheyenne Harry and Molly Lafond, returning from one of their numerous expeditions, caught sight of the animated group and naturally turned aside to investigate its cause.

Bismarck Anne faced toward them. "Why, Harry!" she cried, holding out both hands, "you here? I didn't know you'd hang out in this camp. You look just the same as ever. "Spoke you're going to the opening dance to-night. Yes, that's what I came over for; that and nothing else. We'll have to stir this camp up a bit and make her seem like old times. I'm afraid you boys have been getting a little slow," she flashed good humoredly at the others. "Harry, I don't believe you've got a girl in this camp who knows beans, and it's about time you did. I'm mighty glad to see you. But you got to watch out, though! This is a pretty good-looking lot of boys, and you'll have to hustle to hold your job."

"I KNOW, BOSS—COME TO THINK OF IT—IT'S NOT STRANGE MARY DODDLE SHOULD BE HAVING A LOVE AFFAIR SHE HAS LOVELY BLUE EYES!"

"WHAT? LISTEN I'M TOO BUSY TO ARGUE ABOUT EYES BUT MISS DODDLE'S EYES ARE BROWN!"

"HOW PERFECTLY AP SURRRED! ANYONE CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BLUE!"

"AN I SAY I AIN'T A POOR BLIND STICK IN THE MUD AN I CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BROWN!"

"VENUS, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?"

"VIOLET, OF COURSE!"

"SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS."

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

"I KNOW, BOSS—COME TO THINK OF IT—IT'S NOT STRANGE MARY DODDLE SHOULD BE HAVING A LOVE AFFAIR SHE HAS LOVELY BLUE EYES!"

"WHAT? LISTEN I'M TOO BUSY TO ARGUE ABOUT EYES BUT MISS DODDLE'S EYES ARE BROWN!"

"HOW PERFECTLY AP SURRRED! ANYONE CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BLUE!"

"AN I SAY I AIN'T A POOR BLIND STICK IN THE MUD AN I CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BROWN!"

"VENUS, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?"

"VIOLET, OF COURSE!"

"SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS."

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

"I KNOW, BOSS—COME TO THINK OF IT—IT'S NOT STRANGE MARY DODDLE SHOULD BE HAVING A LOVE AFFAIR SHE HAS LOVELY BLUE EYES!"

"WHAT? LISTEN I'M TOO BUSY TO ARGUE ABOUT EYES BUT MISS DODDLE'S EYES ARE BROWN!"

"HOW PERFECTLY AP SURRRED! ANYONE CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BLUE!"

"AN I SAY I AIN'T A POOR BLIND STICK IN THE MUD AN I CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BROWN!"

"VENUS, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?"

"VIOLET, OF COURSE!"

"SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS."

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

"I KNOW, BOSS—COME TO THINK OF IT—IT'S NOT STRANGE MARY DODDLE SHOULD BE HAVING A LOVE AFFAIR SHE HAS LOVELY BLUE EYES!"

"WHAT? LISTEN I'M TOO BUSY TO ARGUE ABOUT EYES BUT MISS DODDLE'S EYES ARE BROWN!"

"HOW PERFECTLY AP SURRRED! ANYONE CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BLUE!"

"AN I SAY I AIN'T A POOR BLIND STICK IN THE MUD AN I CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BROWN!"

"VENUS, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?"

"VIOLET, OF COURSE!"

"SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS."

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

"I KNOW, BOSS—COME TO THINK OF IT—IT'S NOT STRANGE MARY DODDLE SHOULD BE HAVING A LOVE AFFAIR SHE HAS LOVELY BLUE EYES!"

"WHAT? LISTEN I'M TOO BUSY TO ARGUE ABOUT EYES BUT MISS DODDLE'S EYES ARE BROWN!"

"HOW PERFECTLY AP SURRRED! ANYONE CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BLUE!"

"AN I SAY I AIN'T A POOR BLIND STICK IN THE MUD AN I CAN SEE HER EYES ARE BROWN!"

"VENUS, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?"

"VIOLET, OF COURSE!"

"SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS."

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

YENNY, WHAT COLOR ARE MARY DODDLE'S EYES?

VIOLET, OF COURSE!

SINCE MARY HAS A ROMANCE AND WE CAN'T DECIDE THE COLOR OF HER EYES PERHAPS SOME OF YOU CAN OFFER SUGGESTIONS.

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—Seems to Be Quite a Disagreement

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER

They Might Get Used to the Hotel

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All the Trains.

Ain't It a Grand and Glorious Feeling!

SEVEN P.M. WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO A RESTAURANT FOR? SOMETHING TO EAT. COULDN'T YOU GET ANYTHING AT HOME? I LEFT THE TABLE. WHY? OH, THAT WIFE OF MINE STARTED AN ARGUMENT. I'LL ARGUE ANY PLACE WITH MY WIFE BUT AT THE TABLE. AND WHY NOT THERE? OUR DISHES ARE AWFUL THICK.

News of Society and Woman's Work

THE CONSTITUTION'S DAILY WOMAN'S MAGAZINE

Features Which Will Interest
Every Woman

Soost-Fischer Marriage Will Be Social Event of Wednesday

Greatest interest centers in the forthcoming marriage of Miss Etie Soost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Soost, of Mobile, Ala., and Forest B. Fischer, of Atlanta, which will be solemnized Wednesday evening, January 16, at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Mobile.

Miss Soost has been a frequent and admired visitor here as the guest of Mrs. H. C. Erwin and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Patterson. She is a young woman of unusual charm and possesses distinct musical accomplishments.

The bride will be attended by Mrs. Fred Patterson, as matron of honor, and Mr. Patterson will be the best man. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Soost will entertain at a reception.

Many out-of-town visitors will be present at the wedding, including Mrs. H. C. Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Patterson and J. A. Alexander.

After a six weeks' tour of Florida by motor, Mr. and Mrs. Fischer will return to Atlanta. They will reside in the Pershing Point apartments.

Mr. Fischer is a prominent business man, being manager of the M. Schulz company and vice president of the Mortgage Bond and Trust company. He is a member of the Druid Hills Golf club and has a wide circle of friends who will be interested in his marriage.

He was the honor guest at a delightful dinner party given by a group of friends Sunday evening at the Druid Hills Golf club. The table was placed in the long living room of the club and attractively appointed. The guests were entertained by a trio from the Alhambra Lyceum bureau, and the occasion was marked by a number of informal after-dinner speeches.

Covers were placed for Mr. Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heinz, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Mikell, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. George Watts, Mrs. Agnes Howe, J. A. Alexander, Dr. Malcolm Turner, Dr. M. D. Huff, Edward H. Barnes and others.

Maj. and Mrs. Roberts Will Be Hosts At Dinner This Evening

One of the many charming affairs complimenting the army social leaders stationed in Atlanta will be the dinner which Major and Mrs. Charles M. Roberts will entertain this evening at their apartment in the Pershing Point.

Following the dinner the guests will play bridge.

Covers will be placed for General and Mrs. David A. Shanks, Colonel and Mrs. Ernest Haskell, Colonel and Mrs. Ralph S. Porter, Colonel and Mrs. Charles Humphrey, Colonel and Mrs. Melville S. Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Camp, General Edwin B. Winaus and Colonel Ralph Parrott.

Miss Coolidge Is Hostess.

Miss Mary Frances Coolidge entertained at a beautiful tea Monday afternoon, which marked the first of a series of pre-nuptial affairs for Miss Sarah Orne, whose marriage to William Elliot Huger, of Charleston, S. C., will take place January 24.

The spacious reception room where the guests were received was decorated with potted plants and ferns. In the dining room the tea table had for the central decoration a silver bowl of pink roses and white narcissi. At intervals were silver candlesticks holding pink unshaded papers alternating with bouquets of pink embossed mints.

Miss Coolidge was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Harold Coolidge and Mrs. Mary Peoples Coolidge. Miss Coolidge wore a beautiful gown of black chiffon velvet trimmed with ermine and a hat to match.

Miss Orne's lovely gown was of brown velvet, trimmed with rich brown fur, and her hat was brown velvet, adorned with yellow blossoms.

Club Luncheon Honors Bride-Elect.

One of the delightful events marking Monday's social calendar was the luncheon at which Mrs. W. H. Smay entertained at the Capital City club in compliment to Miss Henrietta Davis, whose marriage to James Speas will take place Saturday, January 19.

Luncheon was served following a game of bridge. In the center of the table was a mound of pink roses and narcissi, surrounded by six silver candlesticks holding pink tapers. The honor guest was presented with a bouquet of pink roses and a French novelty and consolation a bud vase.

Smay was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. H. C. Bagley and Miss LaTrelle Smay.

Among the guests were Miss Katherine Erwin, Miss Julia Anderson, Miss Hattie Tracy King, of Macon; Miss Virginia Gunn, of Macon; Miss Elizabeth Kontz, Miss Caroline Beckman, Mrs. Julian Robinson, Mrs. Anne Bates, Mrs. Kenneth Keyes, Mrs. Clement Evans, Mrs. B. M. McFadden, Mrs. Edwin Peoples and Mrs. J. Lee Groves.

Joseph Habersham D. A. R. Will Meet.

The Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Habersham hall. Mrs. Christian Clarke, the regent, will preside at the meeting.

As this is the meeting nearest Benjamin Franklin's birthday, there will be a special program to commemorate his birthday. Mrs. Warren D. White will be in charge.

Mrs. R. G. Dunwoody, the treasurer, urges all members who have not paid their dues to bring them to this meeting, as the annual dues to the national society at Washington must be paid.

Those present were: Mrs. Robert Argo, Mrs. J. F. Anthony, Mrs. J. C. Cook, Mrs. J. A. Harding, Mrs. W. L. Haygood, Mrs. D. E. Moncrief, Mrs. Frank McCormick, Mrs. C. H. Paine, Mrs. M. D. Seaborn, Mrs. A. K. Thurmond and Mrs. L. O. Turner.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. M. D. Seaborn at her home on Candler street.

Mrs. C. H. Paine Is Hostess.

Mrs. C. H. Paine entertained the members of her Sewing club Friday afternoon at her home in Inman park. Mrs. Paine's mother, Mrs. J. A. Harding, assisted in entertaining.

New officers were elected as follows: Mrs. D. E. Moncrief, president; Mrs. W. L. Haygood, secretary, and Mrs. J. C. Cook, treasurer. Dainty refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Those present were: Mrs. Robert Argo, Mrs. J. F. Anthony, Mrs. J. C. Cook, Mrs. J. A. Harding, Mrs. W. L. Haygood, Mrs. D. E. Moncrief, Mrs. Frank McCormick, Mrs. C. H. Paine, Mrs. M. D. Seaborn, Mrs. A. K. Thurmond and Mrs. L. O. Turner.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. M. D. Seaborn at her home on Candler street.

Will Lecture on Self-Control.

"To Him That Overcometh" will be the subject of an instructive lecture on truth to be given by Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the assembly room of the Carnegie library.

This will be a practical talk on self-revelation and how to control one's self and environment. Both men and women who are interested are invited to attend.

La Grupo To Meet.

The weekly meeting of La Grupo Esparantista will be held in the basement of the Carnegie library, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Keen interest is being shown in the international language movement, and the number of Esparantists in Atlanta is steadily increasing.

The beginners' class is now well organized. It is not too late, however, for new students to enter. The class is open to the public without charge.

Attractive Tennessee Visitor

Photo by Mathewson & Price.

Mrs. Robert E. Peterson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who is being delightfully entertained as the guest of Mrs. Paul Turner.

Y. W. C. A. Directors Meet; Report 1,432 Members

Only 1,432 members of the Young Women's Christian association will be qualified to vote in the annual election of officers that will be held this month, was stated in the membership report that was made at the Y. W. C. A. directors' meeting Monday, at administration headquarters, Peachtree Arcade. Members whose dues are not paid for the past year are disqualified as voters. The report gave the following classification of members, their dues being paid annually: Life members, four, paying each $100; sustaining, five, at $10 each; sustaining, 141, at $5 each, and general, 1,318, at $1 each. Junior members, two, at 50 cents a year. It was stated that girl reserves, gymnasium members and girls at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Highland, Ga., are not required to pay membership dues in order to have association privileges, but they do not vote in the annual election of board members. Mrs. Stephen Barnett is membership chairman.

Mrs. W. R. Prescott, chairman, reported that 230 members are enrolled in the Y. W. C. A. gymnasium. The value of the health work being done was emphasized in the statement that 120 medical examinations had been given girls and women during the past month and 37 health interviews. Miss Lucy Marvin Adams, director of the Y. W. C. A. camp at Highland, Ga., reported that when Camp Highland opens for the season of 1924, it will be better equipped than ever before. The new recreation hall being practically finished, the cost of the construction being about $2,500. The counselor's bungalow has been completed at a cost of $250, reported Miss Adams. This bungalow was presented to the camp by Misses Olive Hall, Elizabeth Speer and herself, as directors.

A two-story bungalow, costing $375, has been erected by the Weona club, a group of young business girls; also that the contract has been given for the installation of a new power plant and work on the roads from Atlanta to Camp Highland will be started as soon as the winter is over. The white farm house will be covered and the old silos replaced by new ones. The pavilion, too, has been given a new coat of stain, stated the director.

Mrs. R. K. Rambo, chairman of the association's industrial committee, and Miss Elizabeth Gregg, chairman of the business girls' division, made the reports for the industrial department. Mrs. Rambo stated that the present plan of her committee consists of the promotion of noon-day work in factories and in giving health courses to girls and women in four factories. Miss Gregg told of the "Y" clubs and classes for young business girls.

Mrs. Marvin Underwood, lately appointed a member of the national Y. W. C. A. legislative committee for the state of Georgia, spoke to the directors and told them of her plan to have local chairmen appointed in the seven Y. W. C. A. centers in Georgia who will carry on through their association membership the legislative policy as outlined by the national board Y. W. C. A.

The new business that was discussed by the directors prolonged their meeting into an all-day session, at which Mrs. Archibald Davis, president, presided.

Jewish Women Will Meet.
The regular monthly meeting of the Council of Jewish Women will be held Monday, January 21, at 3 o'clock. There will be an address by Professor Shelton, of Emory university, and music by Mrs. Philip Shulbafer.

Miss Whiteside Will Receive Special Honor Abroad

A distinct honor will be conferred upon an Atlanta woman, Miss Mary Brent Whiteside, whose literary efforts have placed her in the fore as a poet not only in the south, but whose works are known wherever poetry is read and studied both in America and in England.

Miss Whiteside will sail on the Baltic February 1 for a Mediterranean cruise and on her return she will stop in London where she will be the guest of the London Poetry society of which group of literary-elect, she will be made a vice president. The London Poetry society embraces in its members many of the greatest poets of the day. In her official capacity as vice chairman, Miss Whiteside will serve with Mrs. Holman Hunt, Madame Melba, Alfred Noyes and Longfellow, who are also vice presidents of the organization.

Miss Whiteside will leave Atlanta January 23 for New York, and while in New York prior to the sailing date she will be entertained at a number of social functions including tea at which Paul Kellogg, editor of "Surrey," and his associates will give at Mr. Kellogg's studio on East 19th street, inviting a group of poets and friends of the magazines.

Miss Whiteside will become a member of a party which includes Mrs. Irving S. Thomas and daughter, Miss Ida Thomas; Mrs. William Worth Martin and Mrs. J. M. Hich. She will visit Egypt, Palestine, Constantinople, Rome, Florence, Pompeii and other interesting points, returning via Paris and London. While abroad she will write a number of articles for leading publications.

Miss Whiteside's works have appeared in the most representative magazines in the country. Many of her latest contributions will appear in "Surrey," the official organ of the "Bookfellows," a literary society composed of the leading writers of America. Miss Whiteside has accepted an invitation to become a member of the staff of this publication and will represent the south in this position.

Miss Cunningham Will Lecture.

Students from the home economics classes of Washington university and Girls' High school will assemble this morning at the Bell Electric shop in the Arcade to hear a talk by Miss F. E. Cunningham, of New York, on electrical appliances. Miss Cunningham will discuss the merits of each appliance—percolator, waffle iron, tea maker, egg cooker, hot water immersion heater, heating pad, vacuum cleaner, grill and toaster—and tell how they may be used to best advantage; explaining also, how a fuse may be installed and other minor repair work accomplished by the amateur. Miss Cunningham will also lecture at the various schools during the week.

Orme-Huger Wedding Invitations.

Mr. and Mrs. Aquilla John Orme have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Sarah Cobb to William Elliott Huger, on Tuesday, January 22, at 3:30 o'clock in the evening at the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church.

A brilliant reception at the Piedmont Driving club will follow the ceremony.

Writers' Club To Meet Wednesday.

The next meeting of the writers' club will be at the City club Wednesday, January 16, at 7 p. m.

Mrs. McDuffie of Asbury Park To Be Honored at Luncheon

Mrs. Phillips Campbell McDuffie has issued invitations to an elaborate luncheon at which she will entertain Wednesday, January 23, at her home on Cherokee road in compliment to Mrs. Marshall Y. McDuffie, of Asbury Park, New Jersey, who with Mr. McDuffie is visiting her son and daughter.

Luncheon will be served at 1:30 o'clock, and a prominent group of society matrons have been invited to meet the charming visitor.

Mr. and Mrs. McDuffie will spend some time with Dr. and Mrs. Henry F. McDuffie, at their home on East Tenth street, before leaving for points of interest in Florida, where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

A series of informal dinners and afternoon parties will be given for these prominent visitors during their visit in Atlanta.

Tech Woman's Club Will Meet.

The Georgia Tech Woman's club will meet with Mrs. H. H. Caldwell, 175 Westminster drive on Tuesday, January 15, at 3 o'clock.

Girls' High P. T. A. Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the Girls' High P. T. A., which was to have been held this evening in Browning hall, has been postponed in order not to conflict with the chamber of commerce dinner, and will be held latest on Wednesday evening, January 16.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Slicer and their sons, Harry and Samuel, Jr., have returned from Montgomery and have taken possession of their apartment in the Elmwood on Peachtree road.

Mrs. Gilliam Morrow is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Martha Goddard, in Washington, D. C.

M. B. Wellborn, governor of the local federal reserve bank, left Sunday for a visit to Mrs. Wellborn, who has been undergoing treatment at Hot Springs, Ark., for the past few weeks.

Mrs. J. O. Vaughn and Miss Margaret Vaughn will spend the month of February in Miami.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Richardson, who have been in Baltimore with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Inman, are now in New York at the Ritz-Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Richardson, who have been in Baltimore with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Inman, are now in New York at the Ritz-Carlton.

Walter Stewart, Jr., left last week for Hiawassee college.

John O. Donaldson has returned to New York. Mrs. Donaldson will remain with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCullough, until the first of February.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Davis left Thursday for a visit of a month to Florida resorts, the latter part to be spent on the coast at Miami.

Miss Bertha Fried, of Macon, is the attractive guest of the Misses Asher in Boulevard Court apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall V. McDuffie.

Church Circle Is Entertained.

The members of the young matrons' circle of St. Mark's Methodist church were entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. Annie Bates Walsh at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Bates, on West Peachtree street.

Foliage plants, ferns and vases of midwinter blossoms adorned the house. A fillet lace cover overlaid the tea table and held as a center decoration a silver bouquet of fruit encircled by silver candlesticks holding unshaded tapers.

Mrs. Frank Freeman and Mrs. John A. Beckin presided.

Assisting Mrs. Walsh in receiving were: Mrs. Eugene Haynes, Mrs. Langdon Quinn, Mrs. Klattie Armstrong, Mrs. William Miller, Mrs. Edwin Dean, Mrs. Fred Schaefer, Mrs. Harold Rogers, Mrs. Carl Fischer, Mrs. Dugas McCleskey, Mrs. Carl Lewis, Mrs. Pope Baker and Mrs. Ben Hall, junior.

Miss Emily Davis Is Complimented.

Miss Emily Davis, popular bride-elect of the month, was the recipient of a pretty compliment Monday afternoon when Miss Erskine Jarnagin entertained in her honor with a bridge-ten at her home on West Eleventh street.

Pink hyacinths and graceful sprays of pussywillow tied with narrow blue ribbons were arranged in handsome silver vases, and placed in the apartment reception rooms. The prizes were French novelties. Miss Davis was presented a patchwork lace handkerchief case.

Miss Jarnagin was crowned in red tulle, embroidered. Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin assisted her daughter in entertaining wearing dark blue satin back crepe.

Miss Davis was crowned in black satin trimmed with fillet lace.

Members of D. A. R. To Bring Checks.

All members of the Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., are urged to bring checks for the D. A. R. magazine, to the regular monthly meeting today.

Yesterday's Luxuries —Are Today's Necessities

The generation of people who locked up their silverware in cupboards and cabinets has given way to the generation that understands that silverware is made to use as well as to admire. At this store you will find new proof of the familiar proverb that the luxuries of yesterday are the necessities of today.

For example, a beautiful tea set, which our Grandfathers would have used only on occasions of ceremony, is now used every day at 5 o'clock tea by people who understand the utility as well as the dignity and beauty of fine silverware.

We offer, in sets and single pieces, silver for every occasion.

LATHAM & ATKINSON, Inc.

Successors to DAVIS & FREEMAN
DIAMOND AND PLATINUMSMITHS
47 Whitehall

The Only Change Is in the Name

3200 Pr. Women's Straps and Oxfords

MAIN FLOOR

Tuesday and Wednesday

ONLY

AT

$4.95

Select From Twenty-Six Styles

Including satin, suede, patent and kid—welt and turn soles—low, Cuban and Spanish heels. Pretty patterns and splendid values that will appeal to all Thrifty Women.

Remember! Tuesday and Wednesday, only!

$4.95

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

THE SOUTHERN ROUTE TO PARIS—THE MUSE FIFTH FLOOR charming Coats ranging up to $89.50:

$48

exclusive Coats reduced from $129.50 and $139.50 to:

$79

today the finer Coats ranging $149.50 to $169.50 are:

$99

for this is the final sale of Coats
Exclusive models; severe reductions

$189.50 to $249.50

COATS

$119.50

MUSE'S

"The Style Center of the South"

Peachtree :: Walton :: Broad

$289.50 to $395

COATS

$169.50

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The regular meeting of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Habersham hall. Mrs. Christian Clarke, the regent, will preside.

The Washington Seminary Alumnae association will hold a meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the seminary.

A meeting of the Piedmont Continental chapter, D. A. R., will be held today at 3 o'clock in the Hotel Ansley parlor.

Special meeting of the board of management, Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., is called by Mrs. B. C. Ward, chairman, today at 2 o'clock at Habersham hall.

The Joel Chandler Harris Parent-Teacher association will hold the regular January meeting today in the school auditorium at 2:30 o'clock.

The executive committee of the Atlanta club of the Georgia State College for Women will hold its regular monthly meeting at the City club today at 3 o'clock.

Atlanta lodge, No. 230, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will hold its regular meeting today at 2:30 o'clock in Red Men's Wigwam hall, 86 Central avenue.

The Woman's auxiliary of the Central Christian church will receive this afternoon for Mrs. J. S. Raum at the home of Mrs. E. Stewart.

The regular meeting of the Center Hill chapter, No. 235, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held this evening, January 15, 1924, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Center Hill Masonic temple, Mayson-Turner road.

The Parent-Teacher association of the R. L. Hope school on Piedmont road will hold its regular meeting today at the school.

There will be a meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of the Druid Hills Methodist Sunday school at the church this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Craig House.

The Witches' club and circles will hold their annual get-together meeting today at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Eliza Manget Home for Girls. Mrs. Combs, matron of the home, will be the hostess.

The Atlanta Agnes Scott club will hold its regular meeting today at the home of Miss Helen Wayt, on the corner of Stratford and Peachtree roads, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Warren Candler will entertain LaGrange College alumnae at her home on North Decatur road today at 3 o'clock.

RETAIL FOOD DEALERS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Installation of officers featured the 44th annual meeting of the Atlanta Retail Food Dealers' association in the Chamber of Commerce building Monday night, marking the 44th birthday of that organization. The officials were John C. Townley, president; A. C. Hildebrand, first vice president; Sam Zinkow, second vice president; Walter C. Brannan, Jr., third vice president; Morris Weinberg, treasurer; R. V. Bergen, secretary.

Following the installation, Secretary Bergen read a report of the year's activities of the body, touching upon finances, service, national food show, state convention and membership. The association gained 90 new members and lost but six during the year, he said. A buffet luncheon was served.

Mrs. and Mrs. R. E. Beale, of Edgewood, Philadelphia, adopted 25 children.

Genuine Leather Bags, leather $4.95 lined, 18 inches . . . . .

18-in. Cowhide Leather Bag, $12.50 Leather Lined . . . . .

Army Lockers, Special . . . . . $5.85

Dress Trunks, $7.50 to $35.00 From . . . . .

Foot's Trunk Factory

19 East Alabama St.

Repair Work Done on Short Notice

Exquisite creations in feminine footwear

NOW!

We can fit you in—

By Express Today—

The Puritan $11

in Patent Leather

and Black Russia Calf—

The French Shoppe

Just Plain Human

The skill of the most capable specialist in the world counts for nought unless it is humanized. When you come to us about your eyes you are not "just a case" but a personal friend who needs help, and as such you receive personal, painstaking service from our optometrists. That's what makes "Hawkes" Glasses so popular.

A. K. Hawkes Co.

Optometrists-Opticians—14 Whitehall

Mrs. Holtzendorf Is Entertained At Fitzgerald

Fitzgerald, Ga., January 14.—A large number of social affairs are being given in honor of Mrs. C. A. Holtzendorf, of Atlanta, who is a most attractive visitor.

Tuesday Mrs. R. E. Lee invited several intimate friends to a spend-the-day party at her lovely home on Lee street. Miss Bessie Smith entertained at the Empire hotel on Wednesday evening at a beautiful dinner, party which was followed with a game of Mah Jongg.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. E. A. Russell gave a bridge-luncheon. Mrs. Holtzendorf, shared honors on Friday afternoon with Miss Rosa Lee Peterson, a lovely bride-elect, and Miss Kidd, of Portland, Oregon, at a tea given by Mrs. L. A. Turner. Mrs. O. L. Bradshaw and Mrs. J. E. Parrott. Later in the afternoon she was honored at the regular meeting of the D. A. R. organization of which she is a charter member.

Mrs. Clayton will entertain with a card party Saturday morning to which a large number of guests have been invited.

STATE TAKES OVER SOUTH DAKOTA BANK

Sioux Falls, S. D., January 14.—The Sioux Falls Trust and Savings bank, with deposits of $5,000,000 today was placed under the supervision of the state depositors' guaranty fund commission and will temporarily suspend payments on deposits, it was announced. First reports were that the bank had been closed, but those were corrected by the subsequent announcement that the institution would remain open under state supervision.

Who Will Be Picked as Atlanta's Sweetheart

MARY PICKFORD

Photographs of the girls wishing to enter the Atlanta Sweetheart test are now being made at Wesley Hirschberg's studio free of charge. Girls, if you wish to enter the Atlanta Sweetheart test take a copy of The Constitution containing a story about this contest and go to Mr. Hirschberg's studio and express to him your desire to enter the test. He will take your picture free of charge and enter it in the test.

Beginning tomorrow a photograph of one of the entrants will be run in The Constitution and each day thereafter up until Thursday of next week a picture of one of the girls will be run. Thursday night at the 7:10 performance the prizes will be given to the winners of the Atlanta Sweetheart test on the Howard stage.

The Howard, in connection with the showing of Mary Pickford in "Rosita," which will be shown at the Howard the week of January 21, is giving cash prizes to the girls who most resemble Mary Pickford. Twenty-five dollars first prize, fifteen dollars second prize, five dollars third prize, three dollars fourth prize and two dollars fifth prize.

If you wish to enter the test have your picture made as early as possible at Wesley Hirschberg's studio, and it will be entered immediately in the contest. That's all you need to do—have your picture taken and you are in the contest.

SAVE THE TROUBLE OF COFFEE MAKING—USE Washington's Coffee

IT IS MADE JUST DISSOLVE AND DRINK IT.

A GREAT CONVENIENCE AND OH, SO GOOD!

Washington's Coffee

IT IS MADE JUST DISSOLVE AND DRINK IT.

A GREAT CONVENIENCE AND OH, SO GOOD!

Washington's Coffee

IT IS MADE JUST DISSOLVE AND DRINK IT.

A GREAT CONVENIENCE AND OH, SO GOOD!

Washington's Coffee

IT IS MADE JUST DISSOLVE AND DRINK IT.

A GREAT CONVENIENCE AND OH, SO GOOD!

Washington's Coffee

IT IS MADE JUST DISSOLVE AND DRINK IT.

A GREAT CONVENIENCE AND OH, SO GOOD!

Leader of Auxiliary Unit

Photo by Mathewson & Price, Staff Photographers.

Mrs. George Corley, president of the newly organized woman's auxiliary unit of the Argonne Post of the American Legion. This group of civic minded women is undertaking a broad program in behalf of the ex-service men, and led by the efficient president, will cooperate with the legion in furthering its work. Mrs. Corley comes to this office with a constructive background of successful achievements, wide executive ability and a charming personality.

Judge Sibley Addresses Meeting of Woman's Club

"Americanization" was the subject of discussion at the Atlanta Woman's club Monday afternoon, when Judge Samuel C. Sibley addressed a capacity audience at the regular meeting of the club. Other speakers appearing on the program were H. K. Bush-Brown, ex-Mayor Key and Mrs. M. C. Hardin, in connection with the board of the city planning board.

Judge Sibley's explanation of Americanization, or naturalization, proved of great interest to all present. He brought out the fact that naturalization had existed since the beginning of the nation and in this connection gave the many requirements necessary for the foreigner to become a citizen of the United States. "The requirements of applicants are five years continuous residence," declared Judge Sibley, "together with a declaration two years at least before application, of willingness to renounce former allegiance and purpose of citizenship, to be in favor of organized government, not a polygamist in practice or belief and a showing of good moral character. There must be no title of nobility and must speak some English."

Causes of Exclusion. Judge Sibley stated that the causes for exclusion of aliens included insanity, idiocy, contagious disease, alcoholism, paupers, vagrants, contract laborers, inability to read any language, conviction of crime, polygamists, anarchists.

"We want no strife," continued Judge Sibley, "we want good citizens. Laws are nothing of themselves, it is entirely with the people as to what value our laws are to us; there must be public sentiment behind our laws to make them of any avail. We must show a spirit of friendliness to these strangers and not treat them with cold indifference. It is our duty individually to help them to be good citizens."

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, president of the club, presided at the meeting and asked that Mrs. J. D. Evans, chairman of the Americanization division, present the speaker. Mrs. Evans in the fact that we have here Judge Sibley, gave several interesting incidents of her experience in this work, and introduced the speaker as a man who had possibly done more to further the cause of naturalization than any other official in the south.

Bush-Brown Speaks. Following the discussion of Americanization, Mr. Bush-Brown, of Washington, D. C., delivered a short address on the value of art in the city. He spoke of the value of the park system and the importance of having a landscape artist or architect on the city planning board. He said that Atlanta had the same problem that Cleveland, Washington and other cities had, that of keeping pace with its growth and trying to beautify as it builds. He paid a great tribute to the work being done at Stone mountain, of the department of architecture at Georgia Tech and called attention to the fact that we have here Judge Sibley, who has made great use of the resources of marble and clay, which would make it greatly to the advantage of Georgia to have a department of sculptural training.

He closed his remarks by saying that it is through the fine arts that we measure the greatness of a nation.

Mrs. Norman Sharp, chairman of the Curb Market committee, announced the postponement of the laying of the cornerstone of the new building on the corner of the new market street, on account of the exercises at Stone mountain, next Saturday. As chairman of the program for the market ceremonies, Mrs. Sharp invited all the women present to the beginning of the nation and in this connection gave the many requirements necessary for the foreigner to become a citizen of the United States.

"The requirements of applicants are five years continuous residence," declared Judge Sibley, "together with a declaration two years at least before application, of willingness to renounce former allegiance and purpose of citizenship, to be in favor of organized government, not a polygamist in practice or belief and a showing of good moral character. There must be no title of nobility and must speak some English."

"We want no strife," continued Judge Sibley, "we want good citizens. Laws are nothing of themselves, it is entirely with the people as to what value our laws are to us; there must be public sentiment behind our laws to make them of any avail. We must show a spirit of friendliness to these strangers and not treat them with cold indifference. It is our duty individually to help them to be good citizens."

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, president of the club, presided at the meeting and asked that Mrs. J. D. Evans, chairman of the Americanization division, present the speaker. Mrs. Evans in the fact that we have here Judge Sibley, gave several interesting incidents of her experience in this work, and introduced the speaker as a man who had possibly done more to further the cause of naturalization than any other official in the south.

Bush-Brown Speaks. Following the discussion of Americanization, Mr. Bush-Brown, of Washington, D. C., delivered a short address on the value of art in the city. He spoke of the value of the park system and the importance of having a landscape artist or architect on the city planning board. He said that Atlanta had the same problem that Cleveland, Washington and other cities had, that of keeping pace with its growth and trying to beautify as it builds. He paid a great tribute to the work being done at Stone mountain, of the department of architecture at Georgia Tech and called attention to the fact that we have here Judge Sibley, who has made great use of the resources of marble and clay, which would make it greatly to the advantage of Georgia to have a department of sculptural training.

He closed his remarks by saying that it is through the fine arts that we measure the greatness of a nation.

Mrs. Norman Sharp, chairman of the Curb Market committee, announced the postponement of the laying of the cornerstone of the new building on the corner of the new market street, on account of the exercises at Stone mountain, next Saturday. As chairman of the program for the market ceremonies, Mrs. Sharp invited all the women present to the beginning of the nation and in this connection gave the many requirements necessary for the foreigner to become a citizen of the United States.

"The requirements of applicants are five years continuous residence," declared Judge Sibley, "together with a declaration two years at least before application, of willingness to renounce former allegiance and purpose of citizenship, to be in favor of organized government, not a polygamist in practice or belief and a showing of good moral character. There must be no title of nobility and must speak some English."

Miss Ruth Mayson Is Entertained At Pre-Nuptial Affairs

Miss Eyerlin Broom will entertain at a bridge-tee Wednesday afternoon, at her home on North Jackson in compliment to Miss Ruth Mayson, charming bride-elect, whose marriage will be an interesting event of February 6.

The guests will include, Misses Martha Steffen, Juliette Crenshaw, Martha Boykin, Nannette Griffith, Eleanor Welborn, Venice Mayson, Margaret Dove, Mrs. Harris Robinson, Mrs. Verlin, Mrs. Lyn, Mrs. Gibson, Miss Eloise Ivy and Miss Simon Van Opem, of Paris, France. Many other parties are being planned for Miss Mayson. Mrs. M. E. Gooding will entertain Thursday in honor of Miss Mayson.

Wednesday, January 23, Miss Lila Ponder will entertain at a bridge-tee in honor of Miss Mayson. Among those who will compliment Miss Mayson are Misses Corday Rice, Martha Boykin, Lillian Ashley, Eleanor Delborn, Martha Stisser, Mrs. B. E. Donaldson and Mrs. Annie May Lynn.

The marriage of Miss Fannie Mae Meaders and John W. Small, Jr., will be solemnized this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. Edwin Peeples and Mrs. Norman Coolidge will entertain at a luncheon for Miss Henrietta Davis.

Miss Margaret MacIntyre will give a bridge-tee at her home for Miss Emily Davis, Mrs. Grady Black and Mrs. Dan Manly.

Miss Elizabeth Owens will compliment Miss Theodora Owens and Miss Henrietta Davis with a tea at her home in Druid Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grady will give a buffet supper for Miss Theodora Owens and Charles Black, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lochridge will entertain in honor of Miss Henrietta Davis and James W. Spears.

The younger set of the army will entertain at one of a series of dances at the Officers' club.

Mrs. Scott Hudson will entertain at an afternoon tea this afternoon at her home in East Lake in honor of Miss Davis.

The marriage of Miss Fannie Mae Meaders and John W. Small, Jr., will be solemnized this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Warner will entertain the Builders' club at dinner this evening at their home on Blue Ridge avenue.

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

Tub Suits and Hats For Boys

Of 2 to 10 Years

Sailor Suits, of Stonewall Make. Regular long pants sailor style suits, made of durable white cotton jeans, splendidly tailored in the famous "Stonewall" way. Blue collars and cuffs, with three rows of white braid, emblems on the sleeves, and black silk tie.

Real Quality Suits, these, at $2.00.

Sailor Suits--2 Pr. Pants

This smart little model is like the above described suit, with regular sailor pants and another pair of short pants, in blue to match collar and cuffs.

Suits with 2 Pr. Pants, $2.95.

Boys' Wash Hats

Middy Hats, of tub fabrics, in white, navy, red, tan, khaki, green, grey, pink.

Also with white crown and turned-up brim, in any of above colors.

Specially good Values, at ..... 69c

Sailor Hats, also washable, in white, navy, grey, green, at 75c

Boys' Section—Main Floor

As to Merchandise

Every road to good merchandise is open to us. Makers of quality products play no favorites, for those who produce what is really good never have need to sacrifice their legitimate profits to sell their merchandise!

So it is up to us to select with care and intelligence as we travel along the highway of merchandising.

It is our purpose to present the results as simply and clearly as we can, trying to avoid all extravagant claims.

We are far from claiming perfection, but we propose to strive with real earnestness toward such an ideal.

As to merchandise that we sell, we take a real pride in it. With every road open to us, we have used our knowledge acquired through many years of experience to select only that merchandise that measures up to our standard—the standard of what we think is due those who place their confidence in us.

Our invitation is—examine—compare—criticize—try to discover our motive.

Extreme Clearance Prices

On Handsome Velvet Dresses

Costumes for street, afternoon and evening wear. A group of unusually handsome Velvet Dresses, in black and colors. Some are combined with metal brocades, lace trimmed or beaded. Many are beautifully trimmed in bands of furs.

$45.00 to $298.50 Models

At $19.00 to $95.00

Sports Dresses

A small group of one-piece Sports Frocks, straight-line, belted and pocketed models, in novelty woolsens, two-tone plaids and stripes, camel's hair cloth. Splendid for street and business wear.

$35.00 and $37.50 Dresses

At $15.00

Street Dresses at Half Price!

Twills and Satins, in black, navy, brown and cocoa shades. Many attractive models, quite varied in designs and trimmings.

$25.00 to $75.00 Dresses

$12.50 to $37.50

A Sale Extraordinary Of First-Quality Real Laces

Filet—Irish—Venice—Vals

All at Prices
Much Below
the Usual

A most remarkable display of fine laces, notable for quality, variety, quantity and low prices. We stress the fact of first quality in all the laces shown in this sale, for there are seconds in real laces, none the less "real," but, of course, of an inferior quality.

Here are real laces for every purpose. Patch work, fancy linens, underwear, dresses, children's clothes, trousseaus—and all at prices that make it well worth while to provide as far ahead as it is possible to plan!

Real Filet Laces

Filet Picot,  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch, yard ..... 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c
Filet Picot,  $\frac{3}{4}$  and 1 inch, yard ..... 25c
Filet Cross Edge, yard ..... 25c
Filet Heart Edge, yard ..... 25c
Filet Beadings, yard ..... 29c to 49c

Filets Up to 5 Inches Wide

Edges, the yard ..... 29c to $2.50
Bands, the yard ..... 33c to $2.50

Real Antique Filet

Some beautiful edges and bands in medium and wide designs.

Antique Filets, at ..... 45c to $1.95
Real Armenian Edges, yard, 35c to 69c
Hand-made Tatting, yard, 29c and 39c

Real Irish Laces

Exquisite qualities and designs—none of the light weights that "string" when pulled!

$\frac{1}{2}$  to 5 Inches Wide

Irish Picot, yard ..... 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ c and 15c
Irish Beading, yard ..... 25c to 95c
Irish Bands, yard ..... 29c to $3.95
Irish Edges, yard ..... 59c to $3.95

Real Venice Laces

Real Venice Laces in beautiful edgings,  $\frac{1}{2}$  to 2 inches wide. Prices range, yard 45c to \$1.95.

Real Val Laces

Many pretty designs in bands and edges— $\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\frac{3}{4}$  inches. Real Vals. at ..... 35c to 65c

Real Lace Medallions

Round, square, oval, butterfly, triangle—designs and shapes that will delight the lover of pretty laces!

Filet Medallions, at ..... 5c to $1.25
Irish Medallions, at ..... 10c to 89c
Venice Medallions, at ..... 15c to 95c
Antique Medallions, at ..... 19c to 79c

The First Soft Rustling of Spring Is Heard From the Opening Folds of the

New Spring Silks

—And every yard measures full content of real quality—the best of its kind—and every piece priced as low as like quality may be bought!

Printed Crepes de Chine in fancy designs of new spring colorings. 40 in. wide, yard $2.95 to $4.50

Changeable Gros de Londre in exquisite light shades for evening dresses. 36 inches wide, yard ..... $3.50

Pussy Willow Taffeta in black, white and many beautiful shades. 40 inches wide, yard ..... $3.50

Quality Taffetas in the best of street and evening shades. 36 inches wide, yard ..... $2.25 to $3.50

Wash Satin in white and flesh. 36 inches wide, yard ..... $1.95

Wash Satin of very superior quality, flesh, white, pink, blue, peach, orchid. 33 inches wide, yard ..... $2.50

Skinner's Satin, cotton back, heavy quality in black and in white. 36 inches wide, yard ..... $2.45

Crepes de Chine in black, white and 20 shades for street and evening. A most exceptional quality and price. 40 inches wide, yard ..... $1.59

Crepes de Chine of very superior quality in black, white and 30 colors. 40 inches wide, yd. .... $1.95

Canton Crepe, black, white, and colors. 40 inches wide, yard ..... $2.95

Silk Broadcloth in white and many combinations of striped colors. 32 inches wide, yd. .... $1.95

Figured Crepes, Cheney Silks of charming new spring designs. 40 inches wide, yard ..... $3.95

Two-Season Satin, cotton back for linings, black and colors. 36 inches wide, yard ..... $1.39

Skinner's Satin, all silk, in black and many shades. 36 inches wide, yard ..... $2.45

The Finest of the New Woolens For Spring Wear

Fabrics of great beauty of texture and magnificent wearing qualities are prominent among the new woolen dress goods.

Charmeen, black, navy, marine, mocha, graystone, artichoke, pampas, a great favorite, 54 inches, yard ..... $5.75

Charminette, black, navy, badger, 54 inches wide, yard ..... $6.95

Covert Charmeen, yard ..... $7.50

Twill Cord in black and navy with pin stripes. In black, tan and grey with white pin checks. 54 inches wide, yard ..... $7.50

Curleen Plaids, a very beautiful soft woven twill fabric with a self plaid effect, for coats, dresses, capes. Black, navy, mocha, graystone. 54 inches wide, yard ..... $7.95

Patou Crepe, a handsome fabric, in black, navy, and mocha. 54 inches wide, yard ..... $7.50

Romeen, in black and navy blue. 54 inches wide, yard ..... $6.95

Short Selling in Cotton Foolhardy, Declares Price Operator

BY THEODORE H. PRICE.
Editor Commerce and Finance.
New York, January 14.—In speculative parlance the cotton market is growing stale. The prospective shortage in the world's supply is so self-evident that short selling is no longer a profitable speculation. On the other hand, speculative buying for the long account is restrained by the fear that the inevitable curtailment may convert the theoretical deficiency into a surplus. This has happened in the past and is not an impossibility, however, vociferously it may be gained.

The curtailment in effect today is undoubtedly important. Eight out of ten plants of the B. B. & R. Knight Cotton Textile Corporation, went on a strike last week. The strike of the Arctic, Centerville, Grant, Nottingham, Pontiac, Royal Valley, Queen and White Rock mills are other Rhode Island plants which have been closed. Their executives claim they are unable to sell their full production for the last four or five months.

In Maine the York Manufacturing Company of Saco, the Bates and Androscoggin Mills at Lewiston and the Edwards Manufacturing company at Augusta have made a similar move on a three-day-a-week basis. The Nashua Manufacturing company, of an indefinite period, and the Cohasset of the Pacific Mills is idle. In Massachusetts the Ipswich and Merrimack mills are running at half capacity and the Fall River print cloth mills at 55 per cent to 70 per cent while the New Bedford yarn mills are about on a similar basis.

In the south nearly all the mills are running on full time and most of them claim to be selling their goods at a profit. But there is no doubt that the southern manufacturers were wiser than the northern ones in their judgment of the cotton market this season. They bought earlier, therefore their cotton cost them less and up to now they have been able to sell their goods more cheaply. It remains to be seen how long they will have this advantage.

The southern holders of the unsold "remnant of the crop are meantime unperturbed. Many of them insist that their cotton is worth 40 cents and this time.

Y. Stock Transactions

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Constitution Bureau.

T. J. Bryson, Mgr. Phone 184.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Rome's latest industrial enterprise, the $100,000 branch of the Chester Knitting Mills, began operations this morning when W. R. Crites, representative of the plant, closed the switch that set the 150 machines in operation.

Because the machines used are different from any ever used in this section, less than 25 operators began work. Ten more will be taken on tomorrow morning and an additional 100 will be needed to run the plant at work. This will be within 15 working days at the outside, it is announced.

The payroll of the new concern will run approximately $13,000 a month when a full force of operatives for the machines are employed. The management of the plant announced that it is the company's plan to double the capacity of the mill as soon as the employees now being taken on have become familiar with the work and the company expects that it can secure help to operate the additional machines. These conditions are expected to be met within the next three months, at the outside.

Midway Barred at Floyd.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Floyd county's fair will run next fall through "midway" if present plans go through.

Having chosen Wyatt Foster as secretary of the fair association, the board of directors have gone on record as favoring a fair without "side shows," other games of chance, or "side shows." They will attempt to get rid of devices, however, and hope to complete these plans by the end of the year.

The board of directors have also taken various sorts of entertainments by local amateurs. The atmosphere of the average "midway" is undesirable, the directors hold.

Floyd Opens Court Term.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

With an unusually heavy docket, the January term of the Floyd superior court opened here this morning. The session will run for three weeks, the first two devoted to civil business, and the third to criminal cases. An even docket is expected for trial this week, including 37 divorce cases which will be heard on Saturday.

The trials of T. C. Autrey and W. R. Bradford, charged with conspiracy under indictment for misappropriation of county funds, will attract more attention than any others to be tried at this term. Both men are being considered running for reelection in case of their vindication by a jury.

Emory Alumni To Meet.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

The first meeting of the Emory Alumni association will be held at the General Forrest hotel on the night of January 20. Thirty-six graduates and thirty-five faculty members of the Emory university, the Emory Law school, and the Atlanta Medical college have accepted invitations to be present. Dr. M. M. McCord, president of the organization, was entrusted, will call the meeting to order and preside during the election of officers, which will be the first business transacted.

Darden Assumes Duties.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

W. T. Darden, newly appointed division engineer of the Rome division of the state highway department, today began an inspection tour which will eventually take him over all of the highways in this district. Mr. Darden reached Rome Saturday from Athens, where he had been division engineer of the fourth district for more than two years.

E. M. Arnold, maintenance engineer of the local division, and W. M. Darden, construction engineer, will continue to perform the duties of their respective offices. Mr. Darden announced that the recent plan of the state highway department to put Fulton, DeKalb, Carroll and Campbell counties in this division has been abandoned except as regards Fulton, which is now in the Rome division.

Woman Saves Home.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Prompt and cool-headed action by Mrs. Lindsey Johnson, president of the Rome Women's club, saved her historic home, Rio Vista, from burning Saturday night, according to local firemen. An oil heater got out of control and was blazing angrily when Mrs. Johnson discovered it. She promptly got two heavy blankets with which she kept the fire from spreading and for the latter to use the largest of chemical apparatus to put out the fire.

Long "Smoke" Fight Seen.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

John B. Vandiver, commissioner of revenue, does not expect the fight on the state cigar and cigarette tax to be closed any time soon. However, the case may be decided, there is every reason to expect that it will be carried to the higher courts to be fought by Mr. Vandiver who is here for the week-end.

Reports from all sections of the state are to the effect, however, that dealers are collecting the tax and the opinion seems to prevail among them, Mr. Vandiver reports, that the tax law will "stick." Most dealers are said to favor the new law because it relieves them of the tax they have been paying and passes it along to the consumer.

Roman Will Speak.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

W. R. Crites, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, left Rome this afternoon for Augusta where he will deliver an address on Wednesday night before the executive committee of the national real estate board and the Georgia real estate board, which are to hold sessions in that city from Tuesday to Friday, inclusive. Mr. Crites will talk of Georgia's real estate to both organizations Wednesday evening.

THREAT OF RAID OF KLAN EXCITES BOTTLE BOATERS

Highlands, N. J., January 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Excited and volatile groups of men, whose operation of rum running boats between this port and the rum fleet off shore is an open secret, gathered in the streets today and considered means of frustrating a reported Ku Klux Klan raid against them.

The Klan gave evidence last night that "clear-up" campaign would be inaugurated. Five hundred Kluksmen crowded into the little Methodist church when speakers warned their warning from the pulpit.

Vandell's theaters in the United States raised more than $200,000 for Japanese relief immediately after the earthquake.

Y. Stock Transactions

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Constitution Bureau.

T. J. Bryson, Mgr. Phone 184.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Rome's latest industrial enterprise, the $100,000 branch of the Chester Knitting Mills, began operations this morning when W. R. Crites, representative of the plant, closed the switch that set the 150 machines in operation.

Because the machines used are different from any ever used in this section, less than 25 operators began work. Ten more will be taken on tomorrow morning and an additional 100 will be needed to run the plant at work. This will be within 15 working days at the outside, it is announced.

The payroll of the new concern will run approximately $13,000 a month when a full force of operatives for the machines are employed. The management of the plant announced that it is the company's plan to double the capacity of the mill as soon as the employees now being taken on have become familiar with the work and the company expects that it can secure help to operate the additional machines. These conditions are expected to be met within the next three months, at the outside.

Midway Barred at Floyd.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Floyd county's fair will run next fall through "midway" if present plans go through.

Having chosen Wyatt Foster as secretary of the fair association, the board of directors have gone on record as favoring a fair without "side shows," other games of chance, or "side shows." They will attempt to get rid of devices, however, and hope to complete these plans by the end of the year.

The board of directors have also taken various sorts of entertainments by local amateurs. The atmosphere of the average "midway" is undesirable, the directors hold.

Floyd Opens Court Term.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

With an unusually heavy docket, the January term of the Floyd superior court opened here this morning. The session will run for three weeks, the first two devoted to civil business, and the third to criminal cases. An even docket is expected for trial this week, including 37 divorce cases which will be heard on Saturday.

The trials of T. C. Autrey and W. R. Bradford, charged with conspiracy under indictment for misappropriation of county funds, will attract more attention than any others to be tried at this term. Both men are being considered running for reelection in case of their vindication by a jury.

Emory Alumni To Meet.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

The first meeting of the Emory Alumni association will be held at the General Forrest hotel on the night of January 20. Thirty-six graduates and thirty-five faculty members of the Emory university, the Emory Law school, and the Atlanta Medical college have accepted invitations to be present. Dr. M. M. McCord, president of the organization, was entrusted, will call the meeting to order and preside during the election of officers, which will be the first business transacted.

Darden Assumes Duties.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

W. T. Darden, newly appointed division engineer of the Rome division of the state highway department, today began an inspection tour which will eventually take him over all of the highways in this district. Mr. Darden reached Rome Saturday from Athens, where he had been division engineer of the fourth district for more than two years.

E. M. Arnold, maintenance engineer of the local division, and W. M. Darden, construction engineer, will continue to perform the duties of their respective offices. Mr. Darden announced that the recent plan of the state highway department to put Fulton, DeKalb, Carroll and Campbell counties in this division has been abandoned except as regards Fulton, which is now in the Rome division.

Woman Saves Home.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Prompt and cool-headed action by Mrs. Lindsey Johnson, president of the Rome Women's club, saved her historic home, Rio Vista, from burning Saturday night, according to local firemen. An oil heater got out of control and was blazing angrily when Mrs. Johnson discovered it. She promptly got two heavy blankets with which she kept the fire from spreading and for the latter to use the largest of chemical apparatus to put out the fire.

Long "Smoke" Fight Seen.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

John B. Vandiver, commissioner of revenue, does not expect the fight on the state cigar and cigarette tax to be closed any time soon. However, the case may be decided, there is every reason to expect that it will be carried to the higher courts to be fought by Mr. Vandiver who is here for the week-end.

Reports from all sections of the state are to the effect, however, that dealers are collecting the tax and the opinion seems to prevail among them, Mr. Vandiver reports, that the tax law will "stick." Most dealers are said to favor the new law because it relieves them of the tax they have been paying and passes it along to the consumer.

Roman Will Speak.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

W. R. Crites, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, left Rome this afternoon for Augusta where he will deliver an address on Wednesday night before the executive committee of the national real estate board and the Georgia real estate board, which are to hold sessions in that city from Tuesday to Friday, inclusive. Mr. Crites will talk of Georgia's real estate to both organizations Wednesday evening.

THREAT OF RAID OF KLAN EXCITES BOTTLE BOATERS

Highlands, N. J., January 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Excited and volatile groups of men, whose operation of rum running boats between this port and the rum fleet off shore is an open secret, gathered in the streets today and considered means of frustrating a reported Ku Klux Klan raid against them.

The Klan gave evidence last night that "clear-up" campaign would be inaugurated. Five hundred Kluksmen crowded into the little Methodist church when speakers warned their warning from the pulpit.

Vandell's theaters in the United States raised more than $200,000 for Japanese relief immediately after the earthquake.

Elder To Assist Cree at Georgia Baptist Hospital

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Constitution Bureau.

T. J. Bryson, Mgr. Phone 184.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Rome's latest industrial enterprise, the $100,000 branch of the Chester Knitting Mills, began operations this morning when W. R. Crites, representative of the plant, closed the switch that set the 150 machines in operation.

Because the machines used are different from any ever used in this section, less than 25 operators began work. Ten more will be taken on tomorrow morning and an additional 100 will be needed to run the plant at work. This will be within 15 working days at the outside, it is announced.

The payroll of the new concern will run approximately $13,000 a month when a full force of operatives for the machines are employed. The management of the plant announced that it is the company's plan to double the capacity of the mill as soon as the employees now being taken on have become familiar with the work and the company expects that it can secure help to operate the additional machines. These conditions are expected to be met within the next three months, at the outside.

Midway Barred at Floyd.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Floyd county's fair will run next fall through "midway" if present plans go through.

Having chosen Wyatt Foster as secretary of the fair association, the board of directors have gone on record as favoring a fair without "side shows," other games of chance, or "side shows." They will attempt to get rid of devices, however, and hope to complete these plans by the end of the year.

The board of directors have also taken various sorts of entertainments by local amateurs. The atmosphere of the average "midway" is undesirable, the directors hold.

Floyd Opens Court Term.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

With an unusually heavy docket, the January term of the Floyd superior court opened here this morning. The session will run for three weeks, the first two devoted to civil business, and the third to criminal cases. An even docket is expected for trial this week, including 37 divorce cases which will be heard on Saturday.

The trials of T. C. Autrey and W. R. Bradford, charged with conspiracy under indictment for misappropriation of county funds, will attract more attention than any others to be tried at this term. Both men are being considered running for reelection in case of their vindication by a jury.

Emory Alumni To Meet.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

The first meeting of the Emory Alumni association will be held at the General Forrest hotel on the night of January 20. Thirty-six graduates and thirty-five faculty members of the Emory university, the Emory Law school, and the Atlanta Medical college have accepted invitations to be present. Dr. M. M. McCord, president of the organization, was entrusted, will call the meeting to order and preside during the election of officers, which will be the first business transacted.

Darden Assumes Duties.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

W. T. Darden, newly appointed division engineer of the Rome division of the state highway department, today began an inspection tour which will eventually take him over all of the highways in this district. Mr. Darden reached Rome Saturday from Athens, where he had been division engineer of the fourth district for more than two years.

E. M. Arnold, maintenance engineer of the local division, and W. M. Darden, construction engineer, will continue to perform the duties of their respective offices. Mr. Darden announced that the recent plan of the state highway department to put Fulton, DeKalb, Carroll and Campbell counties in this division has been abandoned except as regards Fulton, which is now in the Rome division.

Woman Saves Home.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Prompt and cool-headed action by Mrs. Lindsey Johnson, president of the Rome Women's club, saved her historic home, Rio Vista, from burning Saturday night, according to local firemen. An oil heater got out of control and was blazing angrily when Mrs. Johnson discovered it. She promptly got two heavy blankets with which she kept the fire from spreading and for the latter to use the largest of chemical apparatus to put out the fire.

Long "Smoke" Fight Seen.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

John B. Vandiver, commissioner of revenue, does not expect the fight on the state cigar and cigarette tax to be closed any time soon. However, the case may be decided, there is every reason to expect that it will be carried to the higher courts to be fought by Mr. Vandiver who is here for the week-end.

Reports from all sections of the state are to the effect, however, that dealers are collecting the tax and the opinion seems to prevail among them, Mr. Vandiver reports, that the tax law will "stick." Most dealers are said to favor the new law because it relieves them of the tax they have been paying and passes it along to the consumer.

Roman Will Speak.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

W. R. Crites, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, left Rome this afternoon for Augusta where he will deliver an address on Wednesday night before the executive committee of the national real estate board and the Georgia real estate board, which are to hold sessions in that city from Tuesday to Friday, inclusive. Mr. Crites will talk of Georgia's real estate to both organizations Wednesday evening.

THREAT OF RAID OF KLAN EXCITES BOTTLE BOATERS

Highlands, N. J., January 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Excited and volatile groups of men, whose operation of rum running boats between this port and the rum fleet off shore is an open secret, gathered in the streets today and considered means of frustrating a reported Ku Klux Klan raid against them.

The Klan gave evidence last night that "clear-up" campaign would be inaugurated. Five hundred Kluksmen crowded into the little Methodist church when speakers warned their warning from the pulpit.

Vandell's theaters in the United States raised more than $200,000 for Japanese relief immediately after the earthquake.

CURB MARKET

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Constitution Bureau.

T. J. Bryson, Mgr. Phone 184.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Rome's latest industrial enterprise, the $100,000 branch of the Chester Knitting Mills, began operations this morning when W. R. Crites, representative of the plant, closed the switch that set the 150 machines in operation.

Because the machines used are different from any ever used in this section, less than 25 operators began work. Ten more will be taken on tomorrow morning and an additional 100 will be needed to run the plant at work. This will be within 15 working days at the outside, it is announced.

The payroll of the new concern will run approximately $13,000 a month when a full force of operatives for the machines are employed. The management of the plant announced that it is the company's plan to double the capacity of the mill as soon as the employees now being taken on have become familiar with the work and the company expects that it can secure help to operate the additional machines. These conditions are expected to be met within the next three months, at the outside.

Midway Barred at Floyd.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Floyd county's fair will run next fall through "midway" if present plans go through.

Having chosen Wyatt Foster as secretary of the fair association, the board of directors have gone on record as favoring a fair without "side shows," other games of chance, or "side shows." They will attempt to get rid of devices, however, and hope to complete these plans by the end of the year.

The board of directors have also taken various sorts of entertainments by local amateurs. The atmosphere of the average "midway" is undesirable, the directors hold.

Floyd Opens Court Term.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

With an unusually heavy docket, the January term of the Floyd superior court opened here this morning. The session will run for three weeks, the first two devoted to civil business, and the third to criminal cases. An even docket is expected for trial this week, including 37 divorce cases which will be heard on Saturday.

The trials of T. C. Autrey and W. R. Bradford, charged with conspiracy under indictment for misappropriation of county funds, will attract more attention than any others to be tried at this term. Both men are being considered running for reelection in case of their vindication by a jury.

Emory Alumni To Meet.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

The first meeting of the Emory Alumni association will be held at the General Forrest hotel on the night of January 20. Thirty-six graduates and thirty-five faculty members of the Emory university, the Emory Law school, and the Atlanta Medical college have accepted invitations to be present. Dr. M. M. McCord, president of the organization, was entrusted, will call the meeting to order and preside during the election of officers, which will be the first business transacted.

Darden Assumes Duties.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

W. T. Darden, newly appointed division engineer of the Rome division of the state highway department, today began an inspection tour which will eventually take him over all of the highways in this district. Mr. Darden reached Rome Saturday from Athens, where he had been division engineer of the fourth district for more than two years.

E. M. Arnold, maintenance engineer of the local division, and W. M. Darden, construction engineer, will continue to perform the duties of their respective offices. Mr. Darden announced that the recent plan of the state highway department to put Fulton, DeKalb, Carroll and Campbell counties in this division has been abandoned except as regards Fulton, which is now in the Rome division.

Woman Saves Home.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Prompt and cool-headed action by Mrs. Lindsey Johnson, president of the Rome Women's club, saved her historic home, Rio Vista, from burning Saturday night, according to local firemen. An oil heater got out of control and was blazing angrily when Mrs. Johnson discovered it. She promptly got two heavy blankets with which she kept the fire from spreading and for the latter to use the largest of chemical apparatus to put out the fire.

Long "Smoke" Fight Seen.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

John B. Vandiver, commissioner of revenue, does not expect the fight on the state cigar and cigarette tax to be closed any time soon. However, the case may be decided, there is every reason to expect that it will be carried to the higher courts to be fought by Mr. Vandiver who is here for the week-end.

Reports from all sections of the state are to the effect, however, that dealers are collecting the tax and the opinion seems to prevail among them, Mr. Vandiver reports, that the tax law will "stick." Most dealers are said to favor the new law because it relieves them of the tax they have been paying and passes it along to the consumer.

Roman Will Speak.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

W. R. Crites, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, left Rome this afternoon for Augusta where he will deliver an address on Wednesday night before the executive committee of the national real estate board and the Georgia real estate board, which are to hold sessions in that city from Tuesday to Friday, inclusive. Mr. Crites will talk of Georgia's real estate to both organizations Wednesday evening.

THREAT OF RAID OF KLAN EXCITES BOTTLE BOATERS

Highlands, N. J., January 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Excited and volatile groups of men, whose operation of rum running boats between this port and the rum fleet off shore is an open secret, gathered in the streets today and considered means of frustrating a reported Ku Klux Klan raid against them.

The Klan gave evidence last night that "clear-up" campaign would be inaugurated. Five hundred Kluksmen crowded into the little Methodist church when speakers warned their warning from the pulpit.

Vandell's theaters in the United States raised more than $200,000 for Japanese relief immediately after the earthquake.

Judge Smith Honored BY COURT OF APPEALS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Constitution Bureau.

T. J. Bryson, Mgr. Phone 184.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Rome's latest industrial enterprise, the $100,000 branch of the Chester Knitting Mills, began operations this morning when W. R. Crites, representative of the plant, closed the switch that set the 150 machines in operation.

Because the machines used are different from any ever used in this section, less than 25 operators began work. Ten more will be taken on tomorrow morning and an additional 100 will be needed to run the plant at work. This will be within 15 working days at the outside, it is announced.

The payroll of the new concern will run approximately $13,000 a month when a full force of operatives for the machines are employed. The management of the plant announced that it is the company's plan to double the capacity of the mill as soon as the employees now being taken on have become familiar with the work and the company expects that it can secure help to operate the additional machines. These conditions are expected to be met within the next three months, at the outside.

Midway Barred at Floyd.

Rome, Ga., January 14.—(Special.)

Floyd county's fair will run next fall through "midway" if present plans go through.

Having chosen Wyatt Foster as secretary of the fair association, the board of directors have gone on record as favoring a fair without "side shows," other games of chance, or "side shows." They will attempt to get rid of devices, however, and hope to complete these plans by the end of the year.

The board of directors have also taken various sorts of entertainments by local amateurs. The atmosphere of the average "midway" is undesirable, the directors hold.

Floyd

